BRICK GRAFT INQUIRY OPENS; CALL OFFICIALS

Crowe Tries to Solve $50,000 Mystery.

City officials, members of the council building committee and building material manufacturers who played leading parts in the recent city hall controversy over modification of the building code to permit the use of hollow tile in local construction have been summoned to the state's attorney's office for questioning this morning.

Subpoenas for their appearance were ordered last night by State's Attorney Crowe as the first step in his investigation of the rumors of graft in connection with the aldermanic building committee's rejection of amendments to the building code which would have smashed an admitted brick monopoly.

Dever Confers with Crowe.

The quiz was decided upon by the prosecutor after his conference with Mayor Dever, Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch and Ald. Arthur Albert [43d], who has repeatedly charged a lavish expenditure of money by brick manufacturers to defeat the so-called tile ordinance. Assistant State's Attorneys Joseph Savage and Robert McMillan were assigned to sift evidence of irregularities for presentation to the grand jury.

The investigation will not lag, State's Attorney Crowe promised, because of the absence in Europe of William Schlake, president of the Illinois Brick company, whose influence with the building committee is said to have caused that group twice to recommend defeat of the tile ordinance after it had once voted unanimously in favor of the measure.

Solicited $50,000 Bribe?

Other witnesses, including some who, it is expected, can tell of a $50,000 bribe solicited by a city hall official from cement manufacturers who sought to lift the ban on their product, will be questioned at once and the books of brick, tile, and cement manufacturers brought in for examination, he said.

Among those cited to appear today are Deputy Building Commissioner Robert Knight, whose name is linked with that of Schlake in an affidavit turned over to Mr. Crowe by Mayor Dever yesterday; Thomas Courtney, council sergeant at arms, who has acted as secretary of the building committee; Assistant Corporation Counsel Jay J. Schiller, and William Artingstall, an engineer consultant retained by Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague.

Cement and Tile Men Called.

The list of witnesses also includes George W. Durphy, a representative of the tile interests in the controversy; W. D. Allen, head of the local Portland Cement Manufacturers' association, and Leonard C. Reid, attorney for the tile manufacturers.

While neither Mayor Dever nor Mr. Crowe would reveal the identity of the reputable citizen who swore to the affidavit against Knight, it is known that the document charges the deputy building commissioner with frequent visits to Schlake's office while the tile ordinance was under consideration by the council committee. In the committee's sessions Knight opposed passage of the ordinance.

To Be Asked About Talk of $50,000.

Allen will be asked to confirm the story current in the city hall that [illegible] he sought to revive a pending amendment which would permit the use of concrete masonry in local buildings he was told to post $50,000 with a politician as yet unnamed.

Mayor Dever was closeted with the state's attorney for more than half an hour, and during the conference, he later, told Mr. Crowe of the circumstances which led him to veto the ordinance, originally recommended by the building committee and subsequently passed by the council.

Rumors of irregularities carried to him, as well as the method in which the council passed the measure without [illegible] vote, were cited by the mayor [illegible] cause for the veto.

FIRST LADY'S LITHE STRIDE SETS WALKING STYLE FOR NEIGHBORS

Swampscott, Mass., July 14.—[Special.]—Mrs. Coolidge's easy manner of walking, more especially her long stride, has set a new fashion among the fair sex of the summer colony on the north shore at Swampscott.

The first lady goes for a long walk at least once a day, and her lithe stride caused comment from the first. Now she is being imitated not only by the swagger set but by all classes.

It has reached a point where practically the entire colony has taken more to walking, and, while indulging in this exercise, has copied what is now commonly known as the "Mrs. Coolidge step."

COAL DEALER IS SHOT DEAD BY MYSTERY SLAYER

James Russo, 813 South Racine avenue, a dealer in coal and ice, was shot and fatally wounded last night as he stood talking with Savario Lavenuto in front of the latter's bakery at 807 South Racine avenue. He died at the Mother Cabrini hospital a few minutes later. The killer, an unidentified man, escaped.

Russo was fired at on May 17 in front of his home. Several small shot struck him in the legs and he was taken to a hospital. Police tried to get him to tell who his assailants were, but without success. The only motive that could be assigned was that he had been marked for Black Hand vengeance. Russo was the father of seven children.

Girl and Man Rob Deputy and Then Return His Star

A girl, about 19 years old, and a man held up Armour L. Tansee, 2205 West Chicago avenue, a deputy sheriff, at Surf street and Sheridan road last night and threatened to rob him of his automobile. Instead, they took him into the car and drove about for a while. They robbed him of a small amount of money and his star. Later they explained that they didn't want to rob a deputy sheriff, returned his star, and alighted from the car in Grant place.

Hold Salesman Without Bond in Auto Death

Suspicious circumstances surrounding the death yesterday of an unidentified pedestrian who was crushed between two automobiles Monday night as he was crossing Michigan boulevard at 7th street, caused a coroner's jury to hold George L. Dunn, salesman for the Chamberlin Steel company, 3902 South Ashland avenue, to the grand jury without bond on a charge of manslaughter.

ALFRED OSBORN.
[Died yesterday.]

The accident was caused by the erratic driving of a man in a small coupe, witnesses said. The coupe, traveling north in zig zag fashion, swung wide in a left turn at 7th street, striking the pedestrian and pinning him against the automobile of Richard A. Bates, 1203 Beacon street, East Chicago, vice president of the Bates Steel company.

Find Liquor in Auto.

Mr. Bates took the injured man to St. Luke's hospital. When he returned the coupe driver had disappeared. There was a bottle of whisky in the deserted automobile.

Yesterday morning Dunn appeared at the Central police station to report that his car was stolen. Police wanted to know why his hat had been left in the car and why he had not reported the theft sooner.

Dunn said he parked his car in front of the city hall early Monday night. He left his hat and keys in the automobile because he intended to be absent only a short time, he said.

Sunday Injuries Fatal.

A card bearing the name of James Sagan was found in a pocket of the dead man's coat. He was about 40 years old.

Alfred Osborn, 19 years old, of Palatine, died yesterday of injuries suffered Sunday morning when an automobile in which he and five other boys and girls were riding overturned in a ditch three miles from Palatine. The Cook county death toll for the year was raised to 387.

Mrs. Clara Pokorny, 1823 South Oak Park avenue, Berwyn, the first woman to be tried on a charge of manslaughter in connection with an automobile fatality, was acquitted by a jury in Judge Kickham Scanlan's court.

PASTOR'S WIFE DENIES DR. CASE SAID "GUILTY"

Insists He and She Fought Charges.

BY GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.

When Mrs. Carl D. Case told Albert R. Leland that "Carl has confessed everything," she merely meant that he had admitted something.

That was Mrs. Case's explanation, made so valiantly yesterday afternoon before Judge Hugo Pam of Mr. Leland's amazing assertion of Monday that the wife of the minister of the First Baptist church of Oak Park had told him in November, 1923, that her husband had confessed to her his misconduct with his parishioner, Mrs. Charlotte Leland.

Called to the stand by Attorney Charles Rathbun, defense counsel for Ernest L. Hartig, defendant in Leland's $50,000 slander suit, Mrs. Case's testimony yesterday was less in defense of Hartig, church deacon, and more in defense of Dr. Case, the pastor. So closely are the wheels of the Leland divorce case enmeshed in all of the pastoral activities of the church these days.

Her Version of "Confessed."

Mrs. Case's denial of her husband's confession hinged on her interpretation of that word "confessed."

For she admits that she used the word "confessed." But she denies she employed it with any vivid meaning. The verb, as she used it, was a pale, colorless thing, she maintains, and signified merely that her husband had told her of Mrs. Leland's so-called confession to her husband.

With precise phrase, the minister's wife told of her interview with Mr. Leland. And in the main every sentence of hers dovetailed with every sentence of his, told from the same stand Monday. But where Leland had told of his agony over what he believed the truth of his wife's statements, Mrs. Case recalled her own agony over what she insisted was the falsity of that document.

Repeats Denial of Charges.

For as two of them had sat there in the Forest Park home of Leland's father, and as Leland read along, Mrs. Case told the jury how she burst out, ever and again with such remarks as "O, how terrible!" or "O, such lies!" But it was not, however, until some three hours later, when she was home with the minister once more, she said yesterday, that her phrase, "Carl has confessed all," boomeranged back at her and startled her into a realization of her misuse of it. The jolt came just before evening service, for it was on a Sunday, when George Foreman, of the investigating committee, called, got her alone, and said:

"This is a terrible thing. Leland just phoned me that Carl has confessed all."

Interprets Her Meaning.

The twelve jurors were leaning way forward now as they strained to hear the low, but exceptionally clear voice of Mrs. Case, stressing each word as she said:

"I immediately saw my mistake.

"And I said, 'Carl has revealed everything to me as far as he knows. By confessing, I mean he has revealed why he came home unexpectedly from the sanitarium; why you had gone there to have a conference with him; why you had brought up those letters to him.'"

Under cross-examination by Attorney William R. Moss, who with Attorney Milford Olds represents Mr. Leland, Mrs. Case presisted in her interpretation of her use of that word "confess." Court adjourned on that same note of persistence, and Mr. Moss will continue his cross-examination this morning.

Recalls Divorce Court Battle.

During yesterday's session Hartig, the defendant in the suit, sat quietly, out of it. He was the Scopes of the hearing. For his defense is the point of departure for a battle over the original divorce case of Leland versus Leland, in which Dr. Case was named.

Attorney Rathbun opened his defense yesterday afternoon by calling to the stand John Meier, a member of the Baptist church investigating committee. His testimony was largely repetitious of the testimony he had given at the divorce trial. Once, however, he sought to introduce new material, when he tried to show that Mrs. Leland was not likely to attract masculine attention.

"How did Mrs. Leland appear to you?" Mr. Rathbun asked.

"I've seen her always as a disagree-

William Darling Shepherd began yesterday his legal maneuvers to possess himself of the William Nelson McClintock $1,000,000 estate. In doing so he came into contact with Louis Kles, formerly a houseman employed by him, who leaped at him shouting: "You're a dirty dog."

Then Kles struck Shepherd. Deputy Sheriff James Cochran grasped him in time to prevent his further attempts to use his fists on Shepherd, who is at least twice his size and weight.

Probate Judge Henry Horner, before whom the proceedings were being held, ordered Kles before him on a contempt charge. Attorney Orville Taylor, representing the nine cousins of the late William McCintock, in seeking to wrest the $1,000,000 fortune from Shepherd, furnished a bond for Kles and Judge Horner said he would give the houseman a hearing tomorrow.

Hints at Substitution of Page.

The contest in the courtroom of itself was turbulent enough. Attorney Taylor suggested the possibility of pages of the will having been substituted. One of Shepherd's witnesses gave testimony to the effect that an assistant state's attorney had tried to force testimony against Shepherd.

At the opening of the hearing, Shepherd, through his new attorney, Weymouth Kirkland, offered to the court what purported to be the last will and testament of McClintock. Shepherd had gone through a long siege of accusation and imprisonment because of the charge he killed McClintock with typhoid germs after the youth had drawn a temporary will leaving his all to Shepherd.

He had won a not guilty verdict from a jury in the Criminal court and he was there yesterday to claim his inheritance.

But there was opposition. McClintock had some cousins. There was Isabelle Pope, the girl he would have married on his deathbed if Shepherd had not prevented it.

Shepherd Maids Called.

Attorney Kirkland had called as witnesses Eva Matilda Nelson and Marie Gartner, two maids in the Shepherd household, who testified they had witnessed the signing of the will. Miss Nelson identified the will as the same she had signed, although she admitted not having read it.

"Then these pages may have been substituted without your knowing it?" Attorney Taylor asked.

"I don't know," she replied.

Miss Gartner under questioning by Attorney Kirkland said she had been threatened with deportation while being questioned in the state's attorney's office if she did not say Shepherd, not McClintock, asked her to sign the will.

Denies Offer of Pay.

Attorney Taylor asked her if she had been promised anything for having signed the will or for her testimony. She said all she had received was $5 McClintock gave her on his birthday. She said a girl friend of hers had jokingly told another girl that Miss Gartner received $500 for signing the will, but this was not so, she testified.

Shepherd appeared at the hearing, looking much better than he did two weeks ago, when he was acquitted of the charge of having killed McClintock.

Attorney Taylor served a subpoena duces tecum upon him and also upon Mrs. Julie M. Shepherd, requiring them to produce the memorandum on which they assert Shepherd acted in drawing up the will which the two maids said McClintock signed.

Former United States Senator James Hamilton Lewis was present, as a representative of some of the heirs at law, he said, but he took no active part in the proceedings.

TO UPHOLD LAW IN SCOPES TRIAL; PRAYERS GO ON

Develops Into Bitter Religious Fight.

W-G-N Broadcasts Trial Again!

W-G-N will be on the air again today with the full proceedings of the Scopes trial at Dayton, Tenn. The station, which yesterday made radio history by broadcasting from a courtroom, will open at 9:45 o'clock, Chicago daylight saving time and at 10 o'clock Judge Raulston will read his decision on the Darrow motion. During the intermissions prominent personages connected with the trial will make short talks into the "mike."

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Dayton, Tenn., July 14.—[Special.]—The Scopes trial tonight is running into a bitter religious conflict.

On the street they talk of "bigots" and "witch burners" and "atheists."

Court was adjourned this afternoon in turmoil with nothing accomplished toward the "friendly prosecution" of John T. Scopes.

"Leak" Halts the Trial.

Decision on the motion to quash the indictment against Scopes was withheld by Judge John T. Raulston until morning, after he had discovered that certain metropolitan afternoon papers had printed what his decision would be.

As he announced that those responsible for this "leak" would be punished by being barred from future sessions of the court, if they had used improper methods in obtaining the information, it is assumed that his reported decision—that he would hold Scopes for trial—is correct. For if he dismissed the indictment against Scopes, as the defense asked, there would be no future sessions to report.

[A news service, the International, sent out a story which was printed in a New York paper last night forecasting that the judge will deny the motion of the Scopes defense counsel to quash the indictment and uphold the constitutionality of the anti-evolution statute. It was this forecast that aroused the judge to start an inquiry into the alleged leak.]

Darrow Objects to Prayer.

The elements which have so intensified the situation, leaving the middle ground religionists out in the cold, making possible that "duel to the death" which Mr. Bryan asked for on his arrival here, are the following:

The action of Clarence Darrow at opening of court this morning in objecting to prayer in court by a minister selected by the judge, following his terrific attack yesterday on "religious bigots."

The debate between Attorney General Tom Stewart and Dudley Field Malone as to which lived in the more "God-fearing country."

The petition of Arthur Garfield Hays of the defense that other ministers than the fundamentalists of Dayton be selected to pray before court and jury.

The statement that the prayers of the fundamentalists were an attempt to influence the jury and were "offensive" in some ways.

Straight-Out Religious Fight.

The fine issues of the Scopes case, the dignified appeal to the Constitution, the educational effort to teach the reality of a greater God than the God of Moses, all the splendid scientific learning that was to be sifted through this town into the world, the impact of scientific thought upon rural communities, all these seem to be lost in the cloud and dust of a straight-out religious battle.

The drawing of the clear-cut religious issue became apparent when Judge Raulston announced at the close of his decision denying the Hays petition that he would leave the selection of praying ministers to the pastors' association of Dayton.

There was some laughter at this announcement from the judge, but it was mixed with more applause.

JUDGE HALTS SCOPES TRIAL TO PROBE LEAK OF RULING ON MOTION

The gavels of the police stopped the demonstration as they had stopped an earlier effort to sing "The Old Rugged Cross."

The laughter came from those who thought that all the pastors were fundamentalists. The applause came from those who believe that these are the finest pastors, with the true doctrine, better than all the city intellectuals, all the evolutionists in the world.

All this prayer controversy and the question of scientific witnesses and the decision as to the fate of Scopes, had to make way, temporarily late today, however, for the investigation by the court into the question of how his weighty decision got out on the wires before he announced it from the bench.

Earlier in the day he had warned the newspapermen that any premature announcement of his decision would be visited by punishment for contempt. It was the first harsh word he has said to the reporters. About this time, also, he told the photographers they would have to get off the court's bench. He was highly perturbed. He gaveled down the insistent Malone and said:

"I am informed that the newspapers in the large cities are being now sold, which undertake to state my opinion. If any person sent out such information as that it was without the authority of this court, and if I find they have corruptly secured such information I shall deal with them as the law directs.

Decision Is Withheld.

"Now, on account of this improper conduct—apparent at least improper conduct of some person or persons, the court has decided to withhold his decision until tomorrow morning, when, after the opening of the court, the decision will be read. Now, when the crowd is gone from the courtroom—I want all the members of the press to meet me in this courtroom. If I find that some representative here has used any strategem or any corrupt means, or has in any manner secured my opinion or the result of it, and sent it out, I shall promptly deal with him, and, of course, excuse him from any further presence in this courtroom."

MR. STEWART—Does your honor want the attorneys on either side?

THE COURT—Yes, sir; the attorneys on both sides.

With the courtroom still comfortably filled, the newspaper men and the lawyers, the court repeated the information he had received about the leak. He added that he had learned the St. Louis Star in its final edition printed a dispatch from Dayton saying the law had been held constitutional by the judge.

"Now, if this is a just deduction," the judge added, "of course, they have a right to guess. So I think it is proper that I appoint a committee of press men to ascertain what these papers are carrying and ascertain if they are carrying this as a true story."

The court then appointed a committee of five newspaper men, who will report on this momentous matter in the morning.

FIGHT OVER OPENING PRAYER

The sensation of the morning session of court came with Attorney Darrow's protest against opening the hearings with prayer. The protest was a bombshell to Dayton. If Mr. Darrow ever had a chance to have his client acquitted, he lost it that moment. He burned all his ships and started into an unknown wilderness for the shining city of his dreams.

The court was ready for another day. Judge John T. Raulston looked smilingly around, gavel poised. Distinguished visitors, lawyers, judges, and ministers were around him. The microphones were listening. Over the air to the uttermost parts of the country his words would soon be winging.

William Jennings Bryan had risen at the tap of the gavel, his bald old head bowed reverently, with a reverence that was even marked above that of other reverence there.

"Rev. Stribling, will you open with prayer?" said the judge.

All eyes were closing and heads sinking; the defense lawyers were edging closer to the bench. Then Mr. Darrow spoke:

"Your honor, I want to make an objection before the jury comes in."

The judge summoned back his courteous and worldly look and asked:

"What is it, Mr. Darrow?"

Then came the astonishing words:

"I Object to Prayer."

"I object to prayer. I object to the jury being present when the court rules on the question (on the motion to quash the Scopes indictment argued the day before).

Now all heads were up and amazement and incredulity battled as every neck craned forward to get every precious word.

Attorney General Tom Stewart could not believe his ears. "What is it?" he asked. The court was nearly startled out of judicial composure, but he managed to answer:

"He objects to the court being opened with prayer, especially in the presence of the jury."

You could have heard a pin drop. Mr. Bryan had raised his head. He had heard four little words a year ago and he had battled mightily against them. The words were "The Ku Klux Klan," at the last Democratic national convention. He knew the power of little words. He had the power to answer them so that his answer might ring around the world. But he only looked, his eyes growing darker, his mouth snapping.

Bryan Holds Wrath.

Here was meat for Bryan. He knew now that the enemy had been delivered into his hands. And he withheld his wrath.

"The jury is not here," said the lawyerlike Stewart. "Are any of the jurors in the courtroom?"

There was no response (they were probably listening outside). Then the judge buckled up his armor and proceeded to stand by his Lord and his Bible. He did not need to consult any lawbooks here.

"Now, I do not want to be unreasonable," he said, "but I believe I have a right. I am responsible for the conduct of the court and it has been my custom since I have been judge to have prayers in the courtroom when it was convenient. I know of no reason why I should not follow up this custom, so I will overrule the objection."

His voice rose firmly as he said: "Every one stand up."

But Mr. Darrow, the slouching, homely philosopher and prophet of a new religious war, was not through.

"Just a minute," he said, undismayed, as heads started to bow again. The court stopped.

"I understand from the court himself that he had sometimes opened the court with prayer," Mr. Darrow said, "and sometimes not, and we took no exception on the first day, but seeing this is persisted in in every session, and the nature of this case being one where it is claimed by the state that there is a conflict between science and religion, above all other cases there should be no part taken outside of the evidence in this case and no attempt by means of prayer or in any other way to influence the deliberation and consideration of the jury of the facts in this case.

"For that reason we object to the opening of the services with prayer and I am going to ask the reporters to take down the prayer and make specific objections again to any such parts as we think are especially obnoxious to our case."

McKenzie Champions Religion.

The prosecution lawyers were getting ready to talk. Old Ben McKenzie, the county wit, the story teller, became the champion for religion.

"That matter has been passed upon by our Supreme court," he said. "Judge Shepherd took a case from the court when the jury, after retiring to consider the verdict, at the suggestion of one of them to bow in prayer, asked divine guidance, afterward delivering a verdict not excepted to, and afterwards taken to the supreme court. It was commendable of the jury to ask divine guidance."

MR. DARROW:—I do not object to the jury or any one praying in secret or in private but I do object to the turning of this courtroom into a meeting house on the trial of this case. You had no right to do it.

THE COURT:—You have a right to put your exceptions in the record.

SAYS PRAYER IS PROPER

GENERAL STEWART: In order that the record may show the state's position, the state makes no contention, as stated by counsel for the defense, that this is a conflict between science and religion. In so far as the merits are concerned it is a case involving the fact as to whether or not a school teacher has taught a doctrine prohibited by statute, and we, for the state think it is quite proper to open this court with prayer if the court sees fit to do it, and such an idea extended by the agnostic counsel for the defense is foreign to the thoughts and ideas of the people, who do not know anything about infidelity and care less.

Now Arthur Garfield Hays and Dudley Field Malone were pressing to the space in front of the bench.

Object to Agnostic.

MR. HAYS: May I ask to enter an exception to the statement "agnostic counsel" for the defense.

"I would like to reply," said Mr. Malone, "to this remark of the attorney general. Whereas I respect my colleague's [Mr. Darrow's] right to believe or not to believe as long as he is as honest in his unbelief as I am in my belief. As one of the members of counsel who is not an agnostic, I would like to state the objection from my point of view. Your honor has the discretion to have a prayer or not to have a prayer.

"There was no exception offered and I can assure the court that when we talked it over among ourselves as colleagues, there was no exception felt to the opening of these proceedings by prayer the first day, but I would like to ask your honor whether in all the trials over which your honor has presided, this court has had a clergyman every morning of every day of every trial to open the court with prayer.

"Our objection goes to the fact that we believe this daily opening of the court with prayers—those prayers we have already heard, having been duly argumentative—helps to increase the atmosphere of hostility to our point of view which already exists in this community by widespread propaganda."

GEN. STEWART—In reply to that there is still no question involved in this lawsuit as to whether or not Scopes taught a doctrine prohibited by the statute, that is, that man descended from a lower order of animals. So far as creating an atmosphere of hostility is concerned, I would advise

NEW TENNESSEE LAW THAT BROUGHT ABOUT FAMOUS SCOPES TRIAL

Here is the Tennessee anti-evolution law as passed by the present state legislature and approved by Gov. Austin Peay March 21, 1925:

HOUSE BILL NO. 185.

An act prohibiting the teaching of the evolution theory in all the universities, normals, and other public schools of Tennessee, which are supported in whole or in part by the public school funds of the state, and to provide penalties for the violations thereof.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the general assembly of the state of Tennessee. That it shall be unlawful for any teacher in any of the universities, normals, and all other public schools of the state which are supported in whole or in part by the public school funds of the state, to teach any theory that denies the story of the divine creation of man as taught in the Bible, and to teach instead that man has descended from a lower order of animals.

Section 2. Be it further enacted, That any teacher found guilty of a misdemeanor and, upon conviction, shall be fined not less than one hundred ($100.00) dollars, nor more than five hundred ($500.00) dolars for each offense.

Section 3. Be it further enacted, That this act take effect from and after its passage the public welfare requiring it. Passed March 13, 1925.

Mr. Malone that this is a God fearing country.

MR. MALONE—And it is no more God fearing country than that from which I came.

GEN. STEWART—I am glad to hear it.

MR. MALONE—I am glad to give you the information.

THE COURT—Gentlemen, do not turn this into an argument.

MR. DARROW—I would like to reply to counsel, that this statute says no doctrine shall be taught which is contrary to the divine account contained in the Bible, so there is no question about the religious character of these proceedings.

Court Explains Position.

"This court has no purpose except to find the truth and do justice to all the issues involved in this case," the judge replied. "In answer to counsel for the defendant, as to my custom, I will say the several years I have been on the bench I have used my discretion in opening the court with prayer, at times when there was a minister present and it was convenient to do so; other times, when there was no minister present, when there was no large assemblage of people and no minister present, I have not always followed this custom, but I think it is a matter wholly within the discretion of the court.

"I have instructed the ministers who have been invited to my rostrum to open the court with prayer, to make no reference to the issues involved in this case. I see nothing that might influence the court or jury as to the issues. I believe in prayer myself; I constantly invoke divine guidance myself, and when I am on the bench and off the bench I see no reason why I should not continue to do this. It is not the purpose of this court to bias or prejudice the mind of any individual, but to do right in all matters under investigation.

"Therefore, I am pleased to overrule the objection of counsel and invite Dr. Striviling to open the court with prayer."

MR. DARROW—I note an exception, your honor.

PASTOR OFFERS PRAYER

The Rev. A. C. Stribbling of the Presbyterian church, a dark and powerful looking young man, stepped forward to the edge of the bench, beside the judge, and offered the following prayer:

"Our Father, to Thee we give all the praise for every good thing in life and we invoke Thy blessing upon us this morning, as accountable beings to Thee as we enter into the duties of this day. It matters not what our relations to man may be. We have a responsibility to fulfill righteously the tasks that are ours to do, and we ask Thee this morning, O, God, to make us fully conscious of Thy presence and to give unto us minds that are willing to be directed in the way Thou wouldst have us go. We pray our Father to bless the proceedings of this court, bless the court, the judge as he presides, and may there be in every heart and in every mind a reverence to the great creator of the world.

"To this end we ask that Thou wilt enlighten our minds and lead us to understand and know truth in all its every phase, we ask it in the name of our blessed redeemer, Jesus Christ, amen."

Court Is Opened.

THE COURT—Open court, Mr. Sheriff, pursuant to adjournment. Be seated.

After informing the lawyers that he could not have his decision on their motion for two hour and giving the photographers a chance to get more pictures, the court then adjourned until afternoon.

The room became a hive of gossip and wonder. Mr. Darrow, it was soon apparent, had alienated many who had been friendly to his cause. The hostility to the whole defense cause, now definitely shown to be in league with Satan and all dark things, was increased.

Mr. Bryan would not comment upon it for publication, but it was plain that he was glad this new issue had been made so plain. The colors in the black and white picture which he has been seeking to etch into the public mind have deepened.

He was approached later by one who wanted to know if he thought the earth was flat and that Joshua made the sun stand still. He flew into a great rage at this and declared he was getting tired of such insulting questions and considered them personal insults. He said he considered himself an educated man.

"Haven't I traveled around the world?" he asked. "Yes, fundamentalism is not to be put aside and flouted and laughed at through questions like these. It is more than that. It is a deep conviction of the spiritual man, made by God, to whom God reveals himself in his Bible and in his heart. It was a sad day for the modernists and the atheistic evolutionists."

CROWD HAS LONG WAIT

The crowd which gathered for the afternoon session had a long and fruitless wait until at 3:45 o'clock the judge assumed the bench and began to make explanations about his delayed decision in the indictment case.

Mr. Hays then stepped forward and said:

"Before your honor presents a decision or the proceedings go further, may I present a petition to the court, addressed to the Hon. John T. Raulston, presiding judge, Rhea county court." He then started to read the petition of protest against the morning prayers.

Stewart and Malone Clash.

"Your honor, just a minute," Mr. Stewart interrupted, "I submit that it is absolutely out of order. This is not an assembly met for any purpose of hearing a motion of that sort, or anything of that sort. Your honor has passed on the motion."

MR. HAYS—I insist upon making this motion.

MR. STEWART—I am making my exception to the court.

THE COURT—I will hear it.

Mr. Hays read the petition which was signed by Dr. Charles Francis Potter of New York, Rabbi Jerome Mark, Temple Bethel, Knoxville; the Rev. Daniel Welsh, First Unitarian church of Knoxville. It was as follows:

"We, the following named representatives of various well known churches and synagogues, do hereby petition your honor that if you continue your custom of opening the daily session of court of Rhea county with prayer, you select the officiating clergymen from among other than fundamentalist churches in alternation with fundamentalist clergymen.

"We beg you to consider the fact that among the persons intimately connected with and actively participating in this trial of Mr. John T. Scopes, there are many to whom the prayers of fundamentalists are not spiritually uplifting and are occasionally offensive. Inasmuch as by your own ruling all the people in the courtroom are required to participate in the prayers by rising, it seems to us only just and right that we should occasionally hear a prayer which requires no mental reservations on our part and in which we can conscientiously participate."

The defense motion offered by Mr. Hays after the petition was:

"Still preserving our exception to the opening of court by prayer, and without waiving the same and renewing that objection, we move this court that if prayers are to be made, this petition be granted and that on some occasions the prayers be made by men who think that God has shown his divinity in the wonders of the world in the Book of Nature quite as much as in the Book of the Revealed Word."

REFERRED TO PASTORS

"My motion," Hays added, "is without, of course, giving up our exception to your honor's ruling, that if the court denies that, this petition be granted and we have an opportunity to hear prayer by men who think that God has shown his divinity in the wonders of the world, in the book of nature, quite as much as in the Book of the Revealed Word."

THE COURT—I shall refer that petition to the Pastors' association of this town and I shall ask them——(Laughter and loud applause and rapping for order by the policeman)—I shall ask the Pastors' association from now on to name the man who is to conduct prayer. I shall have no voice, make no suggestions as to who they name; but I will invite the man named by the association to conduct the prayer each morning.

Excepts to Ruling.

MR. HAYS—May I ask your honor if this is a decision on my motion?

THE COURT—Yes, sir.

MR. HAYS—So that I may except; so that I may save the records.

MR. NEAL—Your honor knows that the men your honor refers this motion to are not among the class of men that signed the petition.

THE COURT—I see by the press one minister has resigned his post recently because Dr. Potter was not allowed to preach in his church, and I take it he is in sympathy with Dr. Potter and his doctrine, the others are, perhaps, fundamentalists, I don't know.

The court then explained that he would withhold his decision on the motion to quash the indictment and adjourned court.

BETTER ROADS DOOM BRYAN'S JEHAD IN SOUTH

Scrutator Sees Science Broadening Lives.

BY SCRUTATOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Nashville, Tenn., July 14—[Special]—All one needs do to be sure of the failure of Mr. Bryan's attempt to start a Jehad against scientific thinking, is to take account of how science enters more and more into the life of the people, here, in the entire south, and everywhere.

The fight between science and obscurantism, in fact, has been a matter of establishing better communications between men, provinces and nations. Christianity itself made its conquering progress over Roman roads from an ethnic cult to a world religion.

Roads a Surprise and Joy.

I dropped in on the state highway commission today. Ever since I have been down here the roads have been a surprise and joy. When I left the state they were for the most part dirt tracks following ancient Indian trails and water courses. Around the larger towns there were a few score miles of macadam.

On this trip I have, in 25 minutes, covered stretches of country which the country doctor on horseback used to accomplish, painfully, in four hours, carrying his medicines and instruments in his saddle bags. Along these roads I noticed a telephone wire into nearly every farm house, a flivver parked near most and the R. F. D. box set to receive the daily paper.

Motorbuses an Influence.

Motor busses hurry past, weaving the little towns together and with the larger ones. The movie, with its message of larger life, is accessible to folks whose literature once was limited to the Bible and almanac.

A state road map disclosed today that there are now 4,600 miles of highway on which one can hit it up 30 miles per hour and upward. Over 3,500 of this mileage is passable in all weathers and the counties are voting bonds so fast that the state can hardly match their road appropriations with the receipts of its gas and license taxes.

On the state highways horse drawn traffic dropped from 50 per cent of the total in 1916 to less than four per cent this summer when the counts were made.

Even on the remoter stretches of road the horse drawn traffic is less than 20 per cent.

Bryan Aids Transformation.

Now Mr. Bryan, himself, is assisting in this transformation of the south of which Tennessee is by no means an unusual example. He is promoting Florida real estate. Railroad men here tell me that 2,000,000 northerners will enter Florida next winter. They are now handling more traffic to Florida than in any past peak winter season.

How Mr. Bryan can reconcile his advocacy of ox-cart culture and his efforts to create a high speed civilization is a problem too deep for this writer.

KLAN AND ANTIS RIOT; MANY ON BOTH SIDES HURT

Leicester, Mass., July 14.—(AP)—Rioting between klansmen and anti-klansmen broke out here tonight and scores were reported injured, two seriously. Automobiles were battered and glass windshields were broken in a running battle in which the klansmen greatly outnumbered the "antis."

During the barrage of rocks, eggs, and sticks Patrolman James Fitzpatrick of Rochdale collared a man in a white robe and tried to wrest a revolver from him. The patrolman was jumped upon by half a score of the man's companions and overpowered.

BOSS DETECTIVE'S WIFE DOES SOME POLICING DUTY

Mrs. Nellie Stege, wife of Capt. John Stege of the detective bureau, protested yesterday afternoon when she found a butcher's boy beating a horse with a heavy whip near her home, 3708 Pine Grove avenue.

"You haven't got a star," said the boy. "If I kill this horse we'll get another one. You go on back and wash the dishes."

Briefly considering what a captain's wife should do in such a situation, Mrs. Stege advanced and took the whip from the somewhat astonished youth. Then she went to his employer, Emil Suehlsen of 3711 North Halsted street. Suehlsen, she said, told her not to interfere with the beating of his horse.

Now Capt. Stege, the Town Hall police, and the Illinois Humane society are investigating and a warrant for the boy is to be issued. Mrs. Stege is holding the whip for evidence.

Policeman Steps in Front of I. C. Train and Is Killed

Patrolman William H. McGann, 33 years old, 7335 Coles avenue, of the Grand Crossing station, was fatally injured last night when he stepped off an Illinois Central train at the Windsor Park station and was struck by a train going in the opposite direction. He was taken to the Jackson Park hospital where it was found his skull had been fractured. He died half an hour afterward.

Find Union Aid Guilty of Shooting Policeman

After six hours' deliberation, during which a dozen ballots were taken, a jury in Judge Eller's court last night found Ernest J. Ross, assistant business manager of the Truck Drivers and Chauffeurs union, guilty of shooting Policeman Frank Rhode of the traffic division with intent to do bodily injury.

IDENTIFICATION OF GENEVA BODY FAILS; SON ALIVE

John R. McLachlan's identification of the handless murder victim found two years ago near Geneva as that of his son, Linn, was brought to naught yesterday when word was received from Mrs. Linn McLachlan of Mineola, N. Y., that she had talked to her husband, the supposed victim, over the phone. He is employed by the Ajax Rubber company at Trenton, N. Y.

The elder McLachlan came from Duluth, Minn., to Geneva. He positively identified the body as that of his son, aviator and a world war veteran. He made preparations to remove the body to Los Angeles for burial.

Early yesterday Coroner Norton found a letter in his mail box. It was from McLachlan. He stated that he had suddenly been called away on important business.

SCIENCE BRINGS SCOPES TRIAL TO MIDWEST'S EARS

For the first time in the history of American jurisprudence yesterday, radio went into a court of law and broadcast to the earphones and loudspeakers of all radio set owners who cared to listen to the entire proceedings of a criminal trial.

The occasion was the prosecution of John Thomas Scopes in Dayton, Tenn., where a young school teacher is charged with teaching the theory of evolution to his classes, in violation of a state law. The broadcasting station which made radio history was W-G-N, THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE station on the Drake hotel.

Damage to telephone wires which had caused a postponement of the first courtroom broadcast from Monday until yesterday had been repaired when the W-G-N announcer went on the air at 9:45 a. m., Chicago daylight savings time, yesterday and from then until 5 o'clock, W-G-N kept the radio audience informed of the progress of the trial.

Just how many radio fans availed themselves of the opportunity to listen in on one of the most interesting trials in the history of American courts is something that no one can tell, but the number of messages of congratulation and inquiry clearly indicate that the idea of broadcasting from a court room has caught the fancy of the listener.

SEEK DAUGHTER OF DEAD MAN.

The police were asked yesterday to search for the daughter of John Thompson, who died recently and whose body is now being held in Maryland for burial.

REFUSE BAIL TO YOUTH HELD IN MURDER OF GIRL

Raymond Costello, 24 year old former Pontiac reformatory inmate, who is held by Englewood police in connection with the strangling to death of Madeline White, 16 years old, received several set backs yesterday in his fight for freedom.

Municipal Judge Jacobs, in Grand Crossing court, refused to consider a plea for bail made by Jay J. McCarthy, counsel for Costello, and postponed further action pending reopening of the coroner's inquest Friday.

And Police Capt. Michael Lee announced he had further evidence linking Costello's movements with those of the slain girl last Thursday night, the time of the murder.

The new information was furnished by Michael Roesch, a South park policeman. Roesch identified Costello as a youth requested to "move on" upon encountering him, along with a young girl, lurking in the shadows of the trees in Washington park after 11 o'clock, the closing time.

LEAVES MONEY TO NOTIFY KIN; KILLS HERSELF

Going to a neighbor and leaving fifty cents to be used in notifying friends and relatives of her suicide, Mrs. Anna Hardy, 46 years old, 1517 Melrose street, returned to her home yesterday and killed herself with a revolver.

The neighbor, Mrs. Rudolph Lenz, 3330 North Ashland avenue, to whom Mrs. Hardy showed her gun and declared she was going to end it all, notified Lieut. James Burke of the Sheffield avenue police, who immediately rushed an automobile load of policemen to the Hardy home.

They found everything locked and then went to see Mrs. Lenz. Meanwhile Mrs. Hardy's husband, Otto, came home, and he, too, went to Mrs. Lenz's home seeking his wife. Then Hardy returned to his home with the police, broke in a door, and found Mrs. Hardy dead with a bullet in her head. Neighbors said they heard a shot a few minutes before the first police visit.

LARGEST BANK BUILDING HINTED BY LOOP SALE

State of Chicago Owns 188 Feet Frontage Now.

BY AL CHASE.

HENRY A. HAUGAN
[Moffett Photo.]

Through the purchase yesterday from the Leiter estate for $700,000 of 92½ feet on West Monroe street, just west of the Woman's Temple, the State Bank of Chicago is in a position to erect one of the tallest and largest bank buildings in the world at the southwest corner of La Salle and Monroe. It was intimated that the new structure might climb skywards fifty or more stories. President Henry A. Haugan would not confirm this, but admitted: "It won't be the smallest bank on La Salle street."

Has 188 Foot Frontage.

Combining the property purchased yesterday with the old Woman's Temple building, bought several years ago, the bank now has a frontage of 188 feet on La Salle and 187½ on Monroe. It is intimated that the bank is negotiating for still more property west of that just acquired. It may possibly buy through to Wells street.

Under the zoning law the bank may erect a structure of fifty, sixty, or more stories, with set backs, if it cares to. This means that although the bank's site is not as large as that of the First, Continental, or Illinois Merchants, it can erect a building which would dominate Chicago's financial district with the tallest structure of its kind in the world, one with more volume than any of the three bank buildings mentioned.

May Start Building Soon.

The recent sale of the Chamber of Commerce building, which has housed the State Bank of Chicago for several decades, pointed to the early erection of a skyscraper by the state bank to replace the old Woman's Temple. Yesterday's sale emphasized this suggestion.

Joseph Leiter, trustee for the Levi Z. Leiter estate, admitted that the State Bank of Chicago paid $7,567 a front foot for the Monroe street frontage, improved with old buildings.

SEVEN DIE FROM ST. LOUIS HEAT; FAR WEST BAKES

St. Louis, Mo., July 14.—(AP)—Seven additional deaths from heat were reported here yesterday and today, bringing the total to nine in the last week. A drop in temperature and an overcast sky brought relief today.

Seven additional cases of heat prostration and sunstroke were taken to the city hospital.

Los Angeles Swelters.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—A spectacular electric storm of high intensity illuminated the skies of the beach cities near here for more than an hour and a half early today. The display was succeeded by a wave of heat that drove the mercury up to above 90 degrees in Los Angeles. Surrounding towns reported temperatures of over 100.

Mercury Kites in Rockies.

Denver, Colo., July 14.—(AP)—Temperatures went skyrocketing again today in the Rocky mountain region for the third successive day. Sheridan, Wyo., and Phoenix, Ariz., with thermometer readings of 102 at 1 o'clock, were the most torrid spots.

Record 105 at Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake City, Utah, July 14.—(AP)—A United States weather bureau thermometer on Main street registered 105 degrees at 2 o'clock this afternoon, the highest temperature here in years.

Hottest Ever at Dallas—105.4.

Dallas, Tex., July 14.—(AP)—All Dallas heat records were broken when the official thermometer registered 105.4 here early this afternoon. The highest previously recorded here was 104 in June, 1918.

Rain Aids Kansas, Missouri.

Kansas City, Mo., July 14.—(AP)—Scattered showers in eastern Kansas and western Missouri brought relief to heat sufferers today. Crops also were aided materially by the rain.

COUNCIL GROUP VOTES TO METER ALL CITY WATER

Plan Means Lower Rates for Small Users.

BY OSCAR HEWITT.

The council finance committee recommended yesterday, by a vote of 10 to 6, the installation of a meter on every water service pipe in Chicago within ten years. At the same time the committee adopted a financial program to provide $2,500,000 with which to do the metering. The aldermen believe they have obeyed the order of the federal government, so far as committee jurisdiction extends.

The ordinance will be reported to the council today and will be deferred and published. A vote will be taken at a subsequent session, probably on July 22.

The vote for and against the ordinance, which the finance committee's own staff says will immediately boost the rate of the present metered (large) consumers 8.7 per cent and lower the minimum bills of frontage (small) users 3.7 per cent, was as follows:

Against—Byrne, Moran, Clark, Adamkewicz, Kaindl, and Adamowski—6.

Two Do Not Vote.

Ald. O'Toole was absent and Chairman Woodhull refrained from voting, according to custom, except in case of a tie. The chairman took a leading part in presenting the merits of the ordinance.

The present ordinance provides a discount of 25 per cent on all water bills paid within 30 days. The new bill makes the discount 15 per cent. The new ordinance fixes a meter rate of 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, instead of 62½ cents, as at present. Other users of water, which refers to buildings utilized for residential purposes, will be required to pay their present frontage bills minus 15 per cent and subject to a discount of 15 per cent.

During the progress of installation and before it is completed the frontage consumer who has had a meter installed will pay his present frontage bill minus 15 and 15 off unless he uses more water than the amount of his frontage bill will pay for at 60 cents per 1,000 cubic feet.

Perhaps the frontage schedule change can be made more vivid by an illustration of the finance committee staff. A frontage consumer whose annual gross bill is now $6 pays net at present $4.50 a year, because of the 25 per cent discount.

How New Plan Works.

Under the recommended ordinance his bill will be 85 per cent of $6, or $5.10, subject to a discount of 15 per cent, which will bring the annual net charge down to $4.33. If, however, this consumer uses or wastes more water than $5.10 will pay for at 60 cents per thousand cubic feet after a meter is installed he will pay for all water at 60 cents per thousand cubic feet, minus 15 per cent discount.

Likewise the man who is now charged $11 annually for water on the frontage basis pays a net bill of $8.25. Under the new ordinance his minimum net bill will be $7.85. This reduction to small users of water could not apparently be comprehended by the opponents of the plan. They were afraid that their constituents would believe that meters would increase their water bills and consequently vote out of office aldermen who voted for the ordinance.

Ald. Eaton made the motion that the ordinance be approved and Ald. Guernsey came along with a second. Ald. Kaindl hopped to the front with a motion that approval be subject to a referendum by the voters and Ald. Adamkewicz made the seconding motion.

Eaton Opposes Referendum.

"I'm opposed to a referendum on this problem," said Eaton. "This, like the late traction ordinance, is too complicated for the people to get the fundamental facts in it while striving at the same time to make a living. This is a representative form of government. We are sent here and paid to give the question thorough study and give an honest judgment upon it."

Ald. Powers said that a referendum meant that Chicago would not have meters, but he pleaded that the larger unmetered users be metered first, then the next in size and so on down to the smallest consumers last. The referendum proposed was tabled by a vote of 9 to 6.

The new ordinance makes no provision for filtering, which it is estimated will cost $30,000,000.

BATTLE FOR MOROCCAN CAPITAL IS ON

An offensive all along the 200 mile French front was launched yesterday by the Moors. Abd-el Krim's troops have evidently passed the line of French block houses and are driving on Fez and the strategic railway which connects the Moroccan protectorate with the French colony of Algiers. The Moors are fighting at Tissa, some 25 miless from Fez, and are within 20 miles of Taza, key to the capital.

MOORS LAUNCH 200 MILE DRIVE; FEZ IN DANGER

French Battle to Save Railway Line.

BY RAYMOND FENDRICK.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, July 14.—Abd-el Krim launched a violent offensive against the French army in Morocco this morning. The offensive is raging along the 200 miles from Ouezzan to Kifane with Fez and the main railway the principal objectives.

The Riffians have arrived within twenty miles of Taza and are within thirty miles of Fez, both of which are on the main railway which is the backbone of the French line.

Abd-el Krim is using cavalry for the first time and one mounted detachment of 500 Riffians is fighting desperately at the town of Tissa, between 25 and 30 miles northeast of Fez, trying to cut off the fortified posts to the north.

Pass French Blockhouses.

In addition to these Riffians, who have infiltrated through the French line of blockhouses along the south bank of the Ouergha river, other detachments are furiously attacking the blockhouses. The French communique admits that all the tribes north and south of Fez and Taza have joined Abd-el Krim.

The war ministry has asked for volunteers to go to Morocco and has started to send French troops to Algeria and Tunis to relieve the native troops going to the front. The heat at Fez is 99 in the shade.

American Flyers Enlist.

[Copyright: 1925: By the New York Times.]

PARIS, July 14.—Premier Painleve today accepted the offer of a dozen American veterans of the foreign legion and Lafayette escadrille to reenter the French army for the war in Morocco. The aerial unit is expected to be mobilized within a fortnight.

Those who have taken the initiative in the matter are Commander Parker of Montana, who in the war commanded the American seaplane defense along the Italian coasts; Maj. Granville Pollock and Col. Charles Kerwood of New York, Paul Rockwell of Atlanta, Ga., and Maj. William Rogers of Pittsburgh.

COUNTY JAIL SITE PLAN APPROVED BY COUNCIL BODY

New Police Building Design Ordered.

Acceptance of the county board's offer to exchange its equity in the present criminal courts and jail building site for city property near the bridewell on which the county proposes to erect a modern courts and jail building will be recommended to the city council by the finance committee this afternoon.

The county seeks to acquire the thirteen acre plot near 26th street and California avenue on which the now abandoned John Worthy school building is located and in return would surrender one-half of the present court building and jail site, with 200 feet frontage on Dearborn street between Austin avenue and Illinois street, valued at approximately $1,000 a front foot.

Citizens Back Proposals.

As now planned, the new jail and court building, to be built with the proceeds of a recently authorized bond issue, will be an eight story structure, with a 1,000 cell jail in connection. Plans for the building, as well as the exchange proposal approved by the committee yesterday, are sponsored by a citizens' committee of 100, headed by Joseph R. Noel, banker and former president of the Association of Commerce.

In view of the probability that the city will gain full title to the north side site, the committee directed Chief of Police Collins and Commissioner of Public Works A. A. Sprague to consider it in their plans for the proposed municipal courts and police headquarters building.

Orders Plan for City Building.

Plans for the erection of the latter building, with estimates of the cost if it is erected on property already owned by the city at 11th and State streets or on the present jail property, are to be prepared by the two officials at once, under instructions voted yesterday by the committee.

Body from Lake Identified as Youth Missing a Week

The body of a young man taken from the lake last Monday was identified yesterday as William Shapiro, 22 years old, 714 South St. Louis avenue. Search is being made for his companion, Aaron Kaplan, 21 years old, 3358 West Flournoy street, who accompanied him on July 6. The young men had told their parents that they were going to Clarendon beach. Their clothing was found in a locker there.

BLAIR TO OFFER UNIFIED TRANSIT PLAN IN OCTOBER

Proposes Linking Busses, Surface Lines, and 'L.'

Unification of existing surface, elevated and motor bus lines, early construction of subways and operation of the complete system by private management on a service at cost basis is the traction problem solution to be offered the city council next October by Henry A. Blair, president of the Chicago surface lines.

Announcement that the necessary ordinances are in course of preparation was made to the council's local transportation committee by Mr. Blair yesterday during the meeting of the aldermen with representatives of the various surface line companies, the elevated lines and the Chicago Motor Coach company.

Mr. Blair warned the committee against the transportation chaos which will come with a receivership if the franchises are allowed to expire in February, 1927, without a settlement of the problem beforehand and advised the aldermen to prepare to vote longer term operating grants to the surface lines.

Calls 20 Year Grant Too Short.

It is conceded, he asserted, that great utilities can no longer be financed on twenty year franchises, admitting at the same time that enabling legislation will have to be obtained before the longer grants can be given.

"But we need not wait for legislative action before working out the details of an ordinance," said Mr. Blair. "It can be drawn, subject to the necessary legislation. If this is not done, and we drift along until 1927 without an understanding, a receivership, with all of its disadvantages to the riding public, is a certainty. I see no way by which it can be avoided.

"The traction situation in Chicago, despite all that has been said to the contrary, is not complicated. It can become complicated only by failure to arrive at a solution before the expiration of the franchises.

"Subways are essential for the further development of transportation in Chicago. Surface lines, subways, elevated lines, and busses should be coordinated to provide a one-city, one-fare service. This should be on a service at cost basis."

The necessary legislation will probably be worked out by the joint house and senate committee named to study the proposed terminable permit scheme, declared Mr. Blair, who characterized the legislative committee as "a happy thought" in view of the approaching expiration of the existing traction ordinances.

Submits His Bus Offer.

In the way of immediately available transportation improvements, Mr. Blair pointed to his offer to place 100 large motor busses in operation as feeders to the surface lines in now poorly served outlying districts. A subcommittee of aldermen was selected to meet with G. A. Richardson, general manager of the surface lines, and map out definite routes for the busses before the plan is considered by the full committee.

Patrick J. Lucey's assertion that, as counsel for Samuel Insull, chairman of the elevated lines directorate, he was present to reiterate the latter's pledge of coöperation in solving the traction problem caused the committee to demand to know why no elevated lines' extensions have been built for years.

"Our application for permits to make $25,000,000 worth of badly needed extension has been on file for more than a year in this committee, and you haven't even considered it," retorted Mr. Lucey. "We are ready to go ahead if you will let us."

John A. Ritchie, president of the Chicago Motor Coach company, and John G. Condon, attorney for the company, assured the aldermen of their willingness to assist in a solution of the traction problem.

RULING ON SCOTT PLEA TO ESCAPE ROPE DUE TODAY

Father and Wife Ask for Commutation.

Whether Russell Scott, former Canadian financier, is to hang on Friday for the murder of Joseph Maurer, a drug clerk, depends on a decision of the state division of pardons and paroles which is expected to be announced today.

While Scott sat in the death cell at the county jail yesterday, calmly making plans based on the assumption that the pardon board would rule favorably, pleas for a commutation of the sentence to life imprisonment were presented at Springfield.

Thomas Scott, father of the convicted man, begged that his son be given another opportunity to show that he did not commit the murder. Maurer was shot during a holdup in the City Hall pharmacy, opposite the city hall on La Salle street, and Scott's plea at the trial was that it was his brother, Robert, or some other member of his party who fired the fatal shots.

A petition, signed by women's organizations in Canada and the United States was presented by Maud Gauthier, president of the board of education at Windsor, Can.

The elder Scott asserted that his son was a victim of an unusual and confusing chain of circumstances. Mrs. Catherine Scott, wife of Russell, appealed to the board's sympathy, asserting that Friday was the birthday of her son, Robert.

"If I am given just two years I can prove my husband's innocence," she said.

Attorney Leslie Wheelan declared that the conviction of Scott was not based on sufficient evidence. Assistant State's Attorney George E. Gorman and former Assistant State's Attorney William W. Smith disputed this.

Next Summer
you can be riding thus to work!

Between the crowded, smelly city and the melancholy, far-off suburban cross-roads towns lies IVANHOE.

IVANHOE—that great new magical Metropolis that is literally leaping into prominence as the south side's most attractive community-development, with an assured population of 20,000—"a City in Itself, unto Itself."

The suburban electrification of the ILLINOIS CENTRAL Railroad is making this piece of magic possible. Not even IVANHOE'S entrancing beauty, nor yet its matchless improvements could make the overnight establishment of such a district possible, except for the now-definite assurance that IVANHOE will have swift, silent, smokeless electrically-operated service, with a 30-minute running schedule to Grant Park within a year from date.

This will be the finest commuter's service in the world—the very last word in luxury and efficiency. You can hardly realize how wonderful it will be.

No visionary scheme, but an accomplishment that is being driven to completion daily and hourly. The ILLINOIS CENTRAL, one of the country's richest railroads, is doing this work at a cost to themselves of 80 million dollars. And the 8 tracks of the ILLINOIS CENTRAL run through the middle of IVANHOE, and the I. C. station will be in the center of our property.

No doubt you plan, sooner or later, to build a home of your own and settle down in Chicago. The house you build will cost just as much to build on a $500 lot out in the styx as it will cost to build it on a $1,000 or $1,500 lot in IVANHOE.

The $500 to $1,000 that you might save on a lot in a less desirable location than IVANHOE will prove an increasingly costly and inconvenencing saving as time goes on and you continue to suffer the hardships of ordinary street car, elevated and steam-road travel to and from your work, day after day, month after month, for years and years and years.

Man alive!—you can be enjoying the occupancy of your own home in IVANHOE by this time next year. You can be riding to work in a style befitting a gentleman.

$1,000 to $1,500 isn't much to pay for a home-site, anyway—especially one of these large over-size parcels at IVANHOE. And remember that this price includes ALL improvements—cement streets, cement sidewalks, sewers, water, gas, electricity, 5c telephone and many other refinements.

But you must act soon or never!

RAINBOW BOYS SPEND DAY IN PLAY ON LAKE

It might have rained yesterday, but the Rainbow division vets had arranged a four hour excursion on the lake steamer Alabama—so it might just as well not have rained.

Veterans of the 42d division played yesterday and Chicago was their playground as well as Lake Michigan. It didn't rain late in the day because the weather, like everything and every one in Chicago, could do naught but favor these men who deserve the best.

So the ex-soldiers had their outing. They had a meeting in the morning, a banquet in the evening, and moving pictures of themselves taken in France. They are in convention, the seventh annual reunion of the volunteers who comprised the pick of twenty-six states.

May Hold Meeting in France.

It was practically decided to hold the 1928 convention in France. Col. Noble B. Judah, who arranged for the guests of Chicago, is to arrange for a trip over and back and a two week stay in France, visiting the battlefields, for $225. A thousand said they would go.

Twice before the conventioneers of yesterday had been together on a boat—going over to fight the world war and coming back after having won it. Therefore they knew their stuff yesterday.

"Hey soldier, you can't stand there." "Move on, soldier, you can't park here." "Don't you know any better than to be eating here?" "Only officers allowed here."

They were reminding each other of what they had heard before and each reminder drew a laugh. One lad put the life preserver about his waist. Going over they had to wear them all the time. They had their reminders but they were pleasant ones.

Care for Disabled.

A few of the other kind were when Capt. Harry Johnson of Supply Co., 149th F. A., was carried aboard, and when his buddies had parked L. D. Holmes of Battery C so that he was comfortable. J. S. McKnight of Battery A and John Mahon of Battery B, who picked up Holmes when he lost his left leg, were at his side again yesterday.

Father Francis P. Duffy of Holy Cross church, New York City, chaplain of the organization now as he was in France, was with the New York crowd. Those "Fighting Irish" infantrymen were again telling how glad they always were to have the Chicago artillerymen, Reilly's Bucks, back them up in their advances in France.

LAWYER SENTENCED TO APOLOGIZE.

Attorney A. A. Pantelis, 1446 Jonquil terrace, was arraigned yesterday before Judge John Newcomer on a charge of assault and battery and discharged when he agreed to apologize to Percy Caswell, 1255 North State street, whom he had struck.

RICH MEN AND THE ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE.

Scott McBride, general superintendent of the Anti-Saloon league; Wayne B. Wheeler, its general counsel, and Howard H. Russell, its founder, gave notice in Washington that the organization would remain on the job until prohibition enforcement was an unqualified success and prohibition a fact the country over as well as a law.

They are not satisfied, they indicate, that the government has given them real enforcement. To continue activity the organization will have to continue to collect money. It has been successful in this and secretive in it. The Rockefellers and other men of great wealth and property and great affairs have supported it.

They may have thought that if the zealots went witch hunting in this direction the public would be attracted there and zealots who had been witch hunting against corporations and great wealth would lose attention and support.

That may be true, but those rich men who financed this secret organization should appreciate that the invasion of the fundamental rights of man will serve as a precedent for the invasion of the constitutional right of property.

BRING ON THE WOMAN JURORS.

State's Attorney Crowe and certain prominent women have asserted that if the Supreme court upholds Judge Philip Sullivan's decision that women are eligible for jury service, there will be a better and safer Chicago. Good men, men who ought to serve on juries, have shirked that public duty, it is pointed out, by citing their business responsibilities. The good women will not do that, it is added. Furthermore, when they go into the jury room, if they regard the evidence as sufficient to convict, they will not make any bones about socking it to the defendant, whether concrete mixed or henna blonde.

That optimism recalls that of some arguments made for woman suffrage. We have had woman suffrage some five years, and the same old political ills remain. The woman ward heelers vote with the boys. Many a woman who ought to be counted on to vote wisely is, like her husband, too lazy to form political convictions and to vote them. The result of enfranchising women which is most readily seen is that the number of votes on both sides of any question is greater. Certainly woman suffrage has not produced in this country the Utopia which many of its advocates professed to see.

Woman suffrage has proved that shirking of public duties is not restricted to men. Mr. Crowe and the enthusiastic women will see that admitting women to the jury box will demonstrate the same thing. But if Mr. Crowe and the women are only partly right, the women on juries will help. We're for anything that makes Chicago even a little bit safer. One thing is certain: Women will not make any worse jurors than the men have been making in recent years.

A WARNING TO THE COAL INDUSTRY.

The agreement between the coal miners' union and the operators expires on Aug. 31. Negotiations toward a new contract are getting under way at Atlantic City.

Business men who have had to direct enterprises which were steadily losing ground will understand the situation in the coal industry. Those in close touch with it say that only a few of the coal companies are meeting their fixed charges. There is a feeling in the industry that the ship is sinking. Instead of manning the pumps the miners and operators are again trying to shove each other into the sea. No one has confidence in the immediate future of coal mining, which has suffered from repeated internecine conflicts.

It would be well if both miners and operators recalled that every rumor of another strike will drive users of coal to try other fuels. Some are turning to oil and others to water power. Every customer lost is lost alike to miners and operators.

As every one knows, the basic trouble with the coal industry is that there are too many mines and too many miners. That situation is likely to be considerably aggravated if another strike occurs, or even if an agreement is not speedily concluded. Strikes and threats of strikes will mean customers lost; the productive capacity of the industry, which is already greater than is needed, will then become even more topheavy.

THE RECEDING WHITES.

A French observer says that the day is gone when a French column of 8,000 men can march through such a place as Morocco and bring the country under subjection. Formerly in the natives the column encountered only the willingness to die. Now it finds the ability to fight. So long as it was the machine gun against a spear rush the way of the white was smooth. When the American Indian got rifle and powder he was a tough customer, as Braddock discovered, and as American forces discovered all the way across the mountains, prairies and plains.

A native warrior fighting on his own ground, using his own methods plus what he has adopted from the white, requires considerable licking, and the invading white does not always have an easy or a successful day in doing it.

When the whites began taking over as much of the earth as they wanted they had a moral conviction that they were entitled to it because of their religious belief. They thought the subject peoples would be improved in this life and the next if they were given a chance to accept Christianity. The Bible and the bayonet went together against the spears and arrows and it was a successful combination.

Now the whites are not crusaders and the colors have the rifles.

HIGHWAYS IN THE MOTOR AGE.

The other day a woman driving her car over a railroad grade crossing at Maywood was killed because a thunderstorm drowned the noise of an approaching train.

There should have been no unguarded grade crossing in the environs of a great city. In fact, the whole grade crossing question has got to be restudied. The automobile has given it a new urgency. A generation ago we heard much of grade crossings and there was legislation to compel railroads to elevate tracks. Some elevating was done, but it was not possible financially for the roads to complete the schemes proposed. Public opinion subsided. Then appeared the automobile. It has made every street intersection a grade crossing. Millions of gasoline locomotives run the highways at high speed, not on rails and guarded rights of way, much less elevated tracks, but in the public streets. They create a much more difficult and dangerous responsibility than ever the railways did. They have transformed conditions on the streets and highways, and new regulations and new policies must be evolved to deal with the new conditions. For example, in our suburbs, private and public planting must yield to considerations of safety. They must not make death traps of curves and corners as they do now.

The automobile also compels new consideration of safeguards on railway and electric lines. With all the world in automobiles, in a state of perpetual mobility, the older standards must go. Track elevation, track depression, safety devices, rules, and regulations must be restudied and the common need for greater safety must be met.

DIXON DRAWS CARDS.

Th chief of police of Dixon, Ill., has instructed the police to arrest any woman found smoking on the street and charge her with disorderly conduct. Militant ladies ought to hop right to that before the mayor tells the chief to withdraw his order and thus spoils an issue.

Generally accepted convention says that women shall not smoke on the street. Rarely one is seen doing it. More frequently in automobiles. They have been found in the smoking room of trains. They may smoke in some restaurants. Convention has accepted the woman who smokes at home or at a party, but the woman who pulled out a cigarette and a match box and lighted up on lower Michigan avenue or State street would get some attention.

The Dixon police makes it disorderly conduct. What's the disorder? It is unconventional today. It may be accepted next year. It would be unconventional for a man to wear one tan shoe and one black one and if he otherwise were well dressed he would cause some hilarity, but it would not be disorderly conduct.

It probably sticks in most men's instincts that if a woman filled a pipe on Michigan avenue and started out on a walk smoking, she would be guilty of some offense against public order. We have what is regarded as proper all twisted with what is defined as legal.

Probably the Dixon chief wants to make a newspaper story by ruling that one class of citizens and voters may smoke on the streets and another class may not. It is a good chance for the militant ladies to fill the streets of Dixon with smoking women.

Editorial of the Day

MURDER IN CHICAGO.

[Portland Oregonian.]

With a record of 196 murders for the first six months of the current year, Chicago is wondering—though not for the first time—what is the matter. The number is nearly eight times that of London, a much larger city, in an entire year. It includes the killing of five policemen in two weeks.

In asking, "Why must Chicago outdo the world in killing?" THE TRIBUNE of that city but propounds a question that it is easier to answer academically than practically. The story is told by the fact that in the period in which 196 were lawlessly slain, only two were lawfully executed. At the risk of dwelling tediously on the obvious, it may be suggested that the problem ought not to be dismissed as unsolvable until the remedy of law enforcement has been tried. With a little more than eighty-nine chances out of every ninety that a killer will escape punishment, it cannot be said that the deterrent effect of swift and condign penalties has had a fair trial.

How to go about procuring the application of the already known and probably sovereign cure is another matter. It is not Chicago alone that must find a way out, but the rest of the United States, from which the western metropolis differs only in degree but not in kind. Average Americans serve on juries which acquit murderers, and average Americans applaud verdicts of acquittal. What is needed is a method of opening the eyes of the average American to the truth that he is the chief contributing cause of a situation that is rapidly growing worse.

FRANCE FACES REALITIES.

[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

It is rumored that Joseph Caillaux, finance minister of France, may come to Washington as head of the French debt mission. But whether Caillaux comes himself or sends an alter ego, the war debt question will be a secondary consideration.

What Caillaux will need more than anything else in the process of putting his vast scheme into effect for the financial rehabilitation of France is credits in the United States. He aims to consolidate the internal debt with the devaluation of the franc to about twenty to the dollar. The success of this operation depends primarily upon a stabilization of the franc; it will not work unless French currency can be made fluctuation proof. The ultimate aim is a basis of gold.

But neither can the franc be made stable nor can it be put upon a gold basis without the establishment in the United States of credits amounting to several hundred million dollars. In plain words, Caillaux is looking to the United States federal reserve to do for France what it did for Great Britain upon the latter's return to the gold basis.

The issue, therefore, comes down to this: Either Caillaux concludes a war debt settlement with the United States or his whole scheme for financial rehabilitation of France collapses. A thorough understanding of this fundamental point should serve to clear the air for the coming negotiations.

How to Keep Well. By Dr. W. A. Evans.

*Questions pertinent to hygiene, sanitation, and prevention of disease, if matters of general interest, will be answered in this column. Where space will not permit, or the subject is not suitable, letters will be personally answered, subject to proper limitations, and where a stamped, addressed envelope is enclosed. ### YEAST FOR PELLAGRA.

If we are to follow in the footsteps of Italy, we may expect pellagra to disappear from the United States in less than fifty years. To the ordinary man, this is a very gratifying prediction. But the man who has pellagra gets no personal satisfaction out of it. What he wants somebody to tell him is a way to be cured. That is exactly what Dr. Goldberger and his associates are trying to tell all the people who have pellagra, and all the physicians who are attending people who have that disease.

In substance, Dr. Goldberger says to people who have pellagra—throw away your bottles of so-called pellagra specifics and pellagra cures. Pin your faith to diet and yeast. He gives one-half to one ounce—roughly, two level tablespoonfuls—of brewers' yeast, 3 to 6 times a day. Yeast dries well, and, having been dried, keeps well. Drying yeast does not materially lessen its curative power.

Yeast may be given in sirup, in canned tomato juice, in milk and, probably, in scores of other media or combinations.

The good effects of the yeast treatment of pellagra begin to show themselves within 3 days after the treatment is begun. Goldberger suggests the probability that any person who cannot get brewers' yeast could use bakers' yeast with satisfactory results.

There is a disease in dogs known as black tongue, which is akin to pellagra. Goldberger found yeast a cure for black tongue. However, the remedy must be begun early—before the dog's fever gets to 104. But the cure of pellagra is not limited to the use of yeast. That remedy is really not needed for any except the more severe cases of pellagra. In all the mild and moderately severe cases of pellagra all the treatment required is modification of the diet and good sanitary surroundings.

Dr. Goldberger has outlined the diet required. It consists, essentially, of good foods containing good proteids. In the main, these center around the proteids found in lean meat and milk. It was while experimenting to find which foods cure pellagra that the remarkable curative power of yeast was found.

Dr. Abercrombie of the Georgia health department finds that there is almost no fatal pellagra in those portions of his state where limestone underlies the soil and where the water contains lime. Somebody may suggest that lime be added to water as a preventative. But why do that when changing the diet is so easy and when yeast is so readily grown or bought?

AMŒBIC DYSENTERY.

L. H. S. writes: For the last 7 years I have suffered from amœbic dysentery. I have used all forms of treatments and medicines known to science.

I have recently been informed about a new form of treatment by the use of a medicine known as Yatrin, a powder discovered or invented by two leading German doctors.

I am anxious to use this new medicine, but it is very expensive and costs $7 an ounce. I am writing to ask if you can advise me as to the merits of this new treatment.

REPLY:

At an international conference on tropical diseases, amoebic dysentery was very fully discussed. The men with most experience favored treatment with very large doses of bismuth internally and emetine hypodermically.

A few Europeans reported favorably on Yatrin. None of the men with large experience in the American tropics had had experience with Yatrin, or talked for it.

OXALIC ACID IN RHUBARB.

M. K. writes: I read in your column the other day that rhubarb contains oxalic acid. I was wondering if rhubarb is injurious. I am rather fond of it.

REPLY.

The stalks of rhubarb contain only a fair dose of oxalic acid. Most people are able to stand that dose without appreciable harm to themselves.

YOU MAY SWIM.

Mrs. A. M. writes: I am a young woman of 25 and am in my sixth week of pregnancy. People tell me I should not do any swimming in my condition. What is your advice?

REPLY.

They are misleading you. Swimming will not harm you.

ANSWER THE SUMMONS.

Chicago, July 11.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I came home one morning about 4:30 o'clock and left my car parked in front of my home. When I entered the car again at nine a. m. there was a ticket to appear in court for parking all night. A neighbor saw the officer putting the ticket there about six o'clock. Can they prosecute, inasmuch as I was not parked there all night? T. R. B.

Obviously they can prosecute you in the sense that you must appear in response to the notice and tell your story.
TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

ILLEGALLY DOMICILED.

Chicago, July 10.—[Friend of the People.]—A man born in Ireland came to Canada in the spring of 1924 and later entered the United States without a passport or paying the head tax. He has tried to get citizenship papers in the United States, but does not seem successful at it. What is the penalty of his being in the United States? He has a good position and does not want to give it up. J. M. P.

An alien who entered the United States without a passport and without payment of head tax cannot make application for citizenship. Such an alien is illegally in the United States and is subject to deportation.
HOWARD D. EBEY,
District Director of Immigration.

LOSES $200.

Fort Madison, Ia., July 11.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I am an undertaker and buried a man's wife in 1921. He paid the bill. Recently he died and I buried him. A small child was left, who is beneficiary of the father's insurance. The lawyer said that the guardian of the child could not pay me one dollar out of that money for funeral expenses, which amounted to over $200. What can I do to collect this bill?
G. H.

HUMMING MOTOR ANNOYS.

Chicago, July 10.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I own a meat market, and, along with my business, I run an ice machine in the basement of my store. When it is in operation it creates a low hum or vibration similar to an electric fan. The next door neighbor has threatened to call the police if I operate the machine after nine o'clock at night. On hot nights I have to keep it going all night. None of the other neighbors have complained. Can this person make trouble through law for me? E. H.

If the other close neighbors would testify that the motor did not bother them it ought to defeat any action that the objector might bring. TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FROM THE TRIBUNE'S COLUMNS

60 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 15, 1865.

WASHINGTON.—D. T. Phillips, United States marshal, and Lawrence Weldon, district attorney for the southern district of Illinois, have been reappointed and left for their homes.

WASHINGTON.—A federal agent has been sent to Andersonville, Ga., to procure evidence concerning the barbarous treatment accorded Union soldiers imprisoned there during the war, so that those responsible may be brought to punishment. Already several persons charged with participating in the atrocities are in custody.

NEW YORK.—Mr. Barnum announces that he will rebuild his museum destroyed by fire as quickly as possible. The only articles saved from the museum were a collection of coins, the glass engine, the learned seal, the Greek slave, and a wax figure of Jeff Davis, who lost his head in the removal. The manager of the museum had recently received anonymous threats that the place would be burned, on account, it is supposed, of the play "Jeff in Petticoats."

ST. JOHN'S.—In anticipation of the successful laying of the Atlantic cable telegraph, a line has been constructed from this place to Heart's Content point, selected for the landing of the American end of the cable.

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of the Interior Harlan in an address at a cornerstone laying said: "When the French, not now so friendly to our prosperity, sprang to arms in defense of Turkish nationality, we all applauded, but when they attempt to crush feeble Mexico, we despise their want of generous gallantry, and wish it might be the will of God that this great republic of ours should be called upon to protect her feeble sister republic."

25 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 15, 1900.

NEW YORK.—Mrs. Natalie Mayer, wife of John Mayer, and eldest daughter of the late Theodore Havemeyer, died suddenly at her home under mysterious circumstances. Every effort was made at the home to keep the cause of death secret. Mrs. Mayer had just returned from the Havemeyer-Whiting wedding at Newport, and it is claimed had a disagreement with another member of the family. It was rumored Mrs. Mayer had shot herself, but none in the home would admit hearing a pistol shot. Mrs. Mayer's death recalls the tragic fate of her brother, Charles F. Havemeyer, who was found dead in his home at Roslyn, L. I., in 1898, with a bullet in his forehead. His death never was sufficiently cleared up.

WASHINGTON. — Senator John Henry Gear of Iowa died suddenly of heart disease at the age of 75 years.

CHICAGO.—John Alexander Dowie and his followers consecrated the site of the temple in the proposed "Zion City," near Waukegan.

CHICAGO.—Five hundred striking workmen in Uhlich's hall received the pledge of Samuel Gompers that the American Federation of Labor will stand by the Chicago Building Trades council. President Gompers declared the men here must win their fight of five months against the contractors. On the result here, he said, hangs the success of the whole labor movement in the United States.

CHICAGO.—Two men died and numerous persons were prostrated by the torrid wave which struck the city and sent the mercury up to 92.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 15, 1915.

CHICAGO.—The street car men win a big victory in the award that will be handed down by the arbitration commission tomorrow. They gain every main demand they made. State's Attorney Hoyne, the arbitrator for the men, and Mayor Thompson, the umpire, agreed on the main points in dispute, and all classes will get a horizontal raise in wages. The new maximum will be not less than 35, and probably 36 cents an hour. This will establish the highest wages for street car men in the United States.

WASHINGTON.—George T. Marye, United States ambassador to Russia, has resigned.

NEW YORK.—Harry K. Thaw, the slayer of Stanford White, in 1906, won the first important victory of his nine years of fighting for freedom. A jury brought in a verdict that he is now sane. Thaw's chief counsel, John B. Stanchfield, moved that Thaw be released from custody immediately.

CHICAGO.—Construction work on the new $5,000,000 Field Museum of Natural History will begin today after twelve years of planning and negotiation.

LONDON.—A German offensive on a big scale is developing in the region of Ypres. The attacks have been repulsed by the British, but the Germans are still pressing forward and extending the line of activity. A German drive led by the crown prince is on in the Argonne, where the Germans have rolled the French back three-fifths of a mile and captured nearly three miles of their trenches.

ANDY.

(Mort: Chateau-Thierry, July 15, 1918.)

It was fun to see the pink
Flush the bashful laddie's tan;
As we flayed him with our yells,
This the way our taunting ran:
"Andy, Andy, punkin' pie,
Kissed th' girls an 'made 'em cry!"

Came a day when battle flags
Flashed above our country town;
Sobbed a little star-eyed lass,
White of face and white of gown.
"Andy, Andy, soldier shy, Kiss your girl and say good-by!"

"So," they wrote, "the battle fires Brought to him death's quick caress."
. . . Now a cross, with ribband bright,
Rests within a sombre dress.
"Andy, Andy, gone to die, Kissed a girl . . . and made her cry. . . ."

CLARENCE DARROW was overruled when he protested against opening the monkey trial with prayer every morning. Clarence is right; they open the Republican and Democratic conventions with prayer, and what good does it do?

If Entirely Deserted.

R. H. L.: Say, you'd better lay off of the Hon. S. Wildman Brookhart, because he's a tough bird. When I was down in the grade schools he taught rifle marksmanship at a camp in West Virginia and ate with his knife and almost poked his eye out when he drank coffee. Don't you think he'd be just the guy for a desert island? MISOGYNIST.

So's Her Old Man.

R. H. L.: Yea, the diversifications of the Line are strange and wondrous to behold! Today she sat beside me on the upper deck, the paper spread over her blossom-white hands, the Line facing up—facing up—ah ha! We were two kindred souls. I smiled. She sniffed. "You like the Line?" I ventured. "The what?" she countered coldly. "May I ask," I hazarded, "what you are reading?" "I am using this paper," she said, at six below zero, "to keep my arms from freckling!" STEVE.

To Mr. Simon Pure: I'm late, I know, but I'll bite. What, Mr. Simon Pure, is the "basic mediocrity" of Conrad? If that isn't one of the bromidic torpedo phrases dropped by cocksure pifflers into the unconscious and thereby baffled midst of the under-intelligentsia, perhaps you can enlighten us.
TERRY.

To a Friend.

And so now you're married, m'boy. . . . And never more you'll see the lights o' China swinging dim and eerie in the dusk, with you idling the hours away at the Consul House. . . . Never more you'll feel the thrill of singing bullets or get a kick out of bugle fanfare. No more for you are the pangs of hunger or the scourge of empty pockets in foreign ports. . . . China, the Philippines, Cuba, Russia; all these are mere names to you, now you're married. . . . Yessir, your stormy bark has finally drifted into quiet waters, full of windsor chairs, Duncan Phyfe, this and that and what not. . . . You've been beached, old-timer. . . . Why am I envious of you? ### OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 11.—Proponents of old age pensions are always encouraged when the issue wins thoughtful consideration in influential quarters. Treatment of the pension proposal in a TRIBUNE editorial of recent date disclosed sound reflection even though it did not fully indorse the favorable opinion attributed to Mr. Carey Orr. As grand worthy president of the fraternal Order of Eagles, I should like to say that our membership of nearly 650,000, which is committed to the pension principle, earnestly invites such fair inquiry into the proposal's merits.

Fear is advanced that state assured comfort in old age might deprive the individual of "an important motive for industry and thrift." THE TRIBUNE says: "If this happened production and material progress would decrease to the common hurt." The conclusion might appear fair if the premise were valid, but the premise cannot be accepted by those of us who have seriously studied available evidence. Individuals who can and do practice thrift are invariably actuated by ambition for something more than a bare living in old age. Old age pensions are proposed in the interests of those who cannot amass competent savings. A recent economic survey purported to show that the average family man cannot save anything on less than $2,000 a year, yet there are many deserving men who cannot acquire that large an income.

We are prepared to prove, on the point of taxation, that the pension system can be administered for less money than are the present poorhouse systems of the various states, and that, too, with a saving in degradation and cruelty.

Overjealous safeguarding of "production and material progress" at the expense of humanity could hardly be condoned on any Christian ground. Abolishment of the cruel, inhuman and antiquated method of caring for our aged poor through the system of poorhouses, and providing decently for them through noncontributory old age pensions is the endeavor of our fraternity.
OTTO P. DELUSE.

THE LEGION CONVENTION.

Reedsville, Wis., July 10.—I read the editorial in your paper the other day regarding bringing the next Elks' convention to your city. There is no question but that it would be a great convention, but if you want to entertain a real convention, my suggestion is that your mayor send some one to Omaha and try and get the American Legion to honor your city with one of its conventions. The American Legion puts on one of the biggest, if not the biggest, and the best convention of any organization in the United States today.
ERWIN C. CARY.

A SCALE OF BOUNTIES.

Chicago, July 10.—Why is the bounty of $2,500 per dead bandit confined solely to bank robbers?

Why not give everybody a hunting permit where game is so plentiful?

And also another why: Why just bank robbers?

There should be a list gotten out showing various bounties on various criminal game and open to the public.

The following list I suggest:

|---|---|
| Bank robbers | $2,500 |
| Holdup men | 2,000 |
| Burglars | 2,200 |
| Gangsters | 1,800 |
| Crooked policemen | 1,200 |
| Crooked politicians | 1,000 |
| Crooked bondsmen | 900 |
| Crooked witnesses | 500 |
| Crooked jurors | 400 |
| Crooked lawyers | 250 |
| Crooked judges | $100 for 2 |

Forgot to say that I am a constant reader, etc., etc. HARVEY CONOVER.

MENCKEN.

Lafayette, Ind., July 12.—I am surprised that a newspaper with the influence of THE TRIBUNE would publish such insulting foreign propaganda as there is to be found in every line of an article by one H. L. Mencken. He says the biographies of Brigham Young and John L. Sullivan are valuable contributions to the cultural history of the United States for old Brigham, in his day, was a far more important American than such gaudy blobs as Presidents Tyler and Pierce and that Sullivan stood a good head above President Hayes.

It seems quite evident to me that Mencken is a foreign propagandist, for did there ever live a true American who would undertake to vilify the immortal Lincoln by saying, among other things, that "he took far more out of the constitution than he put in." As a further confirmation of the propagandist theory, note that he speaks in very high praise of that other superman, Nietzsche, the war breeder.

Well, Brother Mencken, I would advise that you throw off the devil and his hate, and, inasmuch as you are such a great admirer of Dwight L. Moody, suppose you write his biography. You may yet have a chance to bear fruit meet for repentance to all God-fearing Americans.
T. MCGILL.

OILING THE STREETS.

Chicago, July 11.—The season of the year when the streets are deluged with oil has rolled around and is again upon us. Why tar the streets when they are sadly in need of other attention. Surely no good is accomplished thereby, as the pools of tar remain on the streets for many weeks and serve only as an added menace to motorists who skid from one side of the street to the other, making accidents not only possible, but probable. The street crossings become covered with tar by the constant passage of automobiles and it is in this manner that our shoes become the agents by which our rugs are ruined.

BRYAN.

Chicago, July 10.—Billy Bryan has all those qualifications that a successful man must possess and although the breaks have been against him in practically all of his undertakings he has come through smiling. He is one of the few individuals who can take defeat in the right way. He has any amount of personality, being probably the most natural public speaker in the country.

If we had more Bryans in this country I am sure there would be less graft.
KENNETH H. LAMOND.

DR. DEWHURST ON SKYSCRAPERS.

Lombard, Ill., July 7.—Along with the celebration of the opening of the beautiful Tribune Tower, you may be interested in the following extract from a sermon by a dearly beloved pastor of the Hyde Park Congregational church, the Rev. Frederick E. Dewhurst. The Rev. Mr. Dewhurst died many years ago, but those who listened to his sermons still recall his charming personality and clarity of thought. He said:

"I have for myself long since reached the point where I confess to a genuine admiration for the mighty skyscrapers which go towering up to heaven like a hundred towers of Babel. Do these buildings stand for ruthless greed, for the overriding spirit of competition, for the love of mammon? They may stand for that and nothing else. But they may also represent, as no cathedral ever did, the power to serve the eternal will, the ministry to one's fellow men in ever enlarging ways. They may represent truth and justice and generosity and love to a degree which will make crusades and monasteries and cathedrals pale in importance." CAROLINE E. LANE.

OUTER DRIVE ON SOUTH SIDE WILL BE OPENED TODAY

Arrangements were completed last night for the elaborate exercises, including a parade of more than 5,000 flower decked motors, and much speechmaking, which will feature the formal opening today of the new outer drive from 23d street to Grant Park.

The myriads of motors to take part in the parade will gather shortly after noon in Grant park. The procession will move south on Michigan avenue to 29th street, thence east to the new South parkway and north to the 23d street viaduct spanning the Illinois Central tracks.

Here Mayor Dever and President Edward J. Kelly of the south park board will formally open the new drive to traffic by snipping delicate silken ribbons stretched across the entrance to the viaduct. Then the stream of cars will pass over the structure and up the driveway into Grant park, where further exercises will be held.

Kelly and Dever to Speak.

The celebration will close with a dinner at the Congress hotel this evening at which representatives of many south side civic organizations are to speak. It is expected that President Kelly and Mayor Dever will also deliver addresses.

The mayor yesterday issued a proclamation designating today as "South Parkway" day and inviting all to attend the dedication.

Extension of the South parkway across the new $1,000,000 viaduct and up the beach to Grant park will mean the opening of a new era in the development of the south side, officials declared yesterday.

"I believe everybody, including our traffic policemen most of all, will welcome the breaking of the Michigan avenue 'bottle neck,'" declared Capt. Thomas E. Richards of south park police.

Capt. Richards announced that traffic on Michigan avenue between Monroe and 29th streets will be suspended today from 3 to 5 p. m. in order to give the paraders full swing at the boulevard. Arthur Jones is in charge of the parade.

Prize for Float Winners.

Policemen along the march will distribute 50,000 booklets, prepared under the direction of the South Central association, and which in pictures tell the "story of the south side." Prizes of engraved loving cups and radio sets are to be awarded drivers of the most atractively decorated cars, trucks and floats.

School Workers' New Plan of Vacations Dead for 1925

A plan to give civil service employes of the board of education graduated vacation periods of from two to four weeks, depending upon their terms of service, was virtually killed yesterday by the school administration committee when it was deferred until October.

OFFER PLAN FOR TRAFFIC LIGHTS IN LOOP TODAY

The transfer of $360,000, previously set aside for the payment of electric current bills due the sanitary district, to finance the immediate installation of automatic traffic control signal lights at loop street intersections will be recommended to the city council by its finance committee this afternoon.

At the same time the committee will recommend approval of the proposed transfer of police department funds to permit Chief Collins to purchase 100 Ford roadsters — the first step in his announced plan to completely motorize the police department. The roadsters will cost $44,000.

Means Aid to Police.

Commissioner of Gas and Electricity John T. Miller asserts that the new "Stop-Get Ready-Go" lights can be in operation in the loop as well as at dangerous outlying intersections within three months from the time the necessary funds are available. Their installation, Chief of Police Collins asserts, will release several hundred policemen now assigned at downtown corners for regular police duty in other districts.

The roadsters, which will be ordered tomorrow if the council approves the plan this afternoon, are to be placed in service at once. At least four of the cars will be assigned to each district and each car will be manned by two uniformed policemen.

Cars to Replace Foot Men.

In outlying districts, it is expected, each car will be able to cover the posts now assigned to six foot policemen and, as a result, hundreds of policemen can be re-assigned to more congested districts.

When you buy an antique

When you select an antique from our collection on the third floor, you buy a masterpiece of a bygone age, a piece designed and executed by a skilled master craftsman who worked more for love of beauty than for financial gain. The wood has become mellowed by age and glows with that soft patina which time alone can give.

Such pieces, selected from time to time, will add practical beauty to your home. Practical, because they are in excellent condition and can be used in daily living; beautiful, because they were designed by men who had an instinctive sense of proportion and line.

Visitors are welcome on our third floor. Even if you do not wish to buy anything, you will learn the pleasure of spending a half hour now and then enjoying the beauties of the furniture, silver, glass, and pewter we have collected. Each piece is authentic and fairly priced.

Elmer Lauds Scopes Trial, Radio Version

Then Tells of the Other Good Programs.

BY ELMER DOUGLASS.

Yesterday that modern wonder, the microphone, made its initial entrance into a modern court of justice through W-G-N. This from a radio-historical standpoint is perhaps quite as important as the Tennessee evolution trial at Dayton itself.

Interesting features were the radio addresses by leading characters in this unfolding drama. Incidentally we hope Mr. Scopes soon overcomes his microphone bashfulness.

W-G-N's presentation of Dudley Buck's cantata, "The Triumph of David," given by the Grand Avenue Congregational church choir and soloists at 8:30, occupied a prominent position on the evening programs. The work of the choir and the soloists was evenly good throughout. But somehow the oratorio itself seemed in effect to have been subordinated to the "presentation," which, of course, was not intended.

The announcer's voice and the organ accompaniment were actually stronger in tonal volume than the singing by the choir, and the soloists' voices sounded very weak in comparison.

I am going to venture the suggestion that the oratorio be repeated exactly as given by the choir and soloists, and that their accompaniment be by the organ, and that the announcer be accompanied by the piano, the latter played softly.

At 9:25 I found KYW rebroadcasting a French Bastile day program from KDKA, Pittsburgh, a program made up for reception in France. The reception at this point was not satisfactory from either station, due to poor atmospheric conditions, but it was interesting.

UNITED DEFENSE COMMAND FOR BRITAIN LOOMS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 14.—Plans are being worked out quietly by the politicians and naval and military experts for the complete reorganization of the British defense forces in the direction of establishing unified command for the army, navy and air. This decision was made in light of the war experience, when it was found that efficiency often suffered by the independence of the army, navy and air of each other.

It is also felt that the present divided control leads to extravagance in purchasing and equipping and often to conflict in parliament between the advocates of the separate forces.

The plan, which is being discussed by the experts and which may be brought before parliament next year, provides for the appointment of a central defense ministry which would have supreme command of all forces. The army, navy and air would remain separate technical units under their own officers, but they would be subject on all matters of policy to and be at the disposition of the central ministry.

Warn Evanston Beach Guards Against Sirens

Those handsome life guards at the Evanston beaches will have to devote their time hereafter to looking over the bounding waves for prospective drownings. Capt. Nelson Wettling, the commander, issued orders yesterday to the effect that his sunburned assistants must pay no attention to the conversation of beach sirens. The rule, he said, was merely precautionary. So was the other one he issued making it unlawful to wheel baby carriages onto the piers.

OFFICIAL ADMITS $2,500 THEFTS FROM CANDY CO.

Fred M. Borneman, head of the sales department of the Curtis Candy company for six years, admitted last night to Assistant State's Attorney William Rittenhouse that he has stolen, as nearly as he can remember, close to $2,500 from the company. But Otto Schnering, president of the concern, said that the thefts would amount to nearly $15,000. Borneman's salary and commission was said to amount to $300 weekly.

Borneman took orders for candy and forgot to record the sales, Mr. Schnering said. His downfall came about when he tried to enlist the aid of two other employés in his scheme.

Borneman is the father of a twelve year old daughter. He is divorced from his wife. "I don't know why I did it," he said last night. "I can't answer that question. Every penny I have the company can have."

Summer Time Danger Time for Babies

"SUMMER is the purgatory of motherhood. Of all the babies born in the United States, from 12 to 20 out of every 100 die in the first year of life, and the majority of these deaths take place during the warm months," according to Assistant Surgeon General W. C. Rucker and Senior Surgeon C. C. Pierce, of the United States Public Health Service, in a Public Health Report.

Bowel Trouble Is Cause

"Twenty-five per cent of the deaths of infants under one year of age is due to intestinal diseases," say these leading authorities on health. The United States Public Health Service asserts that any bowel irregularity occurring in babies or children in summer may be the outward and visible sign of the beginning of a serious illness. Mothers must never consider any disturbance of children's bowels as unimportant or "only summer complaint."

Give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

Don't gamble with your baby's health! At the first sign of any bowel disorder give Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and lessen the danger of more serious illness. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a compound of the finest Egyptian senna with pleasing aromatics and pepsin in pure cane syrup, a laxative that has been the standard family remedy in countless homes for more than thirty years, pleasant to take, mild in action and positively effective. # U. S. SOUNDS ALL OTHER POWERS ON CHINESE PARLEY

BY GUY McKINNEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Swampscott, Mass., July 14.—[Special.]—Announcement that this government is now in communication with all the other powers signatory to the Washington conference in an effort to clean up the Chinese situation by bringing about early meetings of both the customs and extra-territorial conferences provided for in the nine power pacts, was made at White Court today.

The President is hopeful that it will be possible to call the conference to discuss extra-territoriality now that France has finally ratified the treaties, but thus far no agreement has been reached among the powers on whether the time is ripe. It was made clear by the President's spokesman that no other method of settling China's troubles aside from that outlined in the treaties will be considered by this government.

Separate Agreement Denied.

In this connection it was denied that this government had made a separate agreement with Great Britain and Japan to adopt a separate policy towards China or to delay the calling of the conference, which will decide whether the powers will relinquish their extra-territorial rights in China. It was stated, however, that while this government is doing everything possible to promote conditions which will warrant the immediate calling of an extra-territorial conference, the President is still without information on which he can definitely name a date when it will be held. He hopes, however, that it can be within the next three months.

It was made clear by the President's spokesman that while Japan, England, and the United States will take the lead in putting the Chinese provisions of the treaties into effect, all the nine signatory powers will be consulted as to policy. One of the principal aims of the President's policy is establishing of China and the protection of foreigners.

Tomorrow the President will utilize the Mayflower to make a trip to Quincy, where he will visit the old church where two Presidents are buried and have an opportunity to see the Lexington, the navy's new airplane carrier, under construction in the Fore river.

Kellogg Denies Agreement.

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.] — Secretary of State Kellogg today denied that the United States government has entered into any agreement with the British and Japanese as reported from Tokio regarding China. The secretary stated that he knows of no important conference having been held between representatives of this and the British and Japanese governments in Tokio relative to China that could have been productive of such an agreement, and authorized the statement that he, as secretary of state, knows of no such agreement as was reported from Tokio. He indicated that Tokio reports were a "mistake."

Shanghai Civic Bodies Act.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

SHANGHAI, July 14.—In view of the breakdown of negotiations by the diplomatic body for a settlement of the Shanghai trouble, unofficial negotiations were entered into today by the American, British, and Chinese chambers of commerce in the hope of getting the Shanghai trouble settled so the strike can be called off. The American member of the commission is F. F. Fairman, president of the American chamber of commerce.

Fear Outbreak in Canton.

LONDON, July 14—(AP)—A Hongkong dispatch to the Daily Mail says arrivals from Canton report the situation there as tense and that an outbreak is imminent. Convicted agitators in Hongkong have been flogged as well as imprisoned.

Demands Retention of Pacts.

[Copyright: 1925: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, July 14.—France, like the United States, is determined apparently to preserve a solid front with Britain and Japan against granting the Chinese demands for abolition of extra-territoriality until China is more settled. M. Fleuriau, French ambassador in London, at the French national fête at the French embassy tonight said that the treaties now in force are enabling French citizens to live in China. These treaties are not to be touched without the greatest risk to foreigners in China, he said.

AIR MAIL LINES IN U. S. MULTIPLY; BIDS FOR 8 ASKED

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Copies of advertisements and blank forms for inviting bids for the operation of eight contract air mail routes, four of which are out of Chicago, were sent to the various postmasters cnerned today by Postmaster General New.

The proposed new routes are:

From Chicago to Birmingham, Ala., by way of Indianapolis, Louisville, Nashville and return.

From Chicago to St. Paul and Minneapolis by way of La Crosse, Wis., and return.

From Chicago to Dallas and Fort Worth, Texas, by way of Moline, St. Joseph, Kansas City, Wichita and Oklahoma City, and return.

From Chicago to St. Louis by way of Springfield, Ill., and return.

From Salt Lake City to Los Angeles by way of Las Vegas, Nev., and return.

From Seattle, Wash., to Los Angeles by way of Portland, Medford, Sacramento, San Francisco, Fresno and Bakersfield.

Any individual or corporation may bid on one or more routes regardless of residence. The schedules have been prepared to allow for an average speed of 90 miles an hour, but the planes will be able to make faster time in favorable weather.

Peddler's Saving of Fare Costs Conductor His Job

Sam Zfasman, 2639 Iowa street, a peddler, has been riding Chicago and Northwestern trains to Highland Park almost daily since March 5, but still has five of ten tickets he bought that day. Following his arrest by a railroad detective, he told Magistrate A. E. Smith at Highland Park yesterday that he held out a quarter and a ticket at the same time, and the conductor usually spurned the ticket. Sam was fined $10, and a conductor is slated for discharge.

FINED FOR IMPERSONATING COP.

C. B. Hicks, 1851 North Leavitt street, a special deputy sheriff, was fined $50 yesterday for impersonating a policeman. Hicks and Frank Bloomberg, 1845 Wilmette avenue, Wilmette, opened a police alarm box and called for the "wagon." Another policeman about to call the station arrested him. Hicks at the time told the policeman he was Lieut. O'Grady. Bloomberg was discharged.

COOLIDGE CALLS HILLES; REPORT WEEKS TO RESIGN

Secretary Slowly on Way Back to Health.

Swampscott, Mass., July 14.—[Special.]—Calling of Charles D. Hilles, Republican national committeeman for New York, to the summer White House for a conference next Thursday, has again revived report that he would be asked to succeed Secretary Weeks as head of the war department.

[Und. & Und. Photo.]

Nothing could be learned here as to the reasons he had been summoned, but considerable significance is attached to the fact the President sent for him to come at this time. It is probable that the President may simply desire to be informed on the political situation in New York state.

Mr. Hilles has frequently called at the White House at Washington and it has been rumored several times that he could have had one of several cabinet positions if he had wanted them. He was formerly chairman of the Republican national committee.

Rests With Doctors.

West Gloucester, Mass., July 14.—[Special.]—Whether Secretary of War Weeks returns to his desk at Washington this fall now rests entirely with his physicians.

Interviewed at his home here today, Secretary Weeks said he hoped to return this fall but he had placed his plans in the hands of the physicians who have cared for him, and will take their advice.

"They saved my life," he said, "and I am not going to plunge into the work at Washington before I am entirely cured."

Coolidge Wants Him Back.

At White Court, President Coolidge expressed the hope that Secretary Weeks would be able to take up his work again this fall. Secretary Weeks' family have on several occasions urged him to resign on account of his health.

Four weeks ago, after an operation in Boston, Secretary Weeks came to Coles island near here for rest. At that time he had to be carried from an automobile, and his physicians feared that it would be months before he would be able to take an active interest in national affairs.

SAYS HE KILLED GIRL WHEN SHE ASKED HIM TO

Watertown, S. D., July 14.—(AP)—State's Attorney H. Hanson of Clark county announced tonight that Winfred Meek, 21, had confessed that he was responsible for the death Sunday night of Byrle Healy, 17, of Garden City. As a result of the confession Robert Depeel, living near Crocker, who had been held with Meek, was released.

In a previous confession Meek is alleged to have implicated Depeel in the crime.

Meek and the girl were alone Sunday night when he drove her to a deserted pasture five miles north of Garden City and took her life, Mr. Hanson said Meek told him.

According to the state's attorney, Meek said Miss Healy had asked him to kill her. Meek declared she told him she feared that her father would harm some one if he did not do as she asked. After killing her with a tire tool, his confession said, he burned the body in a haystack.

WIFE OF DR. CASE DENIES HE EVER ADMITTED GUILT

able person," Meier replied, but that was stricken out.

Again the question and this answer: "She always had a drab personality."

Mr. Olds objected and that too was stricken. The third venture was this: "She was very plain and unattractive."

Mrs. Case Tells Story.

After a few preliminary questions, she came to a straightaway story of that Sunday morning, just preceding Thanksgiving, 1923, when she drove to the railroad station to meet her husband who had returned unexpectedly from a sanitarium in Minneapolis.

They drove home, discussing little domestic affairs; she went to church, he remained at home; they had dinner with their daughters and guests. About 2 o'clock, as she recalls it, Dr. Case took her up to their bedroom and announced:

"Helen, you're surprised to see me home. But George Foreman came up to see me, with some letters from Charlotte Leland implicating me."

The letters then were in Mr. Foreman's hands, but, upon his wife's suggestion, Dr. Case read to her the excerpts which he already had noted down himself. And when he was done the woman who had been married to him for 24 years asked one question:

"Carl, you're not guilty of this, are you?"

And he made one reply.

"Helen, I am not."

Mrs. Case then described her trip to Leland's room and told how she accompanied him to his father's residence. There they had the talk which Leland has said contained her statement that her husband had confessed everything. She meant no such thing at that time, she declared yesterday.

Meet the Wife, Too

85% of all advertisable products are influenced by women in their sale

BEFORE Liberty came, you advertisers were told there was no effective way to reach women in the weekly field. Weeklies were supposed to be edited chiefly for men.

Therefore, when we started Liberty, we set out to make a weekly edited to appeal equally to men and to women.

Not a weekly of so-called "split appeal"—some articles of interest to women alone, others of interest to men alone. For that way, we found, had largely failed. But a unique editorial appeal which made EVERY ARTICLE of EQUAL INTEREST to men and women. Articles attractive to both Bill Jones and his wife.

Then a few advertisers tried this new type weekly. And found results that amazed. Copy that had run in other publications was tested for comparison. Inquiry costs were cut 40% and more. Sales were multiplied. Liberty became an advertising sensation.

Then other advertisers followed, and won results beyond their hopes. A great new force in advertising was proclaimed. The wife was met, too, in the weekly field.

Now, not from what we say, but from what others say about us; if reaching women, as well as men, is your aim, Liberty must be given a top place in the field. Many of America's foremost advertisers have found that to be true.

46% of Liberty's purchasers are women. 26% are housewives. Do you wonder that Liberty outpulls the field? Liberty has earned the right to its subtitle—"A Weekly for Everybody."

Every ad in Liberty is printed in full position, next to reading matter. And that means every ad is read.

Every issue of Liberty carries a restricted volume of advertising. And that means less competition inside its covers than any other publication.

Every advertisement carried is representative of all that's clean in advertising. In the past year we have turned nearly a million dollars in revenue away to keep Liberty's columns clean.

If that type of weekly appeals to you, in fairness to yourself, investigate this amazing infant in the field.

SUPREME COURT RULING BLOCKS UTILITY CASES

Hampers Commission Till October at Least.

BY PARKE BROWN.

An almost complete blockade of many important utility cases—matters of rate fixing, extensions and improvements of service, and enforcement of public safety measures—is foreseen by members of the Illinois commerce commission unless a decision of the state Supreme court in its June term is modified.

In a comparatively small case, in which no big issues were foreseen, the court ruled that where a matter before the commission concerns a company in only a single county its hearing must be held in that county. There are 102 counties in the state, and the commission has neither the personnel nor the funds with which to proceed according to the decision.

Stands Till October, at Least.

A petition for a rehearing has been addressed to the Supreme bench, which will take up the matter at its October term; but even in the interim, although it is the vacation season, scores of rulings will be delayed. If the court permits the decision to stand, the total number of cases that will be delayed may run into the thousands.

It has been the practice of the commission, and its attorneys contend that it has the lawful right so to do, to have rate men, engineers or accountants take the evidence on petitions and complaints. This evidence then is presented to the commission and the commission itself makes the finding.

Final enforcement of this point would slow up the work of the commission materially, but it would not be so disastrous as the localization of hearings.

May Kill Many Decisions.

In connection with both points of the decision there is said to be serious danger of the invalidation of a large number of rulings already made by the commission.

Representatives of the commission yesterday estimated that if it is compelled to follow the terms of the decision its travel appropriation alone will have to be increased to $1,500,000. In addition it was said that the staff of employés would have to be multiplied, as each commissioner or assistant commissioner starting out to another county would have to carry a staff of at least four persons with him.

The Supreme court decision was written by Justice Floyd Thompson in the case of the Danville Brick company vs. the Big Four railroad.

INDIA AGREES ON A CONSTITUTION; UP TO BRITAIN

Home Rulers Will Submit Draft.

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

MRS. ANNIE BESANT.

LONDON, July 14.—Mrs. Annie Besant, 80 year old diplomat and political worker in India, will arrive in London Saturday with the draft of a new constitution for India, which will be submitted to Lord Birkenhead. Mrs. Besant's visit comes at a propitious time and may change the destinies of India, for Lord Birkenhead last week, in the house of lords, challenged critics of the present Indian government to "produce a constitution carrying behind it a fair measure of general agreement among the great peoples of India." He promised that such a constitution would receive most careful examination by himself and the government of India.

Mrs. Besant is bringing a document drafted by the Indian national convention, formed in April, 1924, to "frame a constitution for India which will place her on equality with other free nations in the commonwealth in external affairs and establish within India a federation with a central government and provincial governments."

The first draft was drawn up last year and submitted to all elected members of the various Indian legislative bodies, and then redrafted. The bill provides for universal suffrage from the age of 21. Special qualifications for the legislative assembly, which is the supreme legislative body, include an income equivalent to $17 monthly, or payment of a yearly land tax of the same amount, and owning or occupying a house or apartment with an annual rental of $25. The new bill provides elected councils for villages, subdistricts, districts, and provinces, making each unit autonomous so far as its internal affairs are concerned.

ROMEO MOUNTS POLE TO WOO; LANDS IN CELL

If Romeo lived today he'd be lodged in the bastile or sent to Kankakee.

That's the sad conclusion of James S. Hart, a free lance writer and editor of a local humor magazine, who tried in the early hours yesterday morning to do a Romeo from a telephone pole in an alley back of Rush street—tried to make bloom the rose of romance beneath a modern girl's window, only to be plucked therefrom by the police and cast into a cell.

This is the pitiful tale of a modern youth who yearned back to the days of lute twanging knights, and his courting of a modern girl in Chicago's near north side.

James Hart has for these many weeks been seen about the near north side, in those haunts where reside a few who make their living by art, and where live many more who spend their nights talking about art. And with him was always Mary Dow, a writer on his magazine, who lives at 731 Rush street.

But a few days ago Hart, who is a graduate of the University of Missouri and an ex-football player, fell for the charms of one Sherry Bernhard, 22 years old, who is in Chicago this summer studying dancing. In winter she either tours with the Ruth St Denis dancers or the Keith circuit. This summer she is living in a studio in the rear of 713 Rush street.

That's where Hart and romance ran afoul. Sherry had no time for philandering and told Hart to stick to his first love.

So for the last four nights on his way home from Mary's house he's stopped at the rear studio, climbed a telephone pole beside Sherry's sitting room window and left upon her piano a pretty love note to greet her in the morning.

Well, four nights this has gone on, and Mary became suspicious. Yesterday morning, a little after midnight, when she and James returned home, she was filled with more suspicion. She followed her love when he left and saw him climb the telegraph pole. Two men passing saw the same thing. That was why two burly cops were there with Mary to see James climb down again.

Judge Alegretti fined the pair for disturbing the peace and told Hart to stick to letters and cut out the monkey business.

VERONICA

Helps You to Avoid

High Blood Pressure

Daily the grim spectre, "High Blood Pressure," takes his toll in human lives and in wrecked hopes and ambitions. In the wake of this ruthless, powerful enemy to happiness are strewn the crippled forms of pitiful sufferers from hardening arteries, kidney trouble, heart disease, apoplexy, general debility and premature old age.

Watch Your Blood Pressure—This Is Very Important

One of the contributing causes to high blood pressure is the improper elimination of food. Food waste allowed to accumulate within the system distends the stomach, causes gas, and undue pressure against the heart. Then the heart labors against this unaccustomed burden and the trouble starts.

Veronica Water helps remove these dangerous poisons by aiding elimination and thus helping Nature restore the organs to normal functioning.

Veronica is a natural mineral water from the famous springs in California. Nothing added or taken away. Start the Veronica Treatment today. You will be delighted with the results.

DRY CHIEF HIT BY AFFIDAVIT OF BOOTLEGGER

Federal Judge Adam C. Cliffe yesterday was confronted with the problem of how much credence to place in a bootlegger's affidavit against a prohibition official after the bootlegger has been caught in the discharge of his grog dispensing duties.

The problem arose when an affidavit signed by Bernard Coyle, a bathhouse owner at 820 Grace street, was introduced in Judge Cliffe's court. In the sworn statement Coyle alleged that upon one occasion he placed a case of Scotch whisky in the automobile of Prohibition Director Percy Owen while Maj. Owen was in the car.

Judge Cliffe, after reading the affidavit in open court, referred it to the district attorney's office for further investigation.

Coyle's charges were unsupported by other evidence, but the fact that it was submitted by Patrick T. Roche, ace of the special intelligence unit, internal revenue department, was said to give the document special significance.

Coyle's charges attracted attention because they included the name of Harry R. Schlau, former partner of Coyle's in the operation of the Chateau Bath and Sanatarium, at the Grace street address.

Schlau has been sought for more than a month by Special Agent Roche as the key to the method through which higher-ups participated in the pay-offs in the sacramental wine ring which has been under fire for more than a year.

ASK CITY TO HEAT COUNTY BUILDING. The county building will be heated next winter by heat furnished by the city, the county board decided yesterday. # FIGHT ON MOIST SHIPPING TREATY FAILS IN COURT

New York, July 14.—(AP)—A test attack on the so-called "moist" treaty with Great Britain, which permits vessels of foreign registry to bring liquor under seal into United States ports, failed today when Federal Judge Mack ruled that the federal courts are without power to compel prosecuting officers to enforce penal laws.

"The federal courts are without power to compel this," he declared, "whatever the ground of the failure of prosecuting officers to enforce the laws may be. The remedy for inactivity of that kind is the executive and, ultimately, the people."

The suit was brought by members of the Neptune Association of Masters and Mates in an attempt to have the treaty declared unconstitutional. The plaintiffs, all interested in American shipping, said that vessels flying the American flag were being damaged because passengers preferred to travel on British ships in order to obtain liquor beyond the three mile limit. They asked an injunction restraining British ships "from violating the law and constitution." The injunction was denied.

Judge Mack refused to consider constitutionality of the treaty in his opinion. He held that the damage claimed to have been inflicted resulted not from the fact that British ships brought liquor into port, but from the fact, so it appeared, that passengers preferred British ships.

FIVE POINT OUT MIDGET IN COURT AS BANK ROBBER

After two women and three men had taken the stand and identified Henry J. Fernekes, miniature robber, as the leader of a gang of five which obtained $4,000 from the Inland State bank on Aug. 22, 1924, the state yesterday closed its case against him.

The defense will present its evidence briefly today and closing arguments will follow. The case will probably go to the jury before night.

Miss Marian Heyman of 5323 Byron street, a vault clerk, testified that she was present when the five robbers entered the bank. At their head strode Fernekes, the midget, she said.

Others who identified Fernekes are: Alfred Timmerman, receiving teller; Harry Bigoness, paying teller; and James Kotnaur, a telephone company collector who was in the bank at the time.

Mrs. Mary Otth, a vault clerk, testified that Fernekes rented a safety deposit box at the bank a few days before the robbery.

Assistant State's Attorney Emmet Byrne said if Fernekes is convicted of the robbery charge, he will be tried soon for the murder of Michael Swiontkowski, official of a building and loan association, during a holdup on March 19, 1925. An indictment has been returned.

BY MORROW KRUM.

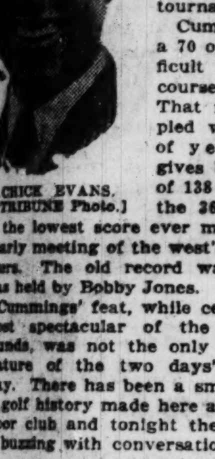
Detroit, Mich., July 14.—[Special.]—Dexter Cummings, young golfer from Onwentsia, has broken all existing records for for the qualifying rounds of the Western Golf association's annual amateur tournament.



CHICK EVANS.

Cummings shot a 70 over the difficult Lochmoor course today. That figure, coupled with his 68 of yesterday, gives him a total of 138 strokes for the 36 holes and is the lowest score ever made in this yearly meeting of the west's best amateurs. The old record was 139 and was held by Bobby Jones.

Cummings' feat, while certainly the most spectacular of the qualifying rounds, was not the only interesting feature of the two days' qualifying play. There has been a small chapter of golf history made here at the Lochmoor club and tonight the clubhouse is buzzing with conversation.

Expected 153 to Qualify.

The scores made during the two 18 hole rounds of golf were unusually low. Before the tournament it was expected that 158 would qualify. Tonight there were no less than 29 players with scores of 153 or better.

The laws that govern this tournament say that the thirty-one best players shall qualify and they, with Harrison Johnston of St. Paul, the present titleholder, shall start on the long match play road to the championship. There were only 29 players with scores of 153 or better, so it was necessary for the officials to look into the next column, the 154 bracket, to find the last two names. In the 154 bracket were nine names. Seven must be eliminated. The nine were started away from the first tee to fight it out.

One Player Disqualified.

As the players stepped to the first tee the officials announced that three places, instead of two, were open, due to the disqualification of William Courtney of Marquette park, Chicago. Courtney was disqualified because he could not show a membership card.

On the first extra hole J. T. Shiappacasse of Detroit, and C. F. Wells of Kalamazoo, were low with fours. All of the rest had fives. The two were counted in for the match play and the seven started out to fight it out for last place. A. J. Holm of Rockford, Ill., finally won out for the last place on the match play program by taking a birdie 4 on the third hole, while Capt. E. F. Carter, Chicago, needed five strokes.

Another feature of the day's play was the consistent work of Chick Evans. Chick shot a 74 and with his 74 of yesterday he was close to the top of those who qualified.

Chicago Players Dominate Field.

Among the 29 players with scores of 153 or better were ten Chicago golfers. And in the 154 bracket were four more. 'Tis easy to see that Chicagoans dominated the field of more than 100 players. Cummings was first. Rudy Knepper of Onwentsia was tied for second place. And on down the list are Chicagoans.

The golf of Dexter Cummings today and yesterday will long be the topic of conversation when the old timers of the W. G. A. gather in locker rooms and grill rooms for fellowship. The young player, who as Yale's best golfer twice won the intercollegiate championship, is the toast of the night at Lochmoor.

On today's round Cummings had three fives and one six. He was out in 37 and back in 33. Despite the two fives and the six Cummings came home two strokes under par, so you see what might have happened had he not had those four bad holes.

Chicagoans Furnish Thrills.

On Cummings' card there is one eagle and four birdies. His game, with the exception of that sixth hole, was almost the same as it was yesterday. He was unusually far off the tee, on with the second shot, and down in two putts.

A trio of Chicagoans furnished thrills today when they played sensational golf. D. E. Sawyer of Midlothian had a 70 and was tied with Cummings for the low score of the day. There were two cards of 71, and Art Sweet of Edgewood and Russell Martin of Flossmoor had them.

The thirty-two players will start on the match play early tomorrow morning. There will be two eighteen hole rounds tomorrow, so tomorrow night only eight players will remain in the battle. The eight will furnish four thirty-six hole matches. The semi-finals, to be played Friday, will be at the thirty-six hole game, as will the finals on Saturday.

THE PAIRINGS.

Harrison R. Johnston, St. Paul, vs. Rial Rolf, Ridgemoor, Chicago.

Why I Took Up Golf

Joie Finn, a member at Olympia Fields, is well known to Chicago golfers. Here is how he got acquainted with the game.

*BY JOIE FINN.

When I was about 8 years old, I was caddying for Mrs. Lee Mida out at Jackson park and of course I had all of the interest in the game that any fairly sane caddy has—in other words I was crazy about it.

JOIE FINN.

One day Mrs. Mida gave me an old left handed mashie. It was my first club and found a couple of balls. Well, I just went out after the game, and I've been playing it ever since.

If anybody in this world wants to make me happy, just let them give me enough to eat, a good 18 hole golf course, a flock of balls and a decent set of clubs. That's all I want. I'll never trouble anybody but Old Man Par for another thing, and I'll be happy down to the ground.

In Motordom
by J. L. JENKINS

TODAY'S grand opening of the new South Park drive will bring about several important changes in traffic routing on Michigan avenue, according to announcement made by the South Park commissioners yesterday. Although the new drive from the heart of Chicago in Grant park south across the new viaduct and the Grand boulevard improvement will be officially opened to traffic following the ceremonies today, the stretch between the Field museum and Twenty-third street is to be closed each evening until the installation of boulevard lights is completed.

New routing orders, effective Thursday, July 16, eliminate left turns into the loop from Michigan avenue at Monroe street and Eighth street. Only southbound vehicles will be allowed to turn left into Grant park at Monroe and Michigan. All other vehicles must go straight through the intersection. At Eighth street and Michigan no vehicle will be permitted to turn left entering Michigan avenue from the west or turning into Eighth street from the south. Both of these restriction orders will be effective for the entire twenty-four hours each day.

Cannonball Baker, driving the Rickenbacker six in which he has shattered 19 road records in all parts of the country since January 1, has tacked up a new Chicago to Milwaukee mark for the heavy footed boys to shoot at. In a night drive and averaging 54.63 miles an hour for the distance, he made the trip from Imlay and Milwaukee avenues in Chicago to Oklahoma and Twenty-second avenues, Milwaukee, in one hour and twenty-five minutes. The time clipped twenty minutes from that of the fastest train between the two lake centers and wrecked the old automobile record of one hour and forty-eight minutes.

SIERRA'S GIANT PINES MAKE HIT WITH BOB

BY BOB BECKER.

In the California Sierras, July 14.—[Special.]—Uncle Sam is doing everything he can to help the vacationist out here enjoy the big national forests which have been set aside for the enjoyment of all Americans.

The other day we made a sixteen mile trip by horseback through the Sierra National Forest, which lies west of the postoffice of Mammoth, and we were impressed by the thoughtfulness of Uncle Sam in providing good horse trails, sign posts, and camp sites for the outdoor lovers who like mountain trails, trout fishing, and a cozy camp 'neath the biggest pine trees that we have ever seen.

Everything Tourist Craves.

With the California Sierras furnishing everything that any one would want in the way of magnificent scenery, exquisite lakes, lovely mountain trout streams, fragrant, inviting forests, and with Uncle Sam doing his part to make all this accessible and easy to enjoy, the California Sierras are today hard to beat as a summer playground.

We rode over to see Rainbow Falls and to do a little fishing in the San Joaquim river below the falls where the river makes a sudden leap of 98 feet. It's a wonderful sight and the gorge of the Joaquim is a beauty, but the giant pines of the Sierra National Forest made the biggest hit with us.

Trees Impress Bob.

Some of the big trees rose 100, 125, and 150 feet above us, their rough cinnamon brown trunks in sharp contrast to the green of the forest. Not since we were in the Tongass forest of Alaska have we seen such beautiful trees as these in the Sierras, which are, praise be, safe from the saw and ax.

Fishing the gorge of the Joaquim is a tough proposition on account of brush and rocks. However, we did manage to navigate without falling in the river and, at the same time, make some notes on the speed of rainbows in swift water.

AMERICAN YACHT AGAIN WINS RACE

ROTHESEY, Scotland, July 14.—(AP)—The American six-meter yacht Lanai today won the second of the necessary three victories to take the Seawanhaki Cup back to the United States.

Making a good start with a stiff breeze from the south, the Lanai led throughout. The race was sailed over a windward and leeward course of fourteen miles in two legs.

The final times were: Lanai, 4:29:37; Coila, 4:29:59.

AURORA GUN CLUB OPENS NEW TRAPS

The Aurora Gun club will open its traps on Sunday with an open shoot in which some of the leading shots in the middle west will take part. The program will open at 10 o'clock and instructions will be given free of charge to beginners. Jack Sager, the well-known boxing promoter, is president of the club and dual shoots will be held with other clubs in the middle west during the year. The traps are located near the exposition building of the state fair grounds.

WHITE SOX SIGN INDIAN PITCHER

Springfield, Mo., July 14.—[Special.]—Wallace "Chief" Carney, full blood Indian pitcher, who was sold today by the Ardmore, Okla., club of the Western association to the Chicago White Sox, has one of the best records ever established in the circuit.

RUTH SHULTS' 81 LOW IN MEET AT BEVERLY

Miss Ruth Shults of Edgewood, with a fine score of 41—40—81, two under par, won the low gross prize yesterday at Beverly in an open day tournament held by the Women's Western Golf association. Others well up were Mrs. Lee W. Mida, Butterfield, 84; Mrs. E. J. Fleming, Beverly, 86, and Mrs. F. W. Kushel, Oak Park, 86.

Miss Virginia Van Wie, the 16 year old star of the Beverly club, did not play in the tournament, as she is spending a vacation in Michigan. The field numbered 165 contestants. Other prize winners follow:

Mrs. A. L. Tribble, Olympia Fields, 92—24—68, first low net; Mrs. H. Stewart, South Shore, 91—20—71, second low net; Mrs. L. D. Staplin, Olympia Fields, 27, least number of putts on eighteen greens; Mrs. E. E. Bilte, Olympia Fields, 38, lowest gross, first nine holes; Mrs. W. S. Hector, Beverly, 35, lowest gross on second nine holes.

The Butterfield Country club will entertain the Women's Western Golf association today in an open tournament, Mrs. W. S. Kendrick being the local hostess. The program of events includes 18 holes of medal play, a driving contest, and approaching and putting. Several prizes will be awarded.

The sports and pastimes committee at the Edgewater Golf club found the entry list in the annual Hy Jinx tournament so large that it was decided to start foursomes today simultaneously at the first and tenth tees at 8:15 o'clock. The field will play thirty-six holes for a number of fine prizes, which will be awarded tonight at the Hy Jinx dinner.

Tod Hardy, 40—40—80; V. U. Fischer, 39—41—80, and Rob Stewart, 41—39—80, tied for the low medal score in the qualifying round of the Lincoln park championship tournament. Dave O'Connor, the present champion, had 81. In class B C. A. Jones led with 85—13—72; while in class C Ramsey Stewart topped the field with 94—19—75.

Mrs. Emmet Boyles, chairman of the women's committee at the Evanston Golf club, wishes players entered in the women's Chicago championship next week at the Evanston club to know that they have practice privileges over the course during the rest of the week, Saturday excepted.

J. W. Reiber, with 77—10—67, led the field at Columbus park in the qualifying round for the Brooks' trophy. Sixteen qualified for match play.

The Western Interclub Golf league will play its fifth team match today, Butterfield going to Glen Oak and Elmhurst to Westward Ho. Edgewood will not play as the result of a bye. The standing of the clubs to date is: Glen Oak, 36½ points; Edgewood, 36; Butterfield, 33; Westward Ho, 19½; Elmhurst, 19.

The Coöperative Society of America will hold its annual golf tournament July 22 at Budlong Woods.

MURCHISON AND PADDOCK SPLIT HONORS IN PARIS

PARIS, July 14.—(AP)—Honors were divided by Charlie Paddock of Los Angeles and Loren Murchison of Newark, N. J., in the Paris University club's meet today at the Porte Doree stadium. Paddock took the special 100 metre event in :10 4-5 with Murchison close behind; Murchison beat Paddock by inches in a special 100 yard dash, doing it in :10 1-5.

The Frenchman, Andre Mourlon, made the record time of :16 3-5 in a heat of the 150 metre race.

IN the WAKE of the NEWS

BRITON VS. YANK.

THOSE critics of American newspaper writing who object to classifying as Americans for international competition foreign born citizens now residing in this country may find some food for thought in Saturday's dual meet in which the Oxford-Cambridge athletes scored six firsts and the Harvard-Yale athletes scored six firsts.

The Wake decries claiming the victory on the basis of second places, in which the Yankees excelled, although we are informed that it is British custom where a tie exists in first places. We prefer to regard the meet as an even test of athletic skill.

BUT we may be pardoned, under the circumstances, for calling attention to the fact that Stevenson of Oxford is a former Princetonian, now a Rhodes scholar. He won the 440 yard run. Thus it was an American who enabled the British to tie his fellow countrymen. We understand Stevenson intends to return to this country upon completion of his education.

Harvard and Yale have long since ceased to monopolize all that is athletic in American college athletics. Against an all-American team, the Britons would not have won, in all probability. But that would not have been a fair test. Weight of numbers would have been against our visitors. Harvard and Yale are worthy representatives. Stevenson now attends Oxford. He is entitled to represent Great Britain, although his athletic prowess was acquired in this country.

This dual meet, in The Wake's opinion, is of the kind not only to develop good sport but good sportsmanship.

'Tis happiness to sit and look
Upon a gently flowing brook,
With rods and flies
To tantalize
The finny beauties lurking.

And yet a joy that's more complete

Of shady streams—
And so I go on working. H. M. S.

Scene—Summer night, 30 years ago, Kretschman's garden, North Clark near Burton place.

The spotlight talker at the table I joined was a man whom I had never seen before. Magnificent build, probably 6 feet 2 or 3 inches, fashionable clothes. He referred to hearing this statement made last winter "at a dinner at our place at Nice"—then later quoted Stuyvesant Fish as having said so and so "at a dinner last summer at our place at Newport."

For an hour he made high hat references and every name used was a face card. Moreover, they all ran naturally along with his stories. It was clear he was not running them in to impress. When he withdrew I asked who he was.

"Why, you ought to know him," Jim Moore remarked, "he's a swell guy. That's Potter Palmer's butler."

BEARS SWEEP BRITONS IN SINGLES MATCHES

Glen Cove, N. Y., July 14.—(AP)—Overwhelming defeat today marked the first contest of the Oxford-Cambridge tennis team in this country. In four singles matches of a tournament with University of California players, at the Nassau Country club, the English collegians failed to score a single victory, although three of the duels were forced into extra sets.

The most decisive triumph of the meet was scored over the Cambridge star, J. H. Van Allen, by the American inter-collegiate champion, Edward G. Chandler.

In contrast to the ease with which Chandler won, Gerald Stratford was carried through three hard fighting sets to take the measure of John P. Carleton of Oxford, 6—3, 4—6, 11—9. Carleton, an American Rhodes scholar at Oxford, and former Dartmouth football player, rallied strongly after losing the first set. After taking the second he carried the American to twenty games of sparkling play before the match was decided.

In the other two matches, Thomas Stowe of California defeated J. D. R. Sumner of Oxford, 7—9, 6—2, 6—1, while H. K. Lester of Cambridge bowed before the accurate playing of Dervais Hillis, 1—6, 6—2, 6—2.

M'FARLANE WINS TITLE PLAYOFF IN SHAWNEE MEET

Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, Pa., July 14—(AP)—William MacFarlane, national open champion, today won the open golf tournament of the Shawnee Country club by defeating William Klein of Garden City by four strokes in an 18 hole playoff. MacFarlane's card for the 18 holes was 71, while the best Klein could do was a 75, although he had taken only 68 for his last round of the 72 hole tournament, throwing him into a tie with the national champion.

TILDEN REACHES FOURTH ROUND IN CLAY COURT PLAY

St. Louis, July 14.—(AP)—William T. Tilden, Philadelphia, defending his singles title, advanced to the fourth round of the National clay court tennis tournament here today. The champion easily won his second and third round battles and also took a second round doubles match paired with A. L. Wiener, his young protégé.

BILL TILDEN.
[TRIBUNE Photo.]

In the morning the title-holder defeated Charles Harnes, St. Louis, 7—5, 6—1, and in the afternoon downed John Barra, Dallas, Texas, 6—1, 6—2.

Tilden's play was effortless and he withheld his fast service.

George Lott Wins.

Other prominent players who survived the day's matches were: Harvey Snodgrass and Walter Wesbrook, Los Angeles; Alfred H. Chapin, Jr., Springfield, Mass.; Horace Oser, New York; Brian I. C. Norton, St. Louis; Howard Kinsey, San Francisco; George Lott, Jr., Chicago; Fritz Bastian, Indianapolis, and Lewis White, Dallas, Texas.

Oser, former junior star, advanced to the fourth round by winning from Clifford Albers, St. Louis, and eliminating William Fluther of Tulsa, Okla.

Chicagoan Is Beaten.

White, a Dallas representative, was near defeat in his match with John Rolley, Chicago. Rolley's suddenly improved form bewildered the Texan, who recovered barely in time to win.

SEEDED DOUBLES PAIR BEATEN AT LONGWOOD MEET

Brookline, Mass., July 14.—(AP)—Cranston Holman and Lionel Ogden, seeded players in the Longwood doubles tournament at the Longwood Cricket club, today were eliminated in the second round. Henry L. Johnson Jr. and Malcolm T. Hill, both local players and former national boys' champions, defeated the westerner collegians, 5—7, 6—4, 6—4.

In the singles six of the remaining seeded players gained the third round brackets and came abreast with Gerald L. Patterson of Australia, first seeded foreigner. Frederick Mercur of Bethlehem won the right to contend with Patterson for the semi-finals next Thursday.

John B. Hawkes, another Australian player, won from Lionel Ogden after dropping the second set. The three Japanese Davis cup players, Shimizu, Harada, and Fokuda, swept through their singles encounters. Carl Fischer, former intercollegiate champion, defeated his man and will meet M. W. Niles tomorrow, and Arnold Jones, Yale tennis champion, will oppose Masanosuke Fokuda.

GOLF PROS WILL PLAY QUALIFYING ROUNDS AT RIDGE

Ted Blankenship's speed, and whatever else he may have been using on this occasion, fairly blinded the Yankees yesterday and Collins' White Sox took advantage of the ex-cowboy's hurling by scampering off with a 3 to 0 battle that belonged to anybody until the closing chapters. It was the third straight defeat for the New Yorkers in the four game series and also the second coating of whitewash.

The excellent manner in which Blankenship threw the apple caused the enemy to be held down to a measly portion of five singles. He also walked two, but doubly avenged the free transportation by fanning four fellows, one of them being "Babe" Ruth himself, who took his three strikes in the opening inning and a bit later retired from the performance on the plea that he had strained his side or his temperment in reaching for a fly ball in Chicago's opening half.

Shocker Keeps Sox Guessing.

While Blankenship was keeping himself busy turning back the Gotham crowd the Sox were having troubles of their own with the salivated pitching of the veteran Urban Shocker. The former Brownie was plastered for eleven hits, but he showed remarkable skill in skimming over the treacherous spots until the game had almost run its regulation course. Then a few of the Collins boys conspired to cause him some embarassment and they succeeded by driving over one run in the seventh and two more in the eighth.

The one distressing feature of the victory was that Johnny Mostil couldn't bite off anything that even resembled a safe blow. The speedy center gardener was up four times, but twice hoisted to the outer precincts, once grounded into a force play, and the other time bounced to short. Thus John's run of consecutive hitting was snapped at the sixteen game mark. The only other pale hose wearer unable to connect was Blankenship, who fanned three times, probably on the theory that a man can't be expected to pitch shutout ball and hit at the same time.

How the Scores Were Made.

The break that started the Hose on their way came with one out in the seventh, when Kamm poked a tantalizing bounder at Dugan. The ball took a series of peculiar hops so "Jumping Joe" couldn't grab it, and Willie got a hit. Schalk promptly scored him with a two bagger that sailed high and far in the direction of right center. That lone run probably would have been enough for Blankenship, but that fact didn't discourage Hooper from popping a triple into left center and driving home Sheely and Falk, who had singled with two out in the eighth.

Now for a few words regarding Blankenship. There were only three innings in which the Yanks got more than a single man on base, but none of these went as far as third. The only fellow who came even close to reaching Kamm's corner was Meusel, who opened the fourth with a single. An out put him on second and he tried to steal another peg, but Schalk nailed him. In the sixth the Yanks uncorked two hits for the only time during the fracas, but with Veach and Gehrig waiting, Ward flied out.

Two games with the Athletics today, starting at 1:30 p. m.

Ex-Cermak Hurler to Face Former Mates Tomorrow

Cermaks and Reiners play a twilight game tomorrow night at Cermak park, starting at 6:15. Reiners will use Blackburn, an ex-Cermak pitcher, against his former mates.

PHILLIES, 6; CARDS, 4.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 14.—(AP)—Philadelphia made it three out of four by taking the last game of the series with St. Louis here today, 6 to 4. Cy Williams' home run with two on base in the eighth inning ended Dickerman's effectiveness. Score:

Giants Lambast Four Cub Pitchers for 6 to 3 Victory

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

JACK BENTLEY.

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The Giants made it three out of four from our struggling Cubs in spite of anything Rabbit Maranville could do by grabbing the final game of the series here today, 6 to 3. Immediately after the contest the Cubs caught a fast train for Philadelphia, where the doings are supposed to be less rough.

Four Cub pitchers made brave attempts to stop the McGraw men, but it couldn't be done. The veteran Mr. Alexander wasn't able to perform, as he was a bit ill, or it might have been different. Vic Keen was sent to the slab to start, but was unable to finish the first round. John Blake came to his rescue and stayed through the fourth, when he was maltreated. A pinch hitter went in for him in the fifth, and then Percy Jones tried out his ailing left wing for a couple of rounds. It worked all right, but he gave way to a pinch hitter in the seventh, and Elmer Jacobs finished the battle.

Bentley Gets Strong Support.

Against this struggling quartet Black Jack Bentley performed for New York, and his southpawing, aided by plenty of spunky support from his mates, was strong enough to win. They made some daring catches and executed some double plays for him whenever he was in distress. Along with it they poled out a dozen base hits.

The ball was full of life in the first inning and bounded all over the field for each side. With one out the Rabbit bounced one off Bentley's knuckles for a single and Heathcote followed with a drive over Young's head for three bags, the Rabbit scoring. Freigau scraped one past third and Heathcote came home, but the fuss stopped when Brooks forced Freigau and Brooks was nailed stealing.

Giants Open With Rush.

Young began the Giants' attack with a walk. He went to third when Frisch singled and scored on Meusel's sacrificed fly. Kelly poked a Texas leaguer to left and Terry punched a liner to the same field, Frisch scoring on it. Southworth lined safely to center, filling the bases after which Blake replaced Keen and three men were left stranded when Jackson fanned and Gowdy tapped one to Blake.

In the second the Giants got a single run and long distance socking produced business for them again in the fourth. Gowdy and Bentley started it with triples. Young bounced out, but Frisch poled a double. Meusel got an infield hit and Kelly bounded to Freigau. Young was tripped between third and home, but got back to third on Hartnett's bum chuck and then counted.

West Parks Boys Compete in Track Meet Saturday

The eighteenth annual junior track and field meet for boys under 17 will be held Saturday afternoon at Eckhart park under the auspices of the west parks playgrounds. That the event is growing in popularity among the youngsters is shown by the entry list which already contains over 100 names. Douglas park was the winner last year.

BIKE TITLE RACES AT SHERMAN PK. SUNDAY

Announcement was made yesterday by Julian T. Fitzgerald, western representative of the Amateur Bicycle League of America, that the Chicago bicycle championships will be held at Sherman park, 55th and Loomis streets, Sunday morning, starting at 9 o'clock.

The first four winners in each of the junior events and the same number in the senior races will be eligible for the state championships, to be held at Kewanee, Ill., on Aug. 2. The winner of the senior and junior state titles will be eligible for the national championships, to be held at St. Louis on Sept. 5 and 6.

Events for seniors in the city championships are half mile, one mile, and ten miles scratch and a five mile unpaced. The junior events will be quarter mile, third mile, and two miles scratch, and a one mile unpaced.

All riders must be entered before Sunday and entry can be made with Edward A. Mahlke, 2846 West North avenue.

Detroit, Mich., July 14.—(AP)—Philadelphia went on another batting orgy today to defeat the Detroit Tigers, 12 to 4, winning three out of the four game series. Leonard was unable to hold the Athletics in check and, though he passed no men and struck out more players than Groves, he was touched for twenty hits, while the Tigers were able to collect only seven. Lamar and Simmons of the visiting team hit home runs. Score:

FARM & GARDEN By FRANK RIDGWAY

OWNERS of dairy herds who have been keeping individual records of their cows may use this standard to aid them in eliminating the animals that are not making a good profit from their farms.

In Jamison's summary of the records of 4,565 cows in 16 of the 27 dairy herds in the state's dairy herd improvement association good cows that give more than 10,000 pounds of milk a year more than paid for themselves in twelve months' time, while low producers which fall below a mark of 4,000 pounds of milk annually have a hard time returning enough to pay for their feed.

Six hundred and twenty-five of the cows each produced more than 10,000 pounds of milk in a year and returned their owners an average of $167.94 above feed costs, while 380 produced less than 4,000 pounds of milk and averaged only $29.88 above feed costs. The 625 high producers are worth about $138 more apiece than the low producers.

The high producers pulled the average of the 4,565 cows above 7,000 pounds of milk a year, or twice as much as the average Illinois cow produces. Jamison, who is at the state university, says that, consequently, the average return above feed costs for the entire group was $96.55 a cow.

CHINK, OUTSIDER, TAKES FEATURE AT HAWTHORNE

BY FRENCH LANE.

A dark horse from Maryland called Chink invaded Hawthorne yesterday and won the feature, the Lincoln handicap, a dash at six furlongs, carrying $1,500 in added money. He dropped out of the skies and raced the odds on choice, Little Visitor, and other speedy sprinters into defeat.

JOCKEY J. WALLACE.

The race also brought the first disqualification of the meeting, for Little Visitor, after finishing second, was moved back out of the money. Louis Rubenstein was placed second and Girl Scout third. Jockey Canfield, on Little Visitor, was guilty of interference at the head of the stretch, the stewards ruled, Girl Scout being the victim.

Set Pace in Early Stages.

It was a fast run race, with Girl Scout and Little Visitor running each other into submission in the early stages of the journey, while Jockey J. Wallace on Chink, after laying close to the pace most of the way, moved up a sixteenth out, to come on and win finally by three lengths.

The winner was quoted as good as 11 to 1 among the oralizers.

Chink is a three year old son of Wrack-Star Lady, and except for a few races early in the season in Maryland has not been active this year. On his race today he looks like he might be one of the best sprinters here.

There was a secondary feature on the day's program, which carried almost as much interest as the feature, and when Colonel Bob Baker's eight year old Georgie got out in front early, fought off challenge after challenge in the late going, and came on to win, he accounted for this third straight Hawthorne victory. King's Ransom was second and Arabian a rather bad third.

Tamale Dick Wins First.

William Stahler, wealthy Elgin sportsman and a new comer to the turf, sent his recently acquired two year old Tamale Dick out to capture the first number.

Augustus Swenke, from Baltimore, grabbed another purse when his 5 year old Dick Welles' offspring, Dr. Glenn, under an able ride by Jockey H. Thomas, won the second race, after Peggy O had run out at the head of the stretch. The latter came fast on the extreme outside in the last sixteenth and was second while Uproar was third.

The stewards ruled after the race, that Peggy O would be denied the privilege of starting here until her owner, J. H. Buscher of New Orleans, convinces them she has been cured of the habit of running out.

Upsets came in the running of both the fifth and sixth races, Contusion getting out in front to beat Orpheus and Lee Adrin in the fifth, while Elizabeth K., for the second time during the meeting, triumphed at long odds in the last race. She came with a belated rally and nipped Talequa, the early leader, and The Cheetah in the last furlong.

SITE OF WALKER, SHADE BOUT IS STILL UNDECIDED

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Representatives of recalcitrant boxing champions before the state athletic commission today were unable to report progress in negotiations for welterweight and featherweight title matches which they have been ordered to fight.

No break in the deadlock between Mickey Walker and Dave Shade with regard to the former's defense of his 147 pound crown was in sight after the commission had given a hearing to Teddy Hayes, the champion's trainer, and Leo P. Flynn, manager of Shade. Flynn declines to permit the Californian to box in his native state. Walker thus far has refused to box anywhere else.

Promoters and managers interested in a featherweight title match between Louis (Kid) Kaplan of Meriden, Conn., and Babe Herman of New York entered with a similar problem. They also took it out with them. Kaplan has signed articles for the fight in Waterbury, Conn. Herman seeks the match in New York state.

MEYERS TRAINS MEXICAN FOR MAT BOUT ON SUNDAY

Frank Aquayo, the Mexican heavyweight wrestler who meets Charley Peterson, the local grappler, in the main event of the mat show at Indiana Harbor on Sunday afternoon, is being trained for the struggle by Johnny Meyers, the world's middleweight champion. According to Meyers, the Mexican knows a number of clever holds and he expects him to beat the local grappler. The bout is creating a lot of interest in Indiana Harbor, where numbers of Mexicans are employed in the steel plants. Three other bouts will support the main event.

THOMPSON DILLON CAPTURES $25,000 GEERS MEMORIAL

Toledo, O., July 14.—Thompson Dillon of the Cox stables, coupled in the betting with Hollyrood Jessie, the other Cox entry, won the $25,000 Geers Memorial sweepstakes here today. Thompson Dillon was driven by Fred Egan, who gave the gelding one of the finest drives given a horse to win the third heat and race.

Thompson Dillon handily won the first heat in 2:04½. Sumatra trotted a great race and took the second heat in 2:02¼, one-quarter of a second slower than the world's record. Ben White was in Sumatra's sulky. Then Egan drove his great mile in the third heat and took the event and major prize money of $14,000.

DEMPSEY DUE TO LAND TODAY IN NEW YORK

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, is due to arrive tomorrow on the Homeric, returning from his honeymoon trip abroad, to be confronted once more with the challenge from the patient Harry Wills to do battle for the world's title.

Likewise Dempsey will encounter an ultimatum from the state athletic commission that he either fight Wills this year or retire. Only through Dempsey's acceptance of the Wills challenge can the heavyweight champion and his manager, Jack Kearns, be restored to good standing in New York state.

SOLLY SEEMAN HERE FOR MANDELL BATTLE

BY WALTER ECKERSALL.

Solly Seeman of New York, a pleasing combination of the fighter and boxer, arrived in Chicago yesterday to complete training for his ten round bout with Sammy Mandell of Rockford at East Chicago on Friday night. Seeman was accompanied by Manager Ike Dorgan, well known in the boxing racket because of his connections with Tex Rickard, the successful eastern promoter.

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

The New Yorker lost no time to establish himself at the Mullen gymnasium, where he boxed six rounds in the afternoon. He boxed three sessions with Russell Whalen and as many with Willie Brown. In both bouts Solly's right was in evidence at all times and he did more than his share of the leading.

Mandell Has Busy Session.

Before Seeman took the floor at the Mullen gym, Mandell put in a strenuous afternoon. Sammy boxed three rounds with Don Davis, three with Jack Feldheim, and as many with Wolcott Langford.

Ring sharps who watched both fighters go through their workouts have made Seeman a favorite over the Rockford flash. Some substantial wagers have already been made, but the odds are expected to drop to evens when the pair of sterling lightweights crawl through the ropes on Friday night.

Moore and Smith Train Hard.

Pal Moore, who is being called the evolution kid, and Harold Smith of the stockyards, who meet in the other ten round bout, are hard at work at the Mullen gym, while the boxers who meet in the interesting preliminaries are also in training.

Action of the New York Boxing commission in declaring Jimmy Goodrich of Buffalo, the world's lightweight champion, because of his technical knockout victory over Stanislaus Loayza of Chile, in New York last Monday night, did not create any excitement in local boxing circles. Those who did comment on it asserted there are half a dozen lightweights, including Mandell, Terris, Hudkins and Seeman, who can beat the Buffalo fighter.

Charley Harvey, manager of Billy Wells, the English welterweight, has accepted terms for Wells to meet Mickey Walker, the world's welterweight champion, in East Chicago next month. The date of the match will be made known the latter part of the week.

TAYLOR TO BOX AT AURORA.

Bud Taylor, the Terre Haute bantamweight, will be one of the principals in the windup of the next boxing show at Aurora on July 31. Promoter Mullen intends to secure the best bantamweight available.

PANCHO VILLA, FLYWEIGHT RING CHAMPION, DIES

San Francisco, Cal., July 13.—(AP)—Pancho Villa, flyweight boxing champion of the world, died shortly before noon today at a local hospital as he was being prepared for an operation on his jaw.

Villa has been ill with an affection of the jaw since a few days before his battle with Jimmy McLarnin at Oakland on July 4. He went into that fight against the advice of his physician and lost the decision after a grueling contest. He appeared tired throughout and there was a swelling on the right side of his face that could be plainly seen by the spectators.

Ulcerated Tooth Blamed.

After this fight Villa's jaw affection, said to be due primarily to ulcerated teeth, grew worse and last night he was taken to the hospital for an operation. His throat became affected as well as his jaw. Dr. C. E. Hoffman was preparing to operate on the fighter when he died. The surgeon said Villa suffocated under the anesthetic.

Villa was discovered in the Philippines by Frank Churchill, his manager, in 1919, while Churchill was acting as a government official there. The American built the little islander up to championship class and when his conquest of the islands was complete brought him to America in 1922.

Wins U. S. Title from Buff.

One of his first opponents in the United States was Johnny Buff, the then holder of the American flyweight title. Villa knocked Buff out in 11 rounds after a sensational showing. Later he lost his title to Frankie Genaro, but in 1923 he took on Jimmy Wilde, the Britisher, who held the world title, and beat Wilde in workmanlike fashion. A return match between Villa and Genaro for the world title was in the making, the bout being planned for New York in the fall.

Recently Villa made a campaign in the Philippines, beating all comers. He arrived back about a month ago, and, after a brief stay in the northwest, came to Oakland to take on McLarnin.

BERLENBACH FRACTURED HAND IN MARULLO BOUT

Newark, N. J., July 14.—(AP)—Exoneration on a complaint of stalling in his first fight as world's light heavyweight champion became possible to Paul Berlenbach of Astoria, N. Y., today after examination of his right hand disclosed a fractured bone suffered last night while defending his title against Young Marullo of New Orleans.

Platt Adams, chief inspector of the New Jersey boxing commission, under whose direction the examination was made, announced that he would immediately report the physicians' findings to the board with a view to having both boxers paid for the match.

The National Sportsmen's club, which promoted the bout, had been instructed by Adams to withhold their money after Referee Henry Lewis had sent the boxers to their corners in the ninth round for failure to put forth their best efforts.

Under the terms of the contract the champion will receive $6,000 and Marullo $2,250.

FOES' EDICT TO RESIGN DEFIED BY STRESEMANN

BY JOHN CLAYTON.

[Copyright: 1925: By The Chicago Tribune.]

BERLIN, July 14.—Foreign Minister Stresemann declared flatly today that he will not resign. His political enemies and the Nationalist newspapers have been carrying on a vigorous campaign against his methods of conducting the security pact negotiations with Great Britain and France.

Herr Stresemann insists he will stand or fall on the success of this international project. If the security plan fails he is doomed to defeat then. Even if it is accepted, his position will be precarious.

The German cabinet was unable to agree tonight regarding the draft of an answer to the French note on security as prepared by the foreign office. THE TRIBUNE learns that the conference between Herr Schiele, Nationalist minister of the interior, and Herr Stresemann had results which are likely to bring serious difficulties before the draft passes the cabinet.

Herr Schiele demanded changes under which it would be made clear that Germany in no way renounces German territory. Herr Stresemann insists that the answer be so framed as to make possible an international conference. Pessimism regarding the eventual success of the security plan is growing here.

Seeks to Shake off Russia.

One of the outstanding reasons for Herr Stresemann's vigorous championing of the security pact plan is that he believes it will, if successful, enable Germany to free itself from the Rapallo treaty and Russia. For months, ever since the departure of Ambassador Von Maltzan for Washington, Herr Stresemann has been seeking a means to do this. It was this idea, more than any other, that led to the sending of the original security memorandum to the allied powers on February 9.

German statesmen and publicists live in constant dread of a war between Russia and the western powers, fought on German soil while she is in an unarmed condition. Herr Stresemann believed the security treaty would offer a powerful deterrent both to Russia and the western powers. But many leaders in German politics have lined up against negotiations as long as France holds to the terms expressed in her note.

Of the political parties, none except the Socialists is solidly for negotiations, and none except the Nationalists solidly opposed. In the Democratic, Industrialist, and Catholic groups, including the Bavarian People's party, there is a wide difference of opinion.

The three main points in the French answer which, in the opinion of the leaders opposing Stresemann, make it impossible for Germany to accept the French note as a basis of negotiations, are:

1. France's desire to act as guarantor for the treaties of arbitration with Germany's eastern neighbors.

2. The demand that Germany enter the league of nations without reservations.

3. The implied right of French troops to march into or through German territory and to take sanctions.

Fear France as Judge.

With regard to the first of these, even those newspapers and political leaders who are strongest in supporting the idea of negotiations point out the impossibility for Germany to accept as judge in a quarrel with Poland or Czecho-Slovakia the big western power allied to these two states and for whom they form an eastern outpost.

Germany will not accept the obligations under article 16 of the league covenant, which would give league troops or any army designated by the league the right to cross Germany territory. German leaders oppose giving France to right to march across Germany to the aid of her allies on the ground that Germany would become the battleground of a war in such a case.

EVANGELIST WHO "SAVED HERRIN" IS SPEAKER HERE

Evangelist Howard S. Williams, "the man who saved Herrin," with his wife and daughter, visited Chicago yesterday. The Rev. Mr. Williams spoke before 200 members of the Rotary club at luncheon in the Hotel Sherman. In the afternoon he and his family sailed on the steamship North American for a two weeks' cruise of the great lakes.

The evangelist, who until three years ago was a successful newspaper editor, was greeted with applause when he was introduced to the Rotarians.

"The principles on which Rotary is founded have brought peace to Herrin," the Rev. Mr. Williams declared. "Christ is the greatest Rotarian and I am just a little Rotarian, but when I went to him and asked him if we together should go to Herrin he answered 'Yes.'

"So we went into Williamson county and you have read of the results."

SYNOPSIS.

Big Tim Burke, real estate operator, and known to his associates as a land pirate, discharges one of his young lieutenants called Pol Gaillard, because he is irritated by the latter's sleekness of appearance, and nonchalant manner. Pol learns that his ex-boss covets a desirable piece of Long island property owned by Professor Husted and that another land shark, Michael Cadrigan, is after the same bit of land. Cadrigan lives on the shore of Long Island sound with his step-daughter, Veronica. His estate is across the bay from that of Professor Husted. The old professor lives like a hermit, and Veronica is his only visitor. Cadrigan asks Veronica to discontinue calling on the old man, intimating that the professor's enemies may harm her. Noticing a sloop anchored opposite the house, Veronica suggests to her step-father that they call on the owner. They are invited on board, and their host introduces himself as Pol Gaillard, posing as an itinerant poet and artist. That night Pol rows over to the Husted house and while he is ashore his sloop is cut adrift. He rows over to his boat and releases his second anchor. The next night he and Veronica meet at Professor Husted's house. On leaving Pol finds his boat has been scuttled. Veronica tells Cadrigan of Pol's experiences.

INSTALLMENT XV.

AN EFFECTIVE TONIC.

Veronica laughed. It was in such little talks as these that Cadrigan held a sympathy which might have slipped. He possessed a bluff, boyish frankness that so often glosses and conceals the cold cunning.

"I've been wondering," said Veronica, "how much Mr. Gaillard may have lost by the sinking of his boat. There were his sketches and clothes and the roof that sheltered him, and maybe all his money. He can't live by his cat, like Dick Whittington."

Cadrigan's forehead knit under the thick, close cropped hair that grew down on it.

"That is so. It may have left him flat. I should not pick him for a provident lad. And if he is on the beach, he may find means to billet himself on the professor indefinitely. He has got to make a home for the cat. As a poet, I should say he was a dub, though not qualified to judge myself, but his pictures are pleasing. I was talking last evenin' to our neighbor, Mrs. Tait, and told her about him. She seemed to think she would like a sketch of her new house and grounds. I wonder now if we could not shift him over there. An order might give him the grubstake to move on."

"Why don't you like Professor Husted, Luigi?"

"You might get it confirmed," said Veronica, "and then go over and tell him about it and offer to lend him some clothes. I feel as if we ought to do something."

"My rig would fit him like a sentry box, but he might make shift with a golf outfit. Tell Luigi to see what he can dig out. Perhaps, as you say, we are in some degree responsible. You can go yourself. I do not hit it off with the professor. But take care you do not get too interested in this glib young man. I know the breed. Smooth as oil, with always an eye liftin' to the canary cage. He would make a mouthful of a prettty bird like you."

Veronica gave him a scornful look. "The feathers would choke him."

"Let us hope he may never get that far. Turn him over to Mrs. Tait. A widow in the thirties knows what to do with young poets. One more foot to add to her collection might make the set complete. Perhaps it may keep them both out of mischief, or at the least different sorts of mischief. Oil is a good thing with which to fight fire when one is heavily insured. She might get him more orders—or keep him under hers. When a lad is presentable and has an eye on the main chance, he can jimmy his way into anything with a paint brush or a pencil."

This subtle delineation of personality was an effective tonic to Veronica, as Cadrigan had craftily intended it to be. He knew she had some experience of fortune hunting adventurers and an abomination of their cult. She had encountered them on ocean liners and at places of resort. But she had scarcely any money in her own right. Cadrigan, though generous, had settled nothing on his wife, and the estate of Count di Corsoli was a name rather than an actuality. The Italian nobility is one of the few given to the making of love matches. Veronica might one day inherit from Cadrigan, richly if he did not marry again, for he was at odds with his relatives. He had acquired a certain culture that they had not, principally through an occupation that was grandiose and brought him in contact with cultured people. He was quick to learn, and he possessed for architecture and furnishing and the broad embellishment of handsome estates a knowledge that was combined with natural taste.

It must be remembered, also that Cadrigan's immediate forebears had been merely a social and financial lapse in a line of Irish lesser nobility, so that he was actually entitled to his gifts. The money struggle of three generations had proved a tempering process. Cadrigan's education had been fragmentary. He was a college man, but his academic course had been scarcely more than a series of athletic events and triumphs, his studies merely enough to get him a degree

He now left Veronica, who found herself suddenly facing an embarrassing situation of her own making. This was another subtlety of Cadrigan's. He never clashed with his step-daughter. When he disapproved a course of hers he encouraged it; then found means to show it to her from its most distasteful angle, made of it an obligation that immediately became in the nature of a nuisance. This had had a great deal to do with the limitations of her social life. Cadrigan could take the pleasure out of a proposed event in kindly guise, but as effectually as seasickness on a gay yachting party.

So that now Veronica found the position of Pol and his predicament stripped of its romance and thrust upon her rather in the light of a stray ingratiating cat she had befriended, brought home, and was now required to provide for. She did not want to carry clothes and counsel to him, nor serve as marraine for his introduction to a neighbor. Veronica knew this neighbor, Mrs. Tate, fairly well, and liked her.

For a moment she was tempted to leave the relief of Pol's immediate needs to Luigi, and have him take over such things as the man servant might see fit. But intuition told her that such procedure would be almost certain to be met with the polite return of them with thanks, and Veronica felt really sorry for Pol and desired to be of service to him. She had no idea at all of what his resources might or might not be, whether he was well off or well connected, or the reverse. In either case, it would be several days before he could equip himself. It was, therefore, rather shamefacedly that she explained the situation to Luigi and asked him to overhaul her step-father's wardrobe to see what could be done. The Italian man servant was frank in his disapproval of Veronica's involving herself in the affair.

"What you know about this feller?" he demanded.

"Why, that he's an artist who's got into this fix through my fault," she answered sharply.

"How your fault? You don't tell him to come here?"

"We called on him, and I asked him to go with me to see the professor, and it was while we were there that they sank his boat and painted these daggers. What do you think of these threats, Luigi?"

"I think they are a lot of bums. Try to frighten everybody."

"How about the way you tried to scare me yesterday?"

"That's different. They don't try to threaten you."

"Why don't you like Professor Husted, Luigi?"

"Never you mind," his voice was husky. "I see what I find," and he left the room more quickly than was his wont.

Veronica pondered this. She had never been able to understand what struck her as a curious combination of aversion and something like dread with which Luigi seemed to regard Professor Husted. Sometimes she felt vaguely that Cadrigan shared in this, but her instinct told her that the professor was precisely what he appeared to be, a kindly but determined recluse, intellectual, benevolent beneath his stern aloofness from his kind, and with an unsuspected sense of satirical, but not unpleasant, humor. Veronica could not believe he had ever been insane. She was inclined to think he had gone to the retreat voluntarily for rest and quiet and to be rid of the annoyance of being reputed "cracked," and had then stayed on there because he liked it, indifferent to the vagaries of its inmates, whom he may have regarded, in a sort of contempt of the world at large and his malicious, narrow minded neighbors in particular, as quite as sane as they and in some respects far less objectionable.

The sole obliquity observed about him there and that which established the director's diagnosis of his mental derangement had been the professor's apparent belief that he was serving a voluntary penance for some sort of criminal offense committed in a moment of uncontrolled passion. This theory was not the result of any confession, nor in answer to subtle attempts at questioning. The professor had spent a great deal of his time in the writing of reams and reams of curious poetry, a sort of religious epic of the Old Testament. He had kept the manuscript locked in his old hide trunk, and in the hope of getting some clew to his derangement, a key had been fitted and the manuscript examined in his absence. This had not shown a great deal, except for certain passages that were in a veiled way self-denunciatory and that frequently reiterated the moral obligation of the writer to a term of self-inflicted duress.

Here's Thriller Well Filmed, Better Acted

"Sporting Venus" Offers Public Good Romance.

Produced by Metro-Goldwyn.
Directed by Marshall Neilan.
Presented at the Chicago Theater.
THE CAST:

|---|---|
| Lady Gwendolyn Grayle | Blanche Sweet |
| Donald MacAllan | Ronald Colman |
| Prince Carlos | Lew Cody |
| Countess Van Alstyne | Josephine Crowell |
| Lord Alfred Grayle | Edward Martindel |
| Housekeeper | Kate Price |
| Valet | Hank Mann |
| Donald's Father | George Fawcett |

By Mae Tinée.

Good morning!

We usually learn about race horses from Gerald Beaumont, but he chose a different subject when he took his pen in hand to write this story, and "The Sporting Venus" is a lady of high degree.

They've tried awfully hard to please you in this picture, my movie fans. Money has flowed like water on sets, scenery, and the gowns that Blanche Sweet wears—and, incidentally, wears beautifully. The cast is a choice, hand picked one.

There's Ronald Colman to be dark, handsome, and sorrowful for you—"that's the way you women like 'em—dark and sorrowful"—a medium colored male said sourly to me recently. There's Lew Cody to villain esthetically as only Cody can. There's Blanche Sweet, exquisite and appealing; George Fawcett to bark; Josephine Crowell to clown; Edward Martindel to furnish a dignified front; Kate Price to housekeep motherly, and Hank Mann, recently of the comedies, to valet shrewdly for his creditor beset master, the villain.

The story is of a certain Lady Gwendolyn, last of the sporting Grayles.

She loves tenderly a poor medical student, forbidden her society because he has no title. When he goes to war she promises to be true to him—and is. Upon his return, however, a certain Prince Carlos, ambitious to win the Grayle riches to retrieve his fallen fortunes, makes him believe that Lady Gwendolyn is faithless.

Heartbroken, he neglects to get the lady's side of the story. He becomes a famous surgeon, while Lady Gwen plunges into reckless gayeties and, as "The Sporting Venus," squanders money and health. In her wretched state of mind she agrees to marry the prince.

The discovery that her fiancé is an impostor is too much for her overburdened nerves. She has a breakdown. Poverty faces her and she is forced to sell the Grayle castle in Scotland. She doesn't know who is to buy it and doesn't care. MacAllan is the purchaser and establishes himself in the stately dwelling where for years generations of Grayles have lived.

Returning to the neighborhood from the resort where she has been endeavoring to pull herself together she finds the cabin once occupied by MacAllan and his father vacant and, with the faithful housekeeper of Glad Grayle days, takes possession.

It isn't long before she's sicker than ever. A fit of delirium, in which she calls frantically for the man she loves, results in bringing the two together again. Happy ending.

If you're looking for a gorgeous and romantic movie—this am it.

CLOSEUPS

Not being able to find a satisfactory swamp for "Scraps," Mary Pickford's picture to follow "Little Annie Rooney," a four acre one is now being made on the Pickford lot.

"The Winner" may be the title of Charles Ray's picture to follow "Some Punkins." That's the name they're starting out with, anyway. It will be a rural comedy drama.

"Tales of Hoffmann" Merry Show at Ravinia.

BY MARTIN STEVERS.

If "The Tales of Hoffmann" is considered a rather light entertainment by some, it is because such critics do not know what can be done with it by a fun loving company, when playing in intimate surroundings. Ravinia, however, has both the company and surroundings. The company last night, by pitching its performance upon exactly the right plane of farce, with flashes of drama when needed, brought out the full possibilities in the score. The result was an evening's entertainment as joyous as one could ask.

To add distinction to the occasion, it was made the vehicle for Helen Freund's Ravina debut, and for introducing Lucrezia Bori's two Hoffmann rôles to music lovers. Miss Freund's appearance was in the rôle of Olympia, the mechanical doll, with which Hoffmann falls in love in the first of his three adventures. To some this might seem a disadvantage, since vocally the rôle, after one delightful bit, is limited to singing "Oui" when pressed on the shoulder. But this did not keep Miss Freund from revealing talents of the most delightful quality. In addition to possessing a charming voice for the part, she has the personality and stagecraft to act the rôle delightfully.

Miss Bori's two rôles were what one might expect from such a talented artist. She rested her performance of "Giulietta" somewhat on her radiant charm of personality, save for her spirited part in the barcarolle, but her Antonia revealed her vocal powers to the full.

The part of "Hoffmann," the romantic poet whose three adventures in love form the burden of the opera, fell to Armand Tokatyan. His performance at the start was a bit more reserved than that of the old players, but once the first calamitous adventure was out of the way, and his cynicism had justification, he fitted the spirit of the performance exactly.

Among the supporting rôles Rothier did especially notable work as "Dapertutto" and "Dr. Miracle." The remaining rôles were handled in full keeping with the spirit of the evening, with Bourskaya as "Nicklausse," De Frere as "Spalanzanni," d'Angelo as "Schlemil" and "Crespel," and Paltrinieri in the comic tenor rôles.

The Inquiring Reporter

Every Day He Asks Five Persons, Picked at Random, a Question.

The Tribune will pay $5 for each question accepted for the Inquiring Reporter to ask. Send name and address with your question to "Inquiring Reporter," Chicago Tribune. For today's question, Mrs. E. A. Ryder, 5122 West 22d place, Chicago, was awarded $5.

The Question.

On your vacation trips do you prefer traveling by train, auto or boat?

Where Asked.

Superior street at State.

The Answers.

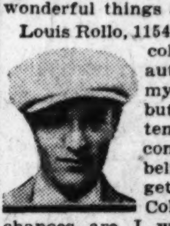
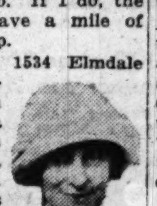
Mrs. Minnie Klager, 4235 Roscoe street, housewife — A boat for mine every time, little or big, and for short or long trips. Auto trips are tiresome, that is, the long trips. The same with trains. Boats are smooth sailing, most of the time, quiet always, and soothing and restful.

John Needham, 531 Rush street, navigation inspector — By boat. I usually prefer to spend my vacations in and around Chicago — no better summer resort in the world — and on these occasions I thoroughly enjoy indulging in the solid comfort of a satisfying trip to some point on Lake Michigan and back again.

Mrs. Thelma Chester, 403 North State street, magician —The auto, when some of my friends are good enough to take us along with them. My husband and I deeply appreciate those trips, for an auto goes into the out-of-the-way places, into the places where the really wonderful things are.



Louis Rollo, 1154 West Grand avenue, college student — The auto. I have only had my auto a few months, but I have already gotten pretty far into Wisconsin. This summer I believe I'll attempt to get out west as far as Colorado. If I do, the chances are I will have a mile of camera films to develop.



Miss Lillian Weiss, 1534 Elmdale street, stenographer — The auto, judging from our experience on a trip through Wisconsin and northern Michigan, and other shorter trips. On trains one travels by night as well as day. We can't see anything at night. Autos go through the attractive ravines and the pretty little nooks.

THEATER

Miss Shirley Warde, acting here in "The Cat and the Canary," and Philip R. Davis, of the Chicago Bar, state that they have written a play named "When the Woman Laughed." . . . Mr. Davis is further identifiable as the writer of verse and things signed Philardee.

And the management of the "The Cat and the Canary" is of the belief that what Chicago needs is a Sunday matinée; so, that play is acted Sunday at 3:00 o'clock in the Central.

Miss Claiborne Foster, there for weeks and weeks and weeks last season in "Applesauce," is returning to the La Salle August 14 to perform in "The Patsy," by Barry Conners. . . . So far as I'm able to judge from what I've read about the play in its try-out, it is Cinderella stuff; — and, as we used to say when we desired to be fierce in our approval, that's the stuff!

"The Fatal Blonde" is the name of a new song-piece, with words by George Marion jr. and music by Werner Janssen. . . . And the title brings to mind another title which I thought one of the best ever attached to a song-piece—"The Blonde in Black": Miss Blanche Ring was the star of it for its trief existence. The trouble was that the title was attached to the wrong song-piece.

And George Marion the elder is mentioned as the star of a play named "The Golden Love," by Alan Davis, who, so far as I know, has yet to have a play acted.

"Jane, Our Stranger," one of Mary Borden's novels, has been dramatized; and, so far as I may discern from the meagre information provided, the play is by the author, herself.

"The Makropolos Secret," by one of the two Capek brothers who wrote "R. U. R.," is said to be in preparation for acting in New-York. . . . Another play by that brother, "The World We Live In," and usually referred to in print as the Insect Comedy, had the heavy thinkers fluttering when given in New-York; but the American importer, Mr. Brady, cannily sent the impedimenta to the storehouse after deeply pondering the chances of loss if he brought the play to Chicago.

Miss Janet Beecher, once of here, is to be in "The Five-o'Clock Man," the comedy from the French which for a time was considered as just the thing for Miss Mabel Normand, who, as has been stated, is about to do some performing on the stage. When (or if) she does, it will be in something from the German now named "Diana of the Movies." . . . Arthur Byron will be in "The Five-o'Clock Man" with Miss Beecher.

"Bed and Board" is the name of one of the new plays, signed by Michael Kalleser and Miss Barbara Chambers, strangers both to this department of THE TRIBUNE.

Miss Rambeau, who is to have another chance to do something in the title-part of Lengyel's Hungarian comedy named "Antonia," will try it out with a Rochester (N.-Y.) weekly-change "stock." . . . The same company is to try out a piece named "The Shortest Way Home."

Bastille Day Finds French and Friends Celebrating Happily

Bastille day, the French anniversary corresponding to the American Fourth of July, was made the occasion of two celebrations in Chicago yesterday. Antonin Barthelemy, French counsul, was host during the morning for a reception at the rooms of the Alliance Francaise, in the Fine Arts building, to which members of French societies and all French people in the city were invited.

City Officials Buy Tickets for Big Benefit

The Time Is Tomorrow! Place—the Stadium!

Buy Them Today

Tickets for the Tribune-Shubert all star benefit performance, to be given tomorrow at 2:30 o'clock at the Grant Park stadium, may be purchased at $1 and at 50 cents each, at the Tribune's Public Service bureau, 11 South Dearborn street; in the rotunda of Tribune Tower; at the Princess, Apollo, Garrick, and Great Northern theaters, and at all Couthoui stands.

(Picture on back page.)

Eager to combine philanthropy with real pleasure, many Chicagoans hurried yesterday to obtain their tickets to the benefit performance to be given by leading players from four of the best favored plays in town.

With the splendid aid of Mrs. Anna M. O'Donohue, the "little mother of Cook county," who was asked by President Anton J. Cermak of the county board to lend a hand in selling tickets, the business of letting the people in on the charity-pleasure opportunity went on apace.

And there was Chief of Police Morgan A. Collins, who demanded $100 worth of tickets so that he and his family and a few of his friends may go. Other city officials joined in the rush to buy tickets.

But there are many tickets left, folks, and good ones, too, so you had better hie yourself to the nearest ticket station and avail yourself of a goodly supply. The show—what with the dancing girls, the dramatists, the comedians, and the rest of them from "June Days," "Artists and Models," "Is Zat So?" and "The Student Prince"—is well worth the time and price of any man, woman, or child.

Here is the program:

1. "Drinking Song," from "The Student Prince" .......... Male Chorus
2. "Irish Ballads" .......... Walter McNally of "The Student Prince"
3. "Tintina," from "Artists and Models" .......... Lucita Covera, Dave Seed and chorus
4. A scene of nonsense from "June Days" .......... Jay C. Flippen
5. "How Do You Doodle Do?" from "June Days" .. Roy Royston, Elizabeth Hines, Berta Donn, and George Dobbs.
6. "Deep in My Heart," from "The Student Prince" .......... Halfred Young, Olga Cook
7. The "Rose Ballet," from "Artists' Models."
8. "Naughty Little Step," from "June Days" ..... Jay C. Flippen and chorus
9. Specialty dance from "Artists and Models" .......... Ewing Eaton
10. "Behind My Lady's Fan" .......... Chorus
11. Popular songs from "Artists and Models" .......... Lillian Roth
12. Prize fight scene from "Is Zat So?" Charlotte Learn, Anne Winston, Richard Taber, and Ernest Lambart
13. Broadway entertainers, jazz band from "Artists and Models."
14. "A Busy Evening," from "June Days" .......... Roy Royston, George Dobbs and chorus
15. "Serenade," from "The Student Prince" .......... Male Chorus

To get back to Mrs. O'Donohue. She earned the title, the "Little Mother of Cook County," just a little while after Mr. Cermak appointed her to take on her shoulders the troubles of the hundreds of poor who apply for aid at county institutions. She always is helping the children, always finding food for poor families, always finding jobs for worthy men.

Yesterday, with the help of a few prominent clubwomen, Mrs. O'Donohue disposed of more than 500 tickets.

"It's a good cause," she said. "Everybody wants to see the show and to help The Tribune's Camp Algonquin and the Ice funds. We tell them how every penny of the receipts is going to be divided, half to take the mothers and children to enjoy two weeks out in the country, and half to buy ice for the needy homes."

Then she took another big batch of tickets.

Chief Collins' $100 order came in about the same time that John J. Sloan, president of the board of local improvements, purchased 50 tickets, distributed them to that many of his girl employés, and gave them the afternoon off tomorrow from 2:30 on to go see the show.

John M. Kelly, secretary to Mayor Dever, couldn't resist the chance to do his bit, and so he dug down for a $5 bill and took ten of the 50 cent tickets. Then there were these others who bought tickets:

Corporation Counsel Francis X. Busch, $3; Col. A. A. Sprague, $25; Michael L. Igoe, $10; Arthur F. O'Brien, $5; John D. Hayes, $5.

Both Be Tolerant, Then Happy, Too, Advice to Married

BY DORIS BLAKE.

Remember my asking a week or so ago if a fiancé had the right to dictate how his sweetheart should dress? The question revolved around a young woman's objection to her fiancé's disapproval of the length of her skirts. She complained that he wanted her to appear old fashioned in ankle length dresses.

For the benefit of this fiancé in particular, and fiancés in general, a husband and a daddy of long standing writes: "That girl's fiancé has taken on a large contract even to assume he can regulate woman's dress by request, demand or command. And why should he? Has not his future wife wishes and desires to be respected by him? The question in my mind is: 'Does he really believe in the very thing he wishes to impose on the one woman in the world for him?' I think not. Does he really want her to appear, as she says, somewhat of a back number? If so, he is making a great mistake and plenty of trouble for the future.

"What is more pleasing to the eye than a woman fashionably attired? My greatest happiness in life is to see my beloved wife dress fashionably regardless of what the fashion may be [that is, whether it has my approval or not]. In fact, I insist that that very insistence has spelled most happiness for us both. She wears them short, has bobbed hair and uses a little rouge, and a more faithful, devoted and loving mother and wife does not exist.

"Good women are the most reasonable souls on earth, and here's some good advice to fiancés from a 'resigned martyr—not.'

"Most of life's pleasures are derived from optical illusions. Thus, if a portion of woman's pleasure is fads, or styles, I say to her, follow them, and to the young man I say, don't try to override the innocent pleasure by objections. Life is short, at best; so short, in fact, that time should not be wasted on trivial objections about the length of a skirt, whether stockings are rolled or supported, whether rouge is applied or not. These things don't make the real woman any more than the kind of hat she wears. I'll take that back to this extent—keeping up with the fashions is keeping her mentally alive and making her a happier companion. You've read enough, yourself, about the men who divorce women because they have let themselves run to seed. I would be deeply grieved if I thought my wife was not admired by other men and women, wouldn't you. Sure you would!"

"Are we a foolish old couple? Look in on us some day. Any day is all the same with us. We found the key to happiness by fully respecting the desires and wishes of each other."

DORIS BLAKE ANSWERS

Nothing to Do.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am in love. At one time he was attentive, but of late his affection has changed a bit. How can I win him back? PUG."

Apparently you have lost your appeal for him and nothing you can do will revive it. Rather use that same effort in conquering in a new field.

"Dear Miss Blake: I am going with a fellow whom I think does not like me because he has never asked me for steady company. Would you advise me to drop him or keep on going with him? BOBBY."

Can't you be good friends, Bobby? He has shown you that is what he wishes. He doesn't monopolize your time, so you haven't any reason to criticize him.

A FRIEND IN NEED

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Beyond Her Means.

"Has some mother a stroller and baby walker, no longer in use? I am taking care of my sister's baby while she is in a tuberculosis sanitarium. It is impossible for me to buy the things the baby needs, so I would greatly appreciate the kindness, if some reader can give them. W. B."

In the summer time a stroller is a real comfort to those who have small children. We hope this kind hearted aunt will receive one for her little niece.

For a Girl Scout.

"I have a Girl Scout suit, with hat, belt, and tie, to give to some girl who needs one. The suit is size 14. Do you know of some scout who cannot afford to buy an outfit? E. W."

Perhaps you would like to be a Girl Scout but cannot afford to buy the suit necessary, or perhaps you are already a scout, but have not the regulation dress. In either case we shall be glad to hear from you if this outfit is your size.

MEN'S FASHIONS

BY A. T. GALLICO.

Stop! Look! Listen!

ON BOARD S. S. AQUITANIA.—[Special Correspondence.]—Dropping into the smoking room of the Aquitania one morning of my voyage, I noticed a man wearing a glenurquhart checked suit, not unusual in itself, for this is a suiting that is fast becoming popular, and there are a number of them on board. But in this particular instance the suit was especially noticeable, for the man was making a great mistake in the accessories he had chosen to wear with it.

Therefore, I take this occasion to preach a little sermon on the subject, just in case some of my readers have invested in such a suit, or are planning to do so.

With a checked suit like this go easy on the pattern in shirt, tie, handkerchief, etc. The suit is one of such decided pattern that it demands a plainer treatment than does a suit of plain coloring, or at best a pencil stripe.

As you can see from the illustration, the man in question on the boat wore with this suit—which, by the way, was one of the brown and white glenurquharts—a striped shirt of decided pattern in blue and white, a striped tie of brown and tan and white, and a fancy printed silk handkerchief in the breast pocket.

This was too much. The shirt and tie, both attractive in themselves, lost the charm of their individual effect in the general confusion of pattern. Better if the man wore a plain colored or white shirt, neatly patterned tie, and plain handkerchief.

TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

BY JANE EDDINGTON.

Raspberry Specialties.

When powdered sugar is judiciously used with them, raspberries may be used as the filling for a real company omelet. The particular item exploited each summer in this column has been a raspberry, peach and banana salad, but for a change let us try some of the following list of raspberry flavored sweets, which are part of what appeared a year or two back in "The International Confectioner" as suitable for the soda fountain, but can be served at the home quite well and interestingly, especially by those people who are looking for the unique.

Little Maiden's Delight.—Fill a fancy stem glass about two-thirds full with vanilla ice cream; add a ladle of fresh crushed raspberries; then fill with whipped cream and top with a few whole berries. (This will be more elegant if the berries are not only crushed but sieved, quite elegant, indeed.)

Raspberry Cream Island Sundae.—Fill a sundae cup with ice cream, hollow out the center, and fill it with crushed raspberries; in the center of the fruit put a spoonful of stiff whipped cream.

Raspberry Nut Sponge.—On a fancy plate place a cut of good sponge cake; on this put a portion of vanilla ice cream; over this pour a ladle of fresh crushed raspberries; then a ladle of of whipped cream followed by a generous sprinkling of chopped nut meats.

We may reasonably object to the nut meats with raspberries, but sponge cake and cream and raspberries, even when the cream is a cooked one or what we call pastry cream, do make an attractive combination. A whole round cake may be hollowed out, cooked cream filled in while it is a bit warm so it will soak in somewhat, then raspberries added, and finally a topping of whipped cream.

The rest of this recipe calls for a cherry, but this can reasonably be objected to.

Outdoor Movies Planned.

Outdoor moving pictures will be shown at the Franklin park playgrounds, West 14th street and Kildare avenue, every Thursday evening, according to an announcement made yesterday by the West Park commissioners. Several sets of reels were obtained by factories in the neighborhod.

BEAUTY ANSWERS

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

E. R. J.: MANY OF THE THICK ankles seen today are the result of improper footwear. Girls who turn their ankles will continue to wear high heels, but this repeated turning thickens the ligaments, and in time the ankles are enlarged. Shoes which give support to the ankles should be worn. It would be well worth it to go to a reliable shoe store and have yourself properly fitted. Then, too, I have some exercises which will be helpful. Send a stamped, addressed envelope and I'll forward them to you.

MRS. T. V.: FOR THOSE WHO are no longer young the safest way to reduce is by dieting, placing the main reliance on dietic regulation rather than upon exercises. Walking, swimming, and golf are advised, with the precaution that only a moderate amount of exercise should be taken, but be persistent in adhering strictly to a proper diet. If you wish diets send a stamped, addressed envelope, repeating your request.

MAE: FOR ONE IN BUSINESS who sits almost all the time during the day it would be well to spend as much of the noon hour in the open air as possible; also, to walk part of the way to and from work. This should stop the headaches. It is also important to have eight hours' sleep every night.

Sitting Correctly Helps to Avoid That Sagging Chin Line

by Antoinette Donnelly

Isabel exclaims with more force than elegance: "Gosh, I wish I could sit down in a chair the way Margaret does! She sort of glides down. I flop. I sprawl while she is all in one elegant piece. How do you accomplish that charming trick?"

Some women go into a chair and out of it with perfect grace. Others are just a bit more ungraceful arising than they are "planking" themselves down.

They say 'tis a sign you are growing in pounds and years when you can't lift yourself out of a chair without aid of your hands and the chair's arms! You should be able to arise in one movement, alighting evenly on soles and heels. If you can do that you have youth in your springs. If you can't, you need oiling up.

But to get back to how to go down gracefully. First, you have to learn not to sit on the base of the spine with the shoulders rounded, the chest narrowed, the lungs cramped and the abdomen thrust forward.

Having gotten over these bad habits, when about to sit down, stand in an easy, correct position with the spine held straight and the head carried as a head was intended to be carried—up and dignified-like. Lower the body to the chair easily by flexing the knees, keeping the head in erect position. Better try practicing this in the seclusion of your boudoir until you become so skilled there will be no stiffness in the movement. Instead of sitting with the end of the spine forward on the chair, brace the lower part of the spine against the back of the chair, hold the chest up and let the shoulders fall naturally in place. Sit back on the chair so it supports the thighs as well.

You'd be surprised if you knew how many double chins happen through the habit of sitting with the body crouched down. The head flops on the neck and when the muscles become too lazy to hold it up they just invite that ridge and sagging chin line that never did any face any good.

Aside from the admiration a graceful sitter draws forth, she is really more refreshed in that she holds her chest up and allows herself to breathe properly. If you have a long railroad or motor journey to sit through, the correct sitting position will save your spine jars from the vibration.

How you can double the rich flavor of your foods!

IN EVERY food there lies a rich mine of flavor you never taste. It needs an outside agent to bring it to your ken.

One of these agents is pure mustard. Gulden's Mustard develops the full, piquant flavor of food. Good housewives put it in sauces and gravies; they use it to give a dash to vegetables; they serve it with hot meats.

It doubles your enjoyment of foods.

Lake Forest Thrills, Laughs Over Its Own Wills vs. Lenglen Play

BY NANCY R——.

Have you heard about the great championship tennis match that went on out at Shore Acres last Sunday afternoon? Lake Forest folk are still chuckling over it as being one of the most amusing stunts the summer has yet produced.

A rumor started about the town that Helen Wills was to play on the snappy tennis court—one of them—during the afternoon, and consequently a great gallery gathered to watch. No one seemed quite sure just whom she was to play, but there the rumor was, and no one wanted to miss her.

There were a few who had been let in on the joke, but they bided their time and added fuel to the flame by pretending that any minute the youthful tennis star would appear.

Suddenly an impressive procession arose on the horizon and paraded out to the tennis courts—a pair of large and buxom figures dressed in feminine tennis togs, with a complete set of flag bearers in attendance. Behind the first figure waved the American flag, and behind the other the fleur de lis of France. As the two players turned to greet the gallery their identity was disclosed. "Helen Wills" was none other than Donald Ryerson, and his (or ought I to say her?) opponent, Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, proved to be Dave Thompson!

Then to the delight of the surprised but not at all disappointed onlookers they staged a tennis battle, a short skirted, brawny armed championship match that kept their audience in gales of laughter and one that still provides conversation and roars of mirth whenever the subject of tennis arises.

Sally Brown Picks Kids Tomorrow to See "Sally of the Sawdust"

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Today's your last chance, girls and boys, to win an invitation to my big movie party on Thursday, July 23, at the Roosevelt theater! I pick the hundred winners tomorrow morning, so your letter must be in the mail by this afternoon, if you want to see the "Sally of the Sawdust" picture as my guests!

Carol Dempster will be Sally and W. C. Fields is the beloved scamp who protects the orphan girl in her wandering circus life—

As I said, I select my hundred guests tomorrow—so your letter must be in the mail tonight to reach me in time to be considered!

All you have to do is to tell me why you'd like to see this great picture—send your letter on to me immediately—then you'll have a splendid chance to be among the lucky hundred.

Just to show you how easy it will be, I'm printing a letter from Hazel F. that won an invitation:

"Dear Sally Joy Brown:

"Nothing could make me happier than to receive an invitation to your next wonderful outing. The thing that I enjoy most is a circus, and to see one in the movies, to me, is just as thrilling and exciting as one in real life. D. W. Griffith always has such splendid pictures and even the name 'Sally of the Sawdust' is so attractive. I couldn't begin to express my joy if my letter was chosen and I will be waiting, oh! so anxiously, to see if I am among the lucky one hundred."

Fay J. is a winner, too.

"Dear Sally Joy Brown:

"For the last few weeks I have noticed the billboards advertising D. W. Griffith's new picture, 'Sally of the Sawdust,' and all the time I have been wishing I could see it.

"Today I read all about your coming party and I was determined I should try hard to win an invitation to this theater party.

"I know I would enjoy this picture because it is about the circus, the thing I most enjoy. The acrobatic stunts thrill me, the tricks the trained animals do, seem almost unbelievable, and the clowns give me a streak of laughter. All this in a picture would make it wonderful, and more wonderful because it is a Griffith picture.

"Dear Miss Brown:

"For me it is simplicity itself to answer the question you ask this week. Any picture being shown at the Roosevelt is a source of clean enjoyment, and when that picture is directed by Griffith, what can I say but that I desire even more so to see it. And why do I like Griffith's pictures? For the very reason that he is popular, and that is because his pictures are based on themes which are clearly understandable to young and old alike. Then, too, he combines pathos so well with humor that behind each smile he leaves a tear. Griffith's pictures are unforgettable, for they leave upon the mind the impression of having seen something beautiful.

"These reasons, and Carol Dempster's presence in the picture, make me wish to be one of the winners, who will have it all over the winners of last week because they are going to see a circus and a movie all at the same time."

Robert C. is another winner:

"Dear Sally:

"I knew that you would have 'Sally of the Sawdust' on one of your parties, because you always have the very best. D. W. Griffith is by far the best producer and his films rate above all the others. I have two favorites that I don't know which I like best: War and circus films.

"I sure would have a wonderful time seeing the two Sallys. Hoping I am one of the lucky hundred."

Elks to Meet Here in 1926; Great Growth Shown

Portland, Ore., July 14.—(AP)—The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, in convention here at the sixty-first annual reunion of the grand lodge, decided that welfare work of the order should be continued as at present by individual lodges or state associations. Chicago was selected for next year's convention. The membership of the order is 832,085, against 384,742 in 1912. William Hatwell, United States judge in northern district of Texas, was elected grand exalted ruler.

Social Service Experts Plan United Efforts to Aid Unfortunates

An early consolidation of all social service organizations in Cook county into one central bureau was promised by President Anton J. Cermak of the county board yesterday, following the appointment of a committee to study plans.

Representatives of social service, educational and charitable agencies were included on the committee in a resolution adopted by the board. President Cermak and five county commissioners also are committee members.

The one main bureau will eliminate duplication of social work by the different agencies and will establish a higher standard of service in charitable and educational work, advocates of the new system declared.

The poor of the city will be benefited vastly, Mr. Cermak declared. He predicted a 20 per cent increase in the efficiency of county social work.

Following are the committee members:

Clifford W. Barnes,
Henry A. Berger,
Miss Jessie Binford,
Mrs. G. H. Britton,
Miss S. P. Breckenridge,
E. W. Burgess,
Louis M. Cahn,
Thomas D. Eliot,
W. T. Fisher,
Miss E. L. Foley,
A. T. Foster,
Joel D. Hunter,
J. L. Jacobs,
J. F. Kennedy,
The Rev. Moses E. Kiley,
John A. Lapp,
Ferris F. Laune,
Frank D. Loomis,
Harry L. Lurie,
Miss Mary A. McDowell,
Miss R. L. McHugh,
Mrs. E. Napieralski,
Wilfrid S. Reynolds,
Mrs. Adena M. Rich,
Miss Amelia Sears,
Miss H. E. Vittum,
W. G. Walling.

Mr. Cermak and Commissioners E. W. Bemis, Charles N. Goodnow, Tom Murray, Frederick W. Penfield and Emmett Whealan also are members of the committee.

Prof. Thomas D. Eliot of the sociology department of Northwestern university, has been elected president of the Social Service Club of Chicago, according to an announcement by Joel D. Hunter, general superintendent of the United Charities of Chicago. Last year Prof. Eliot acted as chairman of the club's program committee

Field Museum to Get Rare and New Plants

New York, July 14.—[Special.]—The Field museum of Chicago will profit from seven months' research work in South America by Dr. Francis W. Pennell, curator of plants at the Academy of Natural Sciences in Philadelphia.

Dr. Pennell returned today with 10,000 specimen plants which will be divided between the Field museum, the Arnold Arboretum at Harvard university, the New York Botanical Gardens and the Philadelphia academy.

"We spent April and May in southern Peru, in the forests near Arequipa and Cuzco," Dr. Pennell said. "The region is comparatively unknown, and a large number of plants new to science were discovered. June was spent in Central Peru."

Native of Palestine Talks to Methodists at Des Plaines Camp

The spirit of Palestine was brought yesterday to the Methodist ministers of the Rock River conference, attending the camp meeting at Des Plaines, when they were addressed by the Rev. Stephen A. Haboush, also a Methodist minister, who was born in Galilee, about 13 miles from Nazareth.

Harriette said, "Because she is too small a pattern." A. J. D.

Billy was deeply interested. "O, ma, I wisht some feller'd invent a permanent bath," he wailed. A. D. H.

Everything Fine, Until—

Bob and Betty, aged three and four, were to speak a piece together on Easter Sunday. Mother was so proud of them because they knew it so well. Everything was fine until Bob didn't agree with Betty about something she said, so they started to fight in front of the congregation.

Mother certainly didn't take long to get them out of the church. E. K.

Hard to Deceive.

It was when I was in the eighth grade that my embarrassing moment occurred. The English lesson for the day was especially hard, so I had not bothered to prepare it. Several of the girls explained to me that if I pretended to have the nosebleed, Miss Smith would excuse me. I thought there could be no harm in trying, if by doing so I avoided reciting.

Not knowing the teacher was in an ugly mood from being out late the previous night, I approached her desk, with a handkerchief held to my nose, and tried to appear sick, when I asked if I might be excused. She looked at me so long that I believed my plan would go through O. K., when to my surprise and the amusement of the class, she jerked my hand away from my face and fairly bellowed. "You haven't got the nosebleed. Take your seat!"

I wasn't called on for a recitation, but the rest of that period I went through agony that cannot be described in words. M. L.

Salvation Army Picnic.

WOLBACH BUYS CORNER ON NEW PARKWAY PLAZA

BY AL CHASE.

Murray Wolbach yesterday celebrated the opening of South parkway a day in advance by buying 100 feet of frontage on the big plaza at the intersection of the new boulevard and 23d street. He paid $80,000, according to the Bowes Realty company.

The property is only forty-seven feet deep, and was purchased from C. C. Chickering. It is at the northwest corner of South parkway and 23d. The price of $17 per square foot is reported to be a record for the south central district.

To Build 43 Apartments.

Work starts tomorrow on a forty-three flat building at the northeast corner of Lawndale and Agatite by the Lawndale Court Apartment Building corporation, to cost a reported $327,500. Robert S. Strauss & Co. have underwritten a $195,000 loan at 6½ per cent.

Valentine Kachellek has bought the northeast corner of Kenilworth and Rogers, 202x235x122, from Daniel J. Schaffner, architect, for an indicated $31,900 and will erect a $200,000 building to contain thirty-one flats and six stores from plans by Mr. Schaffner. William B. Berger was attorney.

Hoefed Gets Another Corner.

Albert Hoefeld, loop haberdasher, has leased 35x47 feet of space on the first floor at the southwest corner of Clark and Madison from the Leiter estate for several years at an annual rental reported to be $45,000. He will use a major portion of the space for a men's furnishing shop and sublease the balance. Lindheimer & Wells were brokers.

The Jefferson Ice company has taken over the property of the Big Four Artificial Ice company at the northeast corner of Springfield and Cortland, 485x175, through Charles H. Fleischer & Co. A reported $308,500 was paid for the land, buildings and equipment. The plant has a capacity of 200 tons of ice a day.

Olga Byfield has bought the fifteen apartments at 5124-28 Dorchester from Miss Ellen M. Staal for an indicated $114,000, subject to $76,000. James J. Glassner was attorney for the buyer.

Dean, Onativia Co. May Resume Business Soon

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Dean, Onativia & Co., brokerage house, will be able to resume business at the end of this week or the first of next week, William Unger, counsel for the firm, announced today. Plans, which are now being worked out, he said, should permit the dismissal of bankruptcy proceedings in both New York and Chicago courts.

Receivers and attorneys for the brokers have outlined a trust agreement, under which slow assets of the firm, which tied up its capital, will be deposited with a trustee.

Although the New York Stock Exchange will not act on Dean, Onativia's application for reinstatement until next Monday, the firm will be permitted to transact business through other brokers before that date if it resumes operations.

Motor Bus Patronage Increases in Many Cities

Motor bus riding is increasing in Chicago, New York and St. Louis. President John A. Ritchie of the Omnibus corporation, which has subsidiaries in the three cities, reported that 20,625,350 more passengers were carried in the first half of this year than in the same period last year. Receipts up to July 1 were $7,658,352, an increase of nearly 37 per cent over the first half of 1924. Receipts for June were $1,553,491, a gain of 23 per cent over June last year.

PRODUCE MARKETS

Butter markets were firm all around, particularly in Chicago and in the east, with trading fair and low grades were picked up readily. Feeling in the cheese market was firm, with a better demand all around, both in Chicago and in the east.

Egg prices advanced ½c. The report on cold storage stocks showed 9,476,000 cases on hand July 1, compared with 7,712,000 cases June 1 and 8,885,000 cases July 1 last year. The July average is 8,800,000 cases.

Cold storage stocks of butter July 1 were 63,658,000 lbs, compared with 63,776,000 lbs as the July 1 average for 5 years and 74,184,000 lbs July 1 last year.

The live poultry market was firm, with hens, roosters, and spring chickens 1c higher. Receipts were 4 cars and 1,220 coops.

A firmer market was on for potatoes, with barreled stock 25 per cent higher and prices on sacked stock firmer. Receipts were 135 cars, with 237 cars on track.

A SALES increase 4½ times greater during the first 6 months of 1925 than during the same period of the preceding year proves us to be among the fastest growing and most progressive real estate bond houses in Chicago.

Among the reasons given for this enviable sales record for which we are both proud and grateful are these:

1. Our loans are made exclusively on choice Chicago business and residential properties, located in the Loop, Hyde Park and the Near North Side.
2. Shrewd investors realize that tremendous increases are taking place in properties in these fast-growing sections of Chicago today, and that still greater increases will come as Chicago grows.
3. Our organization is made up of Chicago men who are well known in the real estate bond business. Their counsel and advice regarding investments are highly regarded.

Thousands of investors in Continental First Mortgage Gold Bonds have helped build our organization and have made possible this huge sales record. We take this means of expressing to them our appreciation for their favorable reception of our safe, conservative bonds.

Reprinted from the first Balloon Tire Announcements

"You ride on a cushion of air."

"Ruts and bumps are smoothed out."

"The car and its occupants are protected from jolts and jars."

"Shocks are absorbed before they reach axles and springs."

"Save repairs."

Low-Air Pressure Is the Answer

The things that made them demand balloon tires.

Read them and then ask yourself how you can get them except in a tire that can be run at low enough air pressure to provide a soft air cushion between the car and the road.

Some car owners have been sold the balloon principle and then handed the name only.

The original ideal of the industry was a flexible side wall, low-pressure tire.

Yet today some "balloon" tires must be run at too high pressure for ideal cushioning, as they wear out too fast when they are run soft.

It is important to you as a car owner to remember this fact.

The United States Royal Balloon is spoken of as the "Balloon Tire Principle at its Best," because it can be run at low-air pressure without injury.

It is built of Latex-treated Web Cord which provides the necessary strength and flexibility.

It has the U. S. Low-Pressure Tread which wears slowly and evenly and eliminates early, uneven and unsightly wear.

Specify U. S. Royal Balloon Cords and be sure of true low pressure cushioning.

WHEAT ADVANCES 13c FROM RECENT BOTTOM PRICE

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

Crop news on wheat was more bullish and prices advanced to a new high level showing 13c above the low point three days ago, but reacted and closed ⅛c higher to ¼c lower for the day.

It was said the advance had gone too fast and traders were less disposed to follow it further. Other grains were stronger and higher during the morning, but reacted at the last and corn closed 1 to 1½c lower, oats off ⅛ to 1⅝c and rye 2½ to 3¼c lower. Provisions were unsettled with lard 10 to 15c lower and short ribs 12c lower for the day.

Many Black Rust Reports.

Black rust reports were more numerous covering the Red River valley, where the damage to the wheat crop is greatest. There is said to be damage in Manitoba and the Saskatchewan, but the greatest damage to the northwestern wheat crop has been in the past four days from extreme heat, blight, and drought. The situation in the northwest is best told by a message from the Northwestern Miller, received late in the day, which said:

"There is no rust damage of importance in the northwest, says" a wire from the Northwestern Miller.

Traders Change Views.

Reports from Alberta were of heat and of rain being needed. Traders who have been optimistic over the crop prospects are taking the reverse view of the situation at present and the market action reflects the change in sentiment. There was heavy general buying early, with an advance of 2½c to 3c after a break, with a jump to new high levels, September getting up to $1.55¾, the best on this turn, and with $1.53⅝ to $1.53⅞ at the close.

All the big commission houses were on the buying side during the morning. Traders were bearish when prices were 10c lower, who became active buyers during the advance.

Corn market acted independent of wheat at times, with commission houses who were recent heavy buyers appearing active sellers. Crop new from Kansas was more bullish, hot weather having damaged the crop. July was up to $1.08¼ and closed $1.06½. December closed at 89⅛c. Cash premiums were easier, although receipts were light.

Interest in oats was not heavy and prices declined sharply toward the last, but rallied slightly. There was no special news.

Rye was mostly neglected, with trading light and the market in no shape to stand any selling.

Provisions were under pressure from undersellers, despite the advance in hogs on the light receipts. Cash trade was fair, prices follow:

I. C. C. to Hold Rate Revision Hearing Here

Washington, D. C., July 14.—[Special.]—Pleas for rate reductions on farm products under the Hoch-Smith rate revision resolution and petitions of the carriers for increased rates in western territory will be taken up by the interstate commerce commission at Chicago on Sept. 1.

Issues raised by the petition of the western carriers for an increase in rates constitute a necessary and important part of the issues in the Hoch-Smith investigation, the commission said in explanation of its decision to assign the proceedings for joint hearing.

WOOL MARKETS.

LONDON, July 14. — A good selection, amounting to 11,054 bales, was offered at the wool auctions today. There was a steady sale of Merinos, which were unchanged. A large supply of crossbreds met with a slow demand and there were frequent withdrawals of medium and inferior grades.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

Foreigners were indifferent to the advances in wheat prices in the United States and Canada and export was only 250,000 bu. Little was done in coarse grains. Foreigners said to be indifferent to the advance in all grains.

Shipping sales of wheat in Chicago Tuesday were 88,000 bu; corn, 46,000 bu. and oats, 95,000 bu. Charters were for 120,000 bu each of wheat and corn to Buffalo. The rate on wheat from Chicago to Buffalo has been advanced 2c.

Deliveries on July contracts in Chicago yesterday were: Wheat, 10,000 bu; corn, 76,000 bu; oats, 157,000 bu; rye, 10,000 bu; lard, 1,200,000 lbs.

Wheat prices in Chicago were strong at 2c higher, and the basis on red winters was easier at 8c to 10c over for No. 1, and 7c to 9c for No. 2. No. 1 hard winter was 2½c to 3c, and No. 2 hard 1c to 2c over July. Receipts were 28 cars. Kansas City was unchanged to 1c higher, with receipts 180 cars, against 419 cars last year. St. Louis red 1c to 3c higher, with receipts 105 cars. Hard nominal. Omaha unchanged; receipts, 22 cars. Minneapolis firmer.

Corn prices in Chicago were unchanged to 2c higher, with receipts 26 cars, and the basis unchanged to 1c lower. Milwaukee, 1c to 2c lower. Omaha closed weak. St. Louis steady to 1c higher, with a good demand. Kansas City unchanged, with limited demand.

Oats in Chicago were steady to ½c higher; the receipts 30 cars. Kansas City unchanged. St. Louis steady to ½c lower. Omaha 1c lower. Milwaukee easier. Prices in leading markets follow:

The Class A Stock is issued without par value and has priority in liquidation or dissolution over the Class B Stock up to $33 per share.

The following information is summarized by Mr. Victor Emanuel, Vice-President, from his letter to us and from auditors' and appraisers' reports and other reliable sources:

BUSINESS AND PROPERTY: National Electric Power Company will own practically all of the common stocks of a diversified group of companies operating public utility properties located in the States of Maine, Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, South Dakota, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, serving with electric light and power territories with a total population estimated to exceed 775,000. These territories embrace over 300 communities, among which are a number of large and thriving manufacturing and agricultural centers. Gas is manufactured and/or distributed in seven of the communities served and the street railway system in and about Portland, Maine, is operated under a lease expiring in the year 2011. Small street railway systems are also operated in two of the other communities served.

CAPITALIZATION: Upon completion of present financing, National Electric Power Company will have outstanding:

|---|---|
| Twenty-Year 6% Secured Gold Bonds | $6,750,000 |
| 7% Cumulative Preferred Stock | 3,500,000 |
| Class A Stock (No Par Value) (this issue) | 140,000 shares |
| Class B Stock (No Par Value) | 280,000 shares |

As of April 30, 1925, there were outstanding in the hands of the public not exceeding 160 shares of No Par Value Common Stock, $1,999,000 Par Value Common Stock, $7,868,600 Par Value Preferred Stock and $27,095,000 Par Value Funded Debt of subsidiary and leased companies.

CONSOLIDATED EARNINGS: For the twelve months ended April 30, 1925, the Consolidated Earnings of the Subsidiaries, including those to be acquired, of National Electric Power Company, as determined by independent auditors, a copy of whose certificate is available upon request, were as follows:

|---|---|
| Gross Earnings | $10,127,307 |
| Operating Expenses, Maintenance, Taxes, including Federal Taxes, Amortization and Depreciation computed as defined in such auditors' certificate | 6,880,100 |
| Net Earnings | $ 3,247,207 |
| Balance of Net Earnings applicable to securities of Subsidiary Companies owned by National Electric Power Company, after deduction of interest charges and dividends paid or accrued during the period on funded debt and Preferred Stocks of Subsidiary Companies and Net Earnings applicable to Common Stocks of Subsidiary Companies held by the public | $ 1,473,712 |
| Annual interest charges on funded debt and dividends on Preferred Stock of National Electric Power Company | 650,000 |
| Balance | $ 823,712 |
| Annual dividend requirements on Class A Stock | $ 252,000 |

The balance of Net Earnings, as shown above, is at the rate of more than $5.88 per share on the Class A Stock to be presently outstanding.

DIVIDENDS: It is the intention of the Board of Directors to declare dividends on the Class A Stock at the rate of $1.80 per share per annum, for the quarter ending November 1, 1925.

ASSETS: As recently determined by public utility engineers and appraisers, the reproductive value, less accrued depreciation, of the properties of the operating companies, and those operated under lease, including working capital and cash to be provided, after deduction of all liabilities and prior obligations, is at the rate of approximately $39.00 per share of the Class A Stock. The Class A Stock will be followed by 280,000 shares of Class B Stock.

MANAGEMENT: The local management of the operating subsidiaries will continue in the hands of the men who have been responsible for the successful development of these properties, while their general operation will be under the supervision of public utility operators whose successful and efficient management of important public utility companies has been demonstrated over a long period of years.

All legal details in connection with this issue will be passed upon and approved by Messrs. Seibert & Riggs, New York, and by Messrs. Verrill, Hale, Booth & Ives, Portland, Maine. The principal properties have been reported upon by Messrs. Day & Zimmermann, Inc., Engineers, Philadelphia. The books and accounts of the Company and its Subsidiaries are audited annually by Messrs. Arthur Young & Co., New York.

This Stock is offered for delivery, when, as and if issued and accepted by us, and subject to approval of our counsel. It is expected that Temporary Certificates, exchangeable for Definitive Certificates when prepared, will be available for delivery about July 22, 1925.

NATIONAL BANK OF AUSTRIA

(OESTERREICHISCHE NATIONALBANK)

SURVEY OF ECONOMIC POSITION.

Budget and Currency Policy . . . Capital Requirements of Industry.

A fair appreciation of the general economic position in 1924 is impossible without a retrospective survey of the developments in 1923.

Following a plan drawn up at Geneva in October, 1922, the year 1923 showed a number of gratifying, even surprising, successes. The National Bank of Austria was able not only to carry out the principal task entrusted to it under the Statutes, namely, to maintain the gold parity of the currency without sacrificing any of its Note reserves, but was even in a position to quadruple its cash reserves. The improvement in the revenue and expenditure operations of the State administration made such rapid progress that already at the end of June, 1923, the Commissioner-General of the League of Nations was in a position to cease the regular release of funds out of the League of Nations Loan to the Treasury to meet current expenses, not including the requirements for foreign payments (especially the State Debt and tobacco monopoly).

FAVOURABLE FEATURES.

The inflation phase experienced by commerce and industry had passed, without, however, leading to stagnation. The number of unemployed had steadily and substantially decreased in the period from February to October, 1923, and the figures for the Trade Balance showing a steady rise in exports up to November, 1923, improved considerably. Savings deposits showed a most gratifying increase. Less satisfactory was the course of Index-numbers, showing a rising tendency, which persisted throughout, with strong fluctuations in wholesale and retail prices and negligible deviations in the cost of living Index. A specially favourable aspect of the economic situation presented itself to the observer through the exchange movements on the Bourse, in so far as the upward trend that had commenced at the end of 1922 continued, with only slight variations, until the autumn of 1923, and subsequently showed only an occasional standstill, or a slight weakening, up to the end of the year.

DIFFICULTIES OF RECONSTRUCTION.

The aforementioned favourable developments gave rise to exaggerated expectations in many quarters; the fact was sometimes overlooked that the financial and economic reconstruction of a new, artificially-created State such as Austria, overwhelmed with manifold financial burdens, forced by the new political conditions to seek to establish a new basis for its economic existence, cannot progress in a steady upward line but has to undergo many more or less critical setbacks. If, therefore, it was incautious and premature to regard the favourable course of events during 1923 as a guarantee of complete success in the task of reconstruction and to consider all difficulties as overcome, it is now equally wrong and detrimental to the progress of the reconstruction work if certain circles at home and abroad, who judge by the less favourable experiences in 1924, conclude that the reconstruction task is seriously endangered, or may even be entirely frustrated, leaving out of consideration the many positive achievements that have been attained and maintained in the most important spheres of our economic life in spite of the unfavourable conditions.

GENERAL RESULTS SATISFACTORY.

It cannot be denied that in many respects too rapid progress in 1923 was followed by a reaction last year; nevertheless the result on the whole is satisfactory. It only needs a backward glance at the hopeless situation in the summer of 1922 to appreciate what has been attained to cast out sterile pessimism and to value the fruits of productive work. But, perhaps, it is not even necessary to conjure the sad memories of that period; it will suffice to take an impartial and unprejudiced view of the events of 1924. Certainly the reaction that set in in 1924 is indisputable. The crisis on the Bourse in banking and credit cannot be denied; the full significance of the stagnation in trade and the resulting great unemployment must not be underrated. But, on the other hand, the brighter aspects presented by the economic situation, the Budget position and currency policy must also be taken into consideration.

In many spheres of our economic life very remarkable results have been achieved. The improvement of our water-power and electrical works is progressing satisfactorily, and the difficult task of removing the international and internal traffic restrictions is pursued with energy. The hope of a revival of trade and industry and the creation of more work depends in Austria, as elsewhere, largely on the final results of the endeavors to re-establish a free exchange of goods in the world markets.

TOBACCO AND CUSTOMS REVENUES.

With regard to the Budget and currency policy—to resume the interrupted thread of our introductory remarks—it must be stated in the first place that the position of the Treasury during the past year was such that regular releases from the loan funds or a general application of same for current expenses could be dispensed with. Special attention must be drawn to the exceedingly favorable development in the revenues from tobacco and customs; their yield in 1924 covers the requirements for the League of Nations loan service nearly four times over. The favorable results of these two and most other State revenues, especially the yield of the tax on business turnover, enabled the Finance Administration to reduce some taxes in 1924 that proved serious handicaps to trade, such as the currency turnover tax, to an extent that practically means abolishment, and to consider a number of taxation reforms.

STATE FINANCE ADMINISTRATION.

The results of the State finance administration in 1924 were more satisfactory than anticipated by the Geneva Reform plan, which is clearly indicated by the fact that at the end of 1924, apart from the Swiss Government credit not yet realized, a balance of, approximately, 210 million gold crowns out of the proceeds of the League of Nations loan was still available, whereas, according to the Reconstruction Plan, the amounts arising from the loan service should have been exhausted by the end of the second year of reconstruction.

Although, in view of the fact that the favorable development of the Budget situation is due not to a reduction in expenditure but to an increase in revenue, it might be queried whether it is possible always to count on such high revenues, whether the relation between revenue and expenditure, as achieved in 1924, can be reasonably expected to be a "permanent" feature; on the other hand, there is no reason, in view of the experiences gained hitherto, to take a skeptical view. At any rate the only conclusion that can be drawn from the present situation is that the achievement of a complete equilibrium in the State finances, as laid down in the League of Nations program, will take more time than originally anticipated, but there is no reason to expect that the funds provided by the League of Nations loan for this purpose will not suffice.

CURRENT YEAR'S BUDGET.

The Budget for 1925, which is at present being considered by the National Assembly, is drawn up with great care, in full consideration of the effects of the taxation reforms and the altered economic situation on the State Revenues, and shows, including capital expenditure amounting to 98 million gold crowns, a deficit of approximately 58.5 million schillings or about 40.5 million gold crowns. If this amount is deducted from the now available Reserve of about 230 million gold crowns (including the Swiss Government credit) there still remains a balance of nearly 190 million gold crowns for future use.

The fact that today—more than two years after the Geneva reconstruction plan has been put into force—such a substantial balance of the loan is still available may well be taken as an unexpectedly favorable factor in our Budget position, but this fact calls for special appreciation from the point of view of the Exchange policy also.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS LOAN.

The League of Nations loan was not only meant to cover the expected budgetary deficits of the State Administration during the reconstruction period, but it had been reckoned from the commencement that the proceeds from the loan transactions would have to be applied to level out a deficit in the balance of payments during that period. A deficit in the balance of payments was foreseen, as it was obvious from the beginning that the balance of payments of the new Austria was strongly passive and could only gradually improve in proportion to the improvement in agricultural production and the improvement in trade after the necessary reorganization of the industrial production had been achieved; on the other hand, it was quite uncertain to what extent the inevitable deficit in the trade balance might be leveled out by other elements in the balance of payment, especially by the influx of foreign capital. As a matter of fact, the necessity of applying the proceeds of the League of Nations Loan for these purposes did not arise in 1924. The considerable balances of the loan proceeds in hand at the end of the year are still available in the original currency; not only have they not been spent, but also they have not been used for the purposes of the international balance of payment and have not been converted into crowns.

INCREASE IN BANK'S CASH RESERVES.

The National Bank of Austria, while steadily maintaining the standard rate of exchange of its notes in 1924, was in a position to satisfy the currency demands of the public and the increased currency requirements of the Government on the whole out of foreign currencies accruing from private business. During the past year the Bank was even in a position, as is shown by the balance-sheet figures, to increase its cash reserves considerably. This success is all the more gratifying that, apart from the unfavorable development of the trade balance, important elements in the balance of payments have also been unfavourably influenced by this year's economic development. In this connection we would only indicate the considerable foreign payments that had to be made, due, partly, to the reflux of stocks from abroad at higher rates than those at which they had been purchased by foreign buyers; further, to the settlement of the unfortunate franc speculation, and, periodically, to the repayment of considerable portions of short-term foreign loans. The fact that despite all these trials not only has the stability of our currency been maintained, but also our cash reserves have been increased, proves that our economic force is not spent, and that, despite the War, the political catastrophe, the heavy burdens of the Peace Treaty, and many setbacks in the course of our reconstruction work, there is still a sound organism.

THE MONETARY SYSTEM.

It is due to the successful maintenance of a stable Exchange for more than two years, accompanied by a simultaneous strengthening of the cash position of the Note Issue Bank, that the Government were in a position, according to their undertaking, assumed at the request of the Finance Committee of the League of Nations in September, 1924, to submit to the National Assembly a Bill for "the introduction of a schilling currency, the coinage of gold coins, and other regulations relating to the monetary system," which was passed before the end of 1924. Thus, a new relation of our currency to gold, corresponding to the stabilized Exchange, has been fixed, and our currency has received a firm legal basis.

Many voices were raised in this country condemning the steps of the Government as premature. It was pointed out that very few of the countries that participated in the War had taken such far-reaching measures to stabilize their currency; that not even the League of Nations regarded the proper establishment of our State finances as completed; that the reconstruction process was not sufficiently advanced; and that the present moment was not suitable to undertake such an important step, as trade and industry were suffering from stagnation, and the Bourse had not yet been able to recover from the sharp setback in the spring of 1924, but was remaining in a state of lethargy, showing a minimum turnover; that, although the effects of the "confidence" crisis, which had affected the Austrian banks last summer were wearing off, they were not yet entirely overcome, and that the liquidation of the insolvent credit institutions was making very little progress; finally, that the confidence of foreign capital was very slow in returning, especially since many foreign Press organs continued, even after the crisis had subsided, to discuss Austrian affairs in a biased and unfavorable manner.

CURRENCY REFORM.

In trying to analyze these arguments we cannot deny that there would have been nothing extraordinary in the fact that we delayed the currency reform in Austria until other countries with sounder economic conditions with whom we keep up active trade relations had started to reform their monetary systems. Possibly this might have offered some advantages. On the other hand, there was no reason to suppose that the fact that we started independently could be of disadvantage.

The Austrian currency reform was built up on the experiences gained during a stabilization period of over two years, whereas most countries whose currencies still remain to be reorganized cannot look back on a similar trial period, and are partly even now experiencing fluctuating Exchanges. That the position of the State finances could not give rise to any doubts regarding the carrying out of the currency reform is made clear by our introductory remarks. The same applies to the economic stagnation, which can only be improved by the currency reform. It had never been expected—especially not during the negotiations in Geneva in 1922—that the economic rehabilitation could be effected in the same short period as was considered adequate for the restoration of equilibrium in the State Budget. It had been considered impossible from the commencement that a decisive improvement of the Austrian trade balance, which depended on the improvement in agricultural production, the increase and reorganization of the industrial production and the gaining of new markets could be achieved within two years.

BOURSE POSITION.

As regards the position of the Bourse, it cannot be denied that a strong Stock Exchange, which could carry out to a full extent all its functions as center of currency and Stock dealings, would also form a valuable support of the currency policy. Such support by a strong and healthy stock market cannot be relied on for the time being. Yet the market has overcome the inevitable crisis following on the "hausse" period of 1923 and, freed from the influence of unhealthy speculation, is slowly progressing towards consolidation. Little as we are prepared to admit that a consideration of the position of the Bourse can have any real bearing on the currency problem under discussion, we are even less prepared to do so in regard to the Bank crisis, all the more so since the big institutions, the real bearers of all the most important economic and financial interests of Austria, have remained unaffected by the crisis. The falling away of numerous unimportant banking institutions that sprang up during the inflation period could not spell a real obstacle to the commencement of the currency reform—up to a point it even formed a necessary condition for it.

Of all the objections discussed so far, the most important one seems to us to be the question whether our currency reform can be sufficiently sure of support and confidence at home and abroad. At home, a certain timidity and lack of courage after all the trials we have endured during the last 10 years is comprehensible and forgivable. This frame of mind should not, however, be indulged in to such an extent as to overlook actual successes and experiences that permit optimistic view. In the first place, the history of Note Issue Banks teaches that a note issue institution, commanding a considerable gold cover for its notes, that is determined to use its ruling position in the sphere of credit policy and its influences in the Money market is able to safeguard the currency interests committed to its care, and to so influence the economic structure, even under unfavorable circumstances, that the desired success is achieved. The task of the Note Issue Bank will, of course, be made considerably easier if the prominent factors in the world of finance and the Press give it the necessary support.

NEED FOR LONG PERIOD CREDIT GRANTS.

The chief evil from which Austria suffers, after the considerable losses of national wealth it has sustained, is the lack of capital, from which our agricultural and economic production suffers in an equal degree, and for which the Note Issue Bank cannot find an immediate remedy. Inflation cannot create economic means; Note Bank credits cannot replace capital; capital can grow only from savings, which in an impoverished country such as ours—although saving may show a gratifying revival—can be accumulated only very gradually. We shall therefore have to depend, now as before, on the influx of foreign capital. It is gratifying to note that now the crisis has subsided interest in Austria seems to revive abroad. Considerable credits have reached Austrian trade from abroad, largely, it is true, in the form of short-term loans, whereas the most important requirements of production can be met only by long-period credit grants. But last year already remarkable beginnings for the establishment of lasting credit relations were made. To build up on these foundations will be one of the chief problems to be solved by a far-seeing trade and finance policy in Austria during 1925.

| SHEEP—Western range lambs yesterday | 15.00@15.75 |
| One month ago | 14.50@16.00 |
| One year ago | 13.50@14.65 |

Soaring cattle prices established new high marks for the year in both light and heavy classes yesterday, when 929 lb yearlings sold at $14.00 and 1,426@1,486 lb steers at $14.10. On Tuesday two weeks ago the first $13.00 heavy cattle since 1920 made an appearance, 1,558 lb averages bringing that figure. Yesterday's top shows a jump of $1.10 in two weeks and stands $2.45 above the extreme top in May, which was $11.65. Prices were generally 25c above Monday's selling on better grades and steady on others. Best butcher stock held firm and "grassy" kinds weak. Calves advanced slightly, due partly to quality. Stockers and feeders sold steady to strong. Eight loads of Montana grass cattle arrived yesterday and sold at $3.50@6.00 for cows and $9.00@9.25 for steers.

Supply Light; Hogs Advance.

With a moderately light supply of hogs offered, Monday's discounts were replaced early in yesterday's session. Prices advanced unevenly 5 to 15c, carrying the top to $14.30, highest since the previous Tuesday, when top was at $14.50. On Monday of last week top light reached $14.75. Optimstic views of the long market were more pronounced late in the day despite the indifferent attitude of large local operators, who balked at the rise in values. About 9,000 remained in the pens at the close, with only 16,000 estimated for today, which led traders to expect further strength in the market. Medium and weighty butchers advanced sharpest yesterday, hogs averaging from 170 to 240 lbs., bringing the top at $14.30 and 277 lb. averages, $14.25. Average cost moved up 5s at $13.55.

Sheep Market Strong.

Strength prevailed in the market for aged sheep at Monday's advance, choice handy weight fed western fat ewes bringing $9.00, 125 lbs.; wethers, $10.75, and 111 lb. two year old range wethers, $11.00. Urgent country demand for feeding and breeding stock stimulated the sheep trade. Native yearling breeding ewes sold at $11.00 and two year olds at high as $10.00. Killing lambs moved slowly at steady prices, but were sorted lighter. Best 81 lb. Idaho range lambs topped at $15.75, with bulk around $15.50. Native top rested at $15.25. Feeding lambs were in good demand at previous day's upturn, best bringing $14.50.

Receipts at Chicago for today are estimated at 10,000 cattle, 16,000 hogs, and 14,000 sheep, against 13,681 cattle, 21,961 hogs, and 11,474 sheep, the corresponding Wednesday a year ago.

DRY GOODS AND GARMENT NEWS

[Copyright: 1925: Fairchild News Service.]

NEW YORK.—There was a better demand for gray goods today and prices were generally a little stronger. It was necessary to pay 9⅝c for spot 64x60, 5.35 yards per pound; the 68x72, 4.75 yards to the pound, were 10⅛c, and the 72x76, 4.25 yards to the pound, 11⅝c. The 80 squares, 4.00 yards to the pound, ranged from 12¼ to 12⅝c.

RUBBER MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 14.—(AP)—Future prices for crude rubber broke sharply today. Smoke ribbed for October-December delivery, which was quoted at 96½c at the close last night, dropped to 89c. Spot ribbed also declined about 3c to $1.07. Buyers were extremely scarce.

STEEL MARKET.

NEW YORK, July 14.—Steel prices f. o. b. Pittsburgh, per 100 pounds: Blue annealed sheets, $2.25@2.30; galvanized sheets, $4.15@4.20; black sheets, $3.15@3.25; steel bars, $2.00.

COTTON MARKETS

Cotton trading was more active and the market stronger, with an advance on shorts covering and investment buying and a close at the best figures of the day. There were net gains of 35@60 points in Chicago and 23@49 points in other markets. Liverpool was higher, as London shorts covered in that market. Texas had little or no rain, while there were showers in Oklahoma and Arkansas.

The monthly consumptive report was bullish, with 493,765 bales consumed in the United States in June, compared with 350,071 bales last year, although it showed a loss as compared with May.

There were two private crop reports issued giving condition July 10 showing 71.7, with an estimated crop of 14,000,000 bales. It is said that the Italian mills are booked up to the end of the year and will take 650,000 bales, against 547,000 bales last year. Prices in leading markets follow:

WORLD'S·GRAIN MARKET·NEWS

The reaction in grain prices, particularly wheat, after the advance of nearly a week, was natural, but it left the trade mixed with a large percentage of the operators bullish. Those who were bearish apparently lost sight of the fact that the damage has been as extensive over a large section of the northwest, and has not been fully realized by the trade in general.

Wheat men who have been disposed to ignore the claims of black rust damage are paying more attention to claims of crop injury from the intense heat which has covered a larger territory than has been reported by the crop experts. In some sections the wheat crop is well along toward maturity and is past damage from rust. It might be injured somewhat in qualify by the intense heat. Harvesting of wheat has commenced in Sioux Falls, S. D., and, with wheat prematurely ripened, is expected to advance northward at a good rate.

Corn traders are not feeling so sure on the bear side as they were a few days ago, because of the continued high temperatures. Where the latter has been accompanied by rains, the crop is said to have made wonderful growth.

Total of United States carryover of wheat is officially given at 80,000,000 bu, against 104,000,000 bu in 1924. Canada's carryover estimated at 40,000,000 bu, against 45,000,000 bu last year; Argentina, 47,000,000 bu, against 55,000,000 bu; Austria, 18,000,000 bu, against 28,000,000 bu; British India, 1,000,000 bu, against 20,000,000 bu, and afloat, 40,000,000 bu, against 53,000,000 last year. This totals 230,000,000 bu, including United States, against 305,000,000 bu a year ago, 269,000,000 bu two years ago, and 236,000,000 bu three years ago.

PESTER UNGARISCHE COMMERCIAL-BANK, BUDAPEST, Trustee

Dr. Johann Bud, Minister of Finance, and Dr. Ivan Rakovszky, Minister of Interior, of the Kingdom of Hungary, have furnished us with the following statement:

SECURITY: The total authorized issue of these Bonds is limited to $10,000,000. The Bonds are issued with the approval and under the control of the Royal Hungarian Government and will be the direct obligations of ten cities and of thirty-eight towns of Hungary, each being liable as provided by Law XXII of 1925, authorizing this issue, in proportion to its share in the proceeds of the Loan. These municipalities include all of the cities (except Budapest) and have about 1,550,000 inhabitants.

The Bonds will be specifically secured by a first charge on revenues, assigned to or collected by these municipalities, which for 1925 are estimated, in the aggregate, at $5,350,000, as follows:

|---|---|
| (a) The income tax on profits and the amount of the turn-over tax on sales assigned annually to these municipalities, which taxes are collected by the Royal Hungarian Government | $2,250,000 |
| (b) Consumption and octroi taxes, collected directly by the municipalities | 1,100,000 |
| (c) Net receipts of their public utilities and other properties | 2,000,000 |
| Total | $ 5,350,000 |

or about five and one-half times the annual requirements for interest and sinking fund on the Loan.

The Royal Hungarian Government will place monthly the revenues specificed in section (a) above or others applicable to the service of the Loan under the loan contract, in a Special Account in the National Bank of Hungary, which account is to be controlled by a Trustee for the Bondholders to be appointed by the Bankers. The Trustee will retain from these funds the sums required for semi-annual interest and sinking fund on the Loan and remit monthly the amounts so retained to Speyer & Co., Fiscal Agents.

The Bonds will be further secured by a first direct charge on all the assets of these municipalities which covenant that, so long as any of the Bonds are outstanding, they will not mortgage their real property, nor without the consent of the Trustee sell any part thereof. The aggregate value of their lands, buildings, public utility and other properties is estimated at more than $100,000,000, whereof about $76,000,000 is the estimated value of income-producing properties, to which substantial additions will be made from the proceeds of the Loan.

The assessed value of property subject to taxation in these municipalities is about $257,000,000.

The Bonds are legal investments for the Royal Hungarian Postal Savings Bank, for widows' and orphans' funds (controlled by the Government) and are acceptable for Government surety bonds in Hungary.

PURPOSE: The proceeds of the Loan will be expended under the control of the Royal Hungarian Government for capital purposes, over three-fourths for income-producing properties, and the remainder for schools, roads and other municipal improvements. The Royal Hungarian Government exercises a large measure of supervision and control over the administration and finances of the municipalities.

DEBT: The Bonds are the only external debt of these municipalities and will be outstanding at the rate of approximately $6.50 per capita. The internal debt, at the close of 1924, was equal to about $2,650,000, or only about $1.70 per capita.

GENERAL: These municipalities include the cities of Szeged and Debreczen, with a population of over 100,000 each, and six other municipalities with a population of more than 50,000 each. With only few exceptions, they report that their revenues for the year 1925 will exceed their expenditures.

Hungary is primarily an agricultural country, with important exports of grain, flour, sugar, live stock, poultry and meat. The production of coal is nearly sufficient for the country's requirements. The area is about three times as large as that of Holland or Belgium and the population, over 8,000,000, exceeds that of either of these countries.

In accordance with the Plan of the League of Nations an International Loan for reconstruction purposes was issued in 1924 in the United States, England and other countries, yielding about $50,650,000, the American part of the Loan amounting to $9,000,000 Bonds. About three-fourths of the proceeds of the Loan are still available. Hon. Jeremiah Smith, Jr., of Boston, was appointed Commissioner-General of the League for Hungary and is now supervising the execution of the Plan. Notable progress has been made in reconstruction, the receipts from taxes greatly exceeding the estimates of the Financial Committee of the League made in connection with the Loan; for the first ten months of the fiscal year ending June 30, 1925, revenues have exceeded expenditures and it is expected that for the entire fiscal year the budget will balance. The establishment of the National Bank of Hungary, as a bank of issue independent of State control, has resulted in stabilizing the currency. The reserves of the Bank in gold and foreign exchange are equal to more than 55% of the notes in circulation.

About a year ago Hungary funded its relief obligations to the United States, which were contracted immediately after the world war.

All conversions from Gold Crowns to United States currency have been made at the rate of five Gold Crowns to the Dollar.

H-O-STONE BLDG-CLARK & MADISON STS-CHICAGO

TO THE HOLDERS OF THE CELOTEX COMPANY 7% FIRST MORTGAGE GOLD BONDS, SERIES A, DUE SEPTEMBER 1ST, 1938

Notice is hereby given to the holder or holders of all outstanding bonds of The Celotex Company issued under and secured by the First Mortgage and Deed of Trust between said company and the Marine Bank & Trust Company of New Orleans, dated September 1st, 1923, that pursuant to the provisions of said bonds and to the provisions of Article IV. of said First Mortgage and Deed of Trust and in accordance with the resolution of the Board of Directors of said Company duly adopted at a meeting of said board held on the 19th day of May, 1925, The Celotex Company will redeem and hereby calls for redemption on September 1st, 1925, the next interest payment date, all of said bonds which shall then be outstanding and will pay therefor the principal with all interest accrued and unpaid thereon to September 1st, 1925, plus a premium of five per cent of the principal amount of each bond so redeemed upon presentation and surrender of the same, with all interest coupons then and thereafter maturing attached thereto, at the office of the Marine Bank & Trust Company in the City of New Orleans, Louisiana. Registered bonds should be properly assigned in blank over the signature of the registered holder or holders thereof as required for the transfer of any such bond.

By the giving of this notice all of said bonds shall become due and payable on September 1st, 1925, and all bonds not presented and surrendered for redemption on or before September 1st, 1925, shall cease to bear interest and to be entitled to the lien of said First Mortgage and Deed of Trust from and after September 1st, 1925, and all coupons for interest maturing subsequent to that date shall be void.

THE CELOTEX COMPANY,
By B. G. Dahlberg, President.

SECURITY

The collateral trust notes of the Company are protected as follows:

1. They are the direct obligation of the Federal Finance & Credit Company of Baltimore with cash capital in excess of $1,000,000.
2. By deposit with and assignment to The Baltimore Trust Company, Trustee, of self liquidating receivables at the rate of $125.00 of open commercial accounts and—of $100.00 of acceptances, drafts, notes, installments or motor lien obligations or cash for each $100.00 of the total of these notes outstanding.
3. By the endorsements, guarantees or repurchase agreements of numerous firms covering the receivables purchased from them representing open accounts of widely diversified industries.
4. By substantial down-payment margins on motor lien obligations.
5. By the fact that the collateral securing this issue has an average life shorter than the average maturity of these notes.

PURPOSE

The business of the Company has shown steady, consistent and profitable growth since its inception in 1920. The purpose of this issue is to partly reimburse the Company for purchases of receivables during the months of May and June, 1925, which exceeded $2,000,000 and which, together with other receivables, have been deposited with and assigned to the trustee to secure the outstanding notes of the Company. These receivables, considerably exceeding the total outstanding notes of the Company, mature on or before the maturity of these notes, the average life of the collateral being less than six months.

Subscriptions will be accepted in the order of their receipt. Notes may be bought on a 10 day option to permit purchasers to thoroughly investigate the standing of the Company and will be repurchased by the end of the option period at the above discount basis should the investigation prove unsatisfactory.

First Mortgage Real Estate Gold Bonds
Yielding 6% Interest

Due Serially 1927-35 $100, $500, $1,000 Denominations

SECURITY: These bonds are secured by closed first mortgage on land and building which upon completion will have a conservative value, according to independent appraisers, of $530,000 or more than 175 per cent of the amount of this total issue.

LOCATION: Located in the heart of the New North Central Business District—one-half block west of Lake Shore Drive, overlooking Lake Michigan, and three blocks east of Michigan Avenue—where the demands for modern office buildings are continuously increasing and with excellent transportation facilities, this site assures permanent value and steady occupancy.

BUILDING: The building will be a thoroughly modern high grade eight and one-half story office building. It will be the permanent home offices and headquarters of the C. A. Dunham Company, manufacturers of heating apparatus, who will occupy the entire three upper floors. The balance of the building will be leased for long terms.

The building has a ground area of 60 feet x 82 feet on a lot 100 feet x 109 feet—assuring excellent lighting on all sides besides providing lawn area and driveway.

Title guarantee policy has been issued by Chicago Title and Trust Company. Fire insurance total amount of bond issue carried for protection of bondholders. Serial maturities will retire over 68% of bonds before final maturity.

CHICAGO STOCK TRANSACTIONS

Tuesday, July 14, 1925.

Day's sales, shares......25,000 Year ago ..............40,000 Total, 1925 ...........7,498,427 Previous year .........5,018,047

Chicago stocks showed increased activity yesterday, but prices turned irregular. Kraft Cheese led in activity and was run up 4 points. Balaban-Katz made a fractional gain. On the other hand, United Light and Power A and U. S. Gypsum declined 1½ and 1⅛, respectively, on profit taking, while La Salle Extension and Pick lost small fractions. Morgan Lithograph and Hupp Motors were about steady.

Why Straus Hallmarked Bonds are the Standard

In the field of real estate securities, bonds bearing the Hallmark of S. W. STRAUS & CO. are looked upon as the standard because:

1. Our experience, covering 43 years in time, the nation in scope, and hundreds of millions of dollars in volume of business, is unequalled in the field of lending on city real estate.
2. Our lending organization is unmatched in its wide knowledge and expert technical skill—unapproached in size, training and equipment. It includes real estate experts, loan men, appraisers, architects, engineers, and credit and legal specialists, whose function it is to accept only safe bond issues and to reject the unsafe.
3. We originated, developed and perfected a system of protective safeguards, including insistence on ample earning power, yearly amortization of principal and monthly deposits in advance by the borrowing corporation to cover interest and principal requirements. These safeguards, now so widely imitated, are conscientiously and thoroughly applied to every bond issue we underwrite.
4. This House is acknowledged to be the leading institution in its field, unequalled in financial strength.
5. The nationwide scope of our Organization, the volume of our underwritings, and the time-tested worth of our offerings have created for Straus Bonds a constantly broadening outside market such as is enjoyed by few, if any other, real estate securities.

For these reasons—The Straus Hallmark on a bond stamps it at once as The Premier Real Estate Security. You are invited to call at our offices in the Straus Building and discuss your investment problems with one of our officers; or, if you prefer, write today for

A Noteworthy Achievement

The Jewelers Building, to be erected at Wacker Drive (South Water Street) and Wabash Avenue, gives to Chicago a new and magnificent 40-story shops-and-office building. To reciprocate, Chicago gives to the Jewelers Building an opportunity to satisfy the business home needs of its people in an up-to-date, truly de luxe manner. Each serves the other; both benefit. A noteworthy achievement!

Wealthy Man Endows College in Unique Way

A WELL KNOWN business man recently made public a novel gift by which his college receives $100,000.00 at his death.

Mr. Blank is 51 years old and pays $4,073.00 each year (deductible on income tax return). If he completes the average expectancy (20 years), he will pay a total of $81,460.00 for which the college gets $100,000.00.

This plan is adaptable to all ages and for men or women. Details without obligation or annoyance.

TRADE REPORT SHOWS U. S. FAR IN LEAD STILL

BY O. A. MATHER.

Yesterday produced several items of news that have particular bearing on the current and future trade situation.

First was the foreign trade statement showing a favorable balance for the United States exceeding $1,000,000,000 for the fiscal year ended June 30.

Second was the report of the American railroads showing a record freight movement for the first half of 1925.

Third was a return flow of money to city centers and a decline in interest rates on money for market purposes.

But against these favorable indices was the cotton consumption report for June, showing considerably less cotton consumed by mills than in any month since last November. It again emphasizes the difficulties of the textile industry.

Largest Trade in 5 Years.

Our foreign trade for the fiscal year, both exports and imports, was the largest in five years, and our favorable balance was the largest in three years. Exports were valued at $4,857,654,344, and imports were $3,824,972,847, leaving a favorable balance of $1,042,681,497. The extent to which American capital is being invested abroad is shown by the fact that, despite the big trade balance, we had a net loss in gold of $114,584,562.

Our June commerce exactly balanced, both exports and imports being $326,000,000. This figure would seem to indicate the usual midsummer lull in trade, as exports were smallest since last July and imports were the lowest since last November. Still, exports and imports were $19,000,000 and $52,000,000 larger, respectively, than in June, last year.

Car Loadings Set Record.

Active domestic trade was reflected in the remarkable movement of commodities by the railroads. Car loadings for the first half of the year set a new record at 25,162,808 cars, exceeding the previous record of 1923 by 306,496 cars, or 1.2 per cent, and running 1,219,024 cars, or 5.1 per cent above the first half of last year. Car loadings for the week ended, July 4, were 884,452 cars, an increase of 106,548 over last year, and of 14,370 over the same week in 1923.

All this reflects the unusual velocity of distribution of goods of all kinds. Possibly it also is a consequence of the present general policy of hand to mouth buying. But this policy, in turn, is made possible by the greater efficiency of railroad transportation. In spite of the current movement, the railroads on June 30 had 307,495 surplus freight cars in good repair.

Money Rates Are Easier.

The flow of money to the east and the easing of rates was construed as a sign that funds are not yet being drawn to the interior for crop moving and that there is sufficient credit for market purposes. On the other hand, a greater demand for funds might even indicate quickening in trade and industry in preparation for the autumn season.

Cotton consumed during June totaled 493,765 bales of lint and 60,577 bales of linters. While this is the lowest amount since November, it is above the 350,021 bales of lint and 40,016 bales of linters used in June, last year. Cotton spindles active during June numbered 32,309,896, compared with 29,219,484 a year ago. Exports for June were 217,786 bales, compared with 230,979 a year ago. Stocks of cotton on June 30 totaled 2,065,604 bales.

Bush Terminal.

N. A. H. M.: Bush Terminal company owns, maintains and operates piers and warehouses for manufacturing and storage purposes. With its subsidiaries, it owns approximately 200 acres of land on the Brooklyn side of New York harbor, on which property there has been erected a very large terminal and industrial plant, including 8 steamship piers, 116 warehouses, and a cold storage plant. The principal sources of income are rentals from leases of the piers, warehouses, manufacturing, and office buildings. It also handles merchandise, storage and railroad transportation. It is issuing $2,000,000 of 7 per cent cumulative debenture stock, making a total of $6,899,986 of this stock now outstanding. This is preceded by $2,300,000 of 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock, and is entitled to dividends only after provision for the preferred dividends has been made. There is a funded debt of $9,372,000, and securities of subsidiaries amounting to $17,077,000 are outsanding, which the company guarantees. Net income available for the debenture stock for 1924 was $690,185, or $10.02 per share on the total amount now outstanding, including this issue. For 1923 such income was at the rate of $10.62 per share and for the first quarter of 1925 at the annual rate of $11.30 per share on this stock. According to the assessed valuation of the properties there would be about $200 per share for the debenture stock after providing for all prior liens. This debenture stock rates fairly well.

Dyer County, Tennessee, situated in the extreme western part of the state, directly north of Memphis, is one of the most fertile agricultural counties of Tennessee. It has an area of over 500 square miles, of which more than 80% is under cultivation. Principal products are cotton, corn, wheat, potatoes, hay, lumber, and live stock. The county contains the largest experimental farm in the state and extensive tracts of standing timber. It is traversed by the double-track main line of the Illinois Central Railroad, and by the Birmingham & Northwestern, and Chicago, Mobile & Gulf Railroads. Dyersburg, the county seat is an important cotton market and hardwood lumber centre.

These bonds, issued for the construction of hard surface highways, were authorized at an election and are payable from a direct unlimited ad valorem tax levied against all taxable property in Dyer County.

GOOD Merchandising Begins With GOOD Buying

THE good merchant must first be a good buyer. He must be able to select merchandise of sound value, which will fit his customers' needs and give lasting satisfaction.

The successful investment house must be able to select securities which will measure up to the requirements of its customers. Above all, it must see to it that every security offered represents a sound value, so that its endorsement of any issue will be a factor of prime importance to the clientele it serves.

We are unusually careful in the selection of our securities. They are chosen with a view to the requirements of our clientele, and in every case represent good values. This sound business policy insures the confidence of our customers and their continued patronage.

TRADING POOLS AGAIN ADVANCE STOCK PRICES

STOCK MARKET AVERAGES

New York, July 14.—(AP)—Resumption of pool activity in a number of rubbers, motors, public utilities and specialties imparted a strong tone to today's stock market, net gains of one to five points being scattered throughout the list at the close. Trading was in slightly larger volume, today's sales running over 1,049,000 shares.

United States Rubber common was one of the outstanding features of the session, being run up over five points to 60¼, the highest price in two years, on buying based on reports of improved earnings, and marked appreciation in inventories through the recent sharp advance in crude rubber prices. The preferred touched a new top at 108½. Good buying also was noted in the Fisk, Kelly-Springfield, Goodyear and Goodrich issues.

Many Industries Strong.

There was little inquiry for the so-called pivotal industrials, although they maintained a strong undertone. American Can moved up 1½ points to 196¾; Baldwin showed a small fractional gain at 115¾ and U. S. Steel common closed unchanged at 115½ after having sold at 116.

Spirited bidding for Phoenix Hosiery, which was bid up five points to a new peak price at 41½ on reports of an enormous increase in earnings in the last few months over the corresponding period last year, was one of the outstanding features of the specialty list. Among the two dozen or so other industrial issues to attain new maximum quotations were Sears-Roebuck, Woolworth, General Railway Signal, Underwood Typewriter, Sterling Products, Owens Bottle and Weston Electrical Instrument.

Dodge Brothers A responded to the publication of the semi-annual earnings report by moving up two points to a new record top at 31. It subsequently canceled half its gain on profit taking. The preferred attained a new peak price at 84. Timken Roller Bearing broke through to a new maximum at 45.

North American assumed the leadership of the public utility group by moving up nearly two points to a new high at 55 on buying based on reports of further expansion. Niagara Falls Power moved up 4 points to 75, a new top, on one sale. A brisk inquiry for Montana Power sent that stock up over two points to 86.

The Wheeling and Lake Erie issues again established new high prices for the year, the preferred jumping ten points to 45 and then easing to 43 on profit taking. Net gains of a point or two also were recorded by Chicago and Northwestern, Delaware and Hudson, Denver, Rio Grande and Western preferred; Lackawanna, Erie, first preferred, Missouri Pacific, and a few others.

WALL STREET NOTES

NEW YORK, July 14.—(AP)—Stock prices developed an upward tendency in today's curb market, but speculative activity was confined largely to special issues showing large current earnings, or in which important merger or other developments are pending.

Special strength was shown by Redbank, which closed 2 points higher, at 39, and American Maracaibo, which crossed 11 and sold within a small fraction of the record high. Southeastern Power and Light soared over 13 points to a record high at 130. Power Corporation of New York jumped 5 points to a new peak at 83 and then yielded slightly on realizing. Electric Investors, American Light and Traction and Western Power also showed good gains. Engineers Gold soared 12 points to 100, duplicating the high established a few days ago.

New peak prices in the industrial list were established by Universal Pictures, Inter-Continental Rubber and St. Regis Paper. F. and W. Grand Stores climbed 4 points to within a fraction of the maximum 1925 price, but lost most of its gain on profit taking. Good buying also was noted in Fox Film, Franklin Manufacturing, Lehigh Valley Coal certificates, and Miller Rubber, but Pathe Exchange was heavy, falling back nearly 3 points to 82⅝.

Bankers placed privately a $7,500,000 issue of Rock Island 3 year 4½ per cent notes. Proceeds from the sale will be used in financing the Rock Island's recent purchase of the Cotton Belt railroad, stock of which to the extent of $13,840,000 will be deposited to secure the notes. Offering of the $10,000,000 Hungarian consolidated municipal loan will be made tomorrow. The twenty year 7½ per cent bonds are priced at 89.

We are only interested in the higher type of salesmen who show possibilities of development into branch managers and who can show a successful sales record in small towns, as we cover every general hardware and furniture store, regardless of the size town.
While floor covering experience is an advantage, it is not essential, as we give every man a thorough training before he is sent out on the road, for which he is paid a nominal salary.
Remuneration is on a liberal commission basis, offering earning possibilities of from five to ten thousand dollars per year, which will be demonstrated by a district sales manager right on the field.
We will only consider men who own automobiles, preferably of the small coupe type, and who are willing to work five and one-half days every week.
The district manager of this company will be in Chicago for a day or so to interview applicants, and an appointment can be arranged. Address H C 425, Tribune.

CADILLAC
Good Used Cars That You Can Rely Upon

Cadillac offers prospective used car purchasers an exceptionally economical time payment plan. This system of buying from income rather than from capital applies to the miscellaneous makes on sale at the Used Car Annex as well as to the used Cadillacs.

You are invited to inspect our used car stock and if you are interested in a Cadillac to visit our service shops. There you can see just what complete facilities Cadillac has provided for the maintenance of its automobiles. The call incurs no obligation whatever.

CADILLAC V-63 PHAETON.

CADILLAC 59 SUBURBAN.

KISSEL 6 SEDAN.
Even before this car was refinished it was a good investment. A late model with smart lines and fully equipped, it offered exceptional value. Now, just out of our paint shop with a new coat of blue Duco, it is as attractive a 5 passenger closed car as any one can want. Mechanically it is O. K. 2 spare tires and covers, snubbers, bumpers, heaters, through the windshield spotlight. $1,850.

CADILLAC 59 TOURING.
Fitted with glass winter sides; has tonneau heater, running board lamps and stoplight. $750.

CADILLAC 59 VICTORIA.
A good looking and reliable 4 passenger enclosed car, particularly well adapted for the professional man or salesman. The paint is like new; seat covers in good condition; has colored sun visor, automatic squeegee, snubbers, front and rear bumpers, spare tire, step plates and stoplight. $1,100.

CADILLAC 59 TOURING.
A very roomy and comfortable car, exceptionally easy driving; has been refinished completely with battleship gray Duco and enameled fenders and radiator in our own paint shop. Carries 5 new cord tires and front bumper. $750.

JORDANS
$400 TO $1,750
Today's Specials:

JORDAN SPORT MARINE 4 PASS. Lowest price this model Jordan ever quoted. Practically new tires, snubbers, bumper, motometer. Mechanically it is very good. Glass enclosures go with it. $400.

JORDAN TOURING, VERY LATE 1923. A brand new appearing, perfectly balanced 5 passenger that will make some family a real buy. Refinished Crane-Simplex Gray, black fenders, top, upholstery A1, 5 good tires, snubbers, motometer, spotlight, etc. Offers big power and easy riding, with low upkeep. Guaranteed. $1,000.

JORDAN 4 DOOR SPORT BROUGHAM 1924 SERIES. No more comfortable closed car for touring than this Jordan sport brougham made. This one particularly attractive because of its new Crane-Simplex Gray finish and complete appointments. Interior like new. Has trunk, motometer, squeegee, mirror, snubbers, windshield spotlight and 5 almost new cord tires. We have rebuilt the motor and chassis and back it with our new car guarantee. This elegant closed car can be purchased at $1,750.

Rolls Royce OFFERS

CADILLAC, 61, TOURING, just received from a prominent Chicagoan. This car has been given the very best of care and attention, with the result that it is in excellent condition; mechanically it will measure up to the most exacting standards. Paint is only fair, but it is equipped with practically brand new cord tires, slip covers, tonneau windshield, and other high class accessories. This used Cadillac will sell quickly at our low price of $950.

PACKARD STRAIGHT 8 TOURING, which can't be told from new. The original finish without mar or blemish, is of the beautiful Packard Dustproof Gray. Its equipment, very detail and appointment, are perfect and should appeal to the buyer wanting new car service, appearance and comfort, at a nominal price; new tires are included. Very special at $2,500.
